Gallows Death Fast for Cool, Defiant Eichmann

FLAGS FOR FIRE POLICE—The Ulster County Fire Police Association now has flags to display at its meetings held in various sectors of the county, the Stars and Stripes of America and the official banner of the New York State Police. They are gifts from Col. George F. Chandler (left) founder and first superintendent of the NYSP. Holding the police flag is Dr. Milton Grover, president of Kingston Rotary Club. The portable standard with golden eagles atop and flags were presented to Charles D. McDonough, chief of Esopus Fire Department, who represented the Fire Police Association at a combined luncheon Thursday of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs at Governor Clinton Hotel. He had to leave before photo was taken. Rotarian Frederic Snyder, traveler and lelcturer, instituted the idea, which Col. Chandler deemed very appropriate because the Fire Police are trained in handling traffic by state troopers. (Freeman photo)

BlackHood Is Spurned Before End

No Time for Bible, ExterminatorSays

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Defiant to the end, Adolf Eichmann walked firmly to the gallows Thursday night and paid with his life for his role in Nazi Germany's systematic extermination of 6 million European Jews.

The young state of Israel hanged the former Gestapo colonel at two minutes before midnight on an improvised scaffold in a third-story storeroom of Ramleh Prison near Tel Aviv.

Israel's First Execution

It was the first execution in the 14-year history of this Jewish nation which counts among its citizens thousands of relatives of Jews whom Eichmann, 56, helped speed to death in Hitler's gas chambers.

Eichmann's body was cremated quickly and the ashes scattered upon the waters of the Mediterranean.

Eichmann was cool and unrepentant as this Jewish nation carried to conclusion its announced determination to record the history of the Nazi pogrom and mete out justice in the name of all Jews.

A faint smile on his face, Eichmann spurned the traditional black hood and even chided his jailers for making it difficult for him to stand on the gallows' trap door.

"My belief was correct," the former head of the Gestapo Jewish affairs section declared. "I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

Death Instantaneous

At a command from an Israeli guard, Eichmann stepped to the trap door and lunged to his death almost in a single motion.

Death was instantaneous, prison officials said.

Eichmann was condemned to death last December by a special three-judge tribunal which found him guilty of acts of "unparalleled enormity" against the Jewish people and against humanity—the only crime subject to capital punishment in Israel.

The balding, bespectacled Hitler disciple had insisted he was only a minor cog carrying out orders from above in the Nazi campaign for "the final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

But the court declared he actually relished shipping Jews to their deaths by the hundreds of thousands, saying he was motivated by "an ardent desire to blot out an entire people from the face of the earth."

Unexpected Speed

The Israeli Supreme Court rejected Eichmann's appeal against the death sentence Tuesday, declaring even death was an inadequate penalty.

And with unexpected speed, President Izhak Ben-Zvi sealed Eichmann's doom about noon Thursday, rejecting appeals for executive clemency from Eichmann, members of his family and others.

Eichmann was transferred quickly from his cell in Jerusalem, where he had been lodged

Traffic Deaths Are 659 During 1st Four Months

The State Motor Vehicle Department said yesterday it could not explain the sharp rise but noted that the 1962 total moved far ahead of last year's figures during the winter months.

Traffic accidents claimed 167 lives last month compared with 166 in April of 1961.

NewBingoControl CommissionTakes OverDutiesToday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State's tougher attitude toward bingo operations was given teeth today when a new, five-member commission took office to administer new restrictions on games.

The agency, the Bingo Control Commission, was established and the new regulations were enacted by the 1962 Legislature after investigations disclosed widespread abuses of existing laws governing legalized bingo and operators of games.

To Study Report

Ira M. Ball, a Utica attorney whom Gov. Rockefeller appointed to the chairmanship of the new commission, said his first step would be to study the report of the Moreland Commission.

The Moreland group conducted a probe of bingo throughout the state and recommended among other things, replacement of the nine - member Lottery Control Commission with the smaller Bingo Control Commission.

"I don't think I can say very much more until we meet with the full committee," he said last night.

Ball said he probably would recommend publication of a brochure that would explain the new law to those who have held bingo licenses and "advise them as to the policy" of the new commission.

Can't Have Record

Among the new rules effective today is one that bars persons with criminal records from renting halls or selling supplies for bingo games.

Thomas B. Gilchrist Jr., who headed the Moreland investigation, said state bingo regulations were being flaunted within months after the Lottery Control Commission was established in 1958.

"Commercialization was rampant, criminals were in at every level and the receipts swelled the pockets of gambling promoters at the expense of churches and charities," he said.

Others Named

Besides Ball, others named to the new commission Thursday were Mrs. John R. Tinklepaugh, a Columbia County Republican leader, and Mrs. Raymond Moley of Manhattan, also a Republican, both of whom were members of the replaced Lottery Control Commission. Ball also is a Republican.

William R. McCabe of Haverstraw, a Democrat, also was appointed.

Dip Not Furious As Before

Signs Are Sought For Future Trend

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed signs of easing off in opening trading today from the spurt that by Thursday had restored deep early-week losses.

The market was irregularly lower in still active trading. The ticker tape lagged again, but not at the furious pace of previous days.

Key stocks moved irregularly with a few gaining or losing $2 or so.

Analysts Watch

Analysts watched the market's action closely today for signs of direction after the immediate effects of the rebound wear off.

In today's opening, American Telephone jumped $2.12 to $111.12 on a block of 10,000 shares. Chrysler gained 12 cents to $44.37 and Eastman Kodak was up $1.75 to $98.25.

There were indications that some investors were selling at new higher prices to take profits from the recent rise, a practice that yesterday seemed to leak off steam from a rousing rally.

Facing Probe

The securities industry, rocked by severe falls and rises, faces a possible investigation by Congress.

The market propelled its startling rally through a second consecutive session Thursday and more than made up the retreat of Monday and Tuesday morning. However, stock prices, declining since mid-March, remained far below their 1962 highs.

March Threatened

The exchange ordered brokers to have representatives on the floor Saturday to clear the great mass of paper work.

Profit-taking cut into early gains and raised a threat to continuation of the forward march.

Rusk Slates Talks With Allied Chiefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk is planning a trip to Europe late this month to confer with allied leaders about clearing up some of the policy splits in the Atlantic Alliance.

He is expected definitely to meet with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He may see French President Charles de Gaulle and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Arrangements Underway

Rusk confirmed to a news conference Thursday that arrangements for a trip are being worked out. From other sources it was learned that he wants to talk to Adenauer about U.S.-Soviet discussions on a Berlin settlement and about future moves for greater Western European political unity, which the United States strongly supports.

Whether Rusk sees De Gaulle probably will be determined by progress in his conferences here with French Ambassador Herve Alphand. Rusk and Alphand met for two hours Monday and for 90 minutes Thursday on Paris-Washington policy differences. They apparently have no hope at present of ending major differences over De Gaulle's determination to give France an independent nuclear weapons force and his desire to promote a European grouping of national states with looser U.S. ties.

Rusk reasserted at his news conference that the United States is completely opposed to the De Gaulle plan for a French nuclear force. In response to a specific question he said the United States would not favor Britain's supplying nuclear weapons to France.

Rusk also challenged critics of administration foreign policy to come up with proposals for alternative lines of policy development if they really believe that the administration is following a no win course.

Will Take Five Years Now for Grade Teachers

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Elementary-school teachers will be required to complete five years of college, rather than the present four, under a plan announced by the State Education Department to improve the calibre of instruction.

The change, announced Thursday, will be effective Sept. 1, 1966.

Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. said elementary school teachers under the new regulations, would be prepared to specialize in teaching particular subjects, such as science, as high school teachers now do.

The department previously had announced higher standards for secondary - school teachers. The four-year delay in the effective date of the new requirements for elementary teachers will allow colleges to revise their teacher-training cirriculums.

New Requirements

Among the new requirements:

1. Provisional certificates will be available to persons who earn bachelor's degrees in four years. Those persons must, however, complete another year of college

Orbit Film Good Enough for Study Is Firm's Report

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Prints useful for scientific study have been made by Eastman Kodak Co. from water-damaged movie film taken of Malcolm Scott Carpenter during his three-orbit flight May 24.

Kodak said Thursday that while new prints of the damaged film were not good enough for publication, they were "adequate for engineering evaluations."

The prints were sent to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in Washington.

It had been feared that much of the damaged film might be useless.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today hiked consumer prices of meat and butter to finance the country's lagging agricultural program in the face of food shortages.

Butter—up 25 per cent—will cost $1.83 a pound; pork and beef—up 30 per cent—will retail for 88 cents a pound.

Salaries Lower, Too

The effect of the increases are measured against salaries much lower than those in most foreign countries. A semiskilled Soviet worker gets the equivalent of $88 a month, professional and semi-professional people about $222 a month.

The government announcement said that the increased charges were necessary because there was no other means of raising money to pay the increased expenses on farms.

Blame was placed in part upon the United States. The statement said it was not possible to "switch funds to increasing the output of livestock products at the expense of the country's defensive capacity.

"We do not live in a vacuum. While imperialism exists, the danger of new wars will remain. It is no secret that international reaction, with the United States at the head, now is engaged in sabre rattling, conducts a feverish arms race and harbors plans for a surprise rocket nuclear attack on the U.S.S.R. and the other socialist countries. Its politicians and generals speak openly of this."

The order for the increase in prices was issued by the Communist party central committee and the government. Its effect was law since all stores are government stores and the prices are fixed by decree.

The statement said the cost of producing food, meat and butter had increased sharply because of the expenditures on mechanization on the farms.

The announcement made it plain that people in the cities are going to bear the lion's share of the burden of the increased prices. That will tend to level out the living standards of the city and country groups. Normally city people have lived better in the Soviet Union because of a sharp salary and income advantage accorded them from the time of the revolution.

A 26-year-old Dutchess county man was convicted Thursday afternoon by a County Court trial jury of six counts of grand larceny involving $3,500 which he reportedly took from his 53-year-old wife.

William G. Stockton, who was accused of taking the money from his wife, Mrs. Viola Tyrrell Stockton, of 6 Lyons Drive, Town of Poughkeepsie, is scheduled to appear with counsel before County Judge John R. Schwartz on Tuesday, June 5 for motions. A date for sentencing will be set at that time.

Sass Asks Report on Waste Of Paving at Boulevard Job

Common Council Majority Leader Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, in a letter to Mayor John J. Schwenk today asks for detailed information on Dix Seal, a street-paving product now being used by the city, and cites an "incident" on the Boulevard, which, he contends, is costly to the city.

Sass said he had been told that 16,000 pounds of Dix Seal used on the Boulevard was removed and dumped in Lawton Park. He requests the mayor to have Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, attend the June 5 meeting of the Common Council, and that a written report on use of Dix Seal be prepared for the council session. He asks that Cole be there to report on his knowledge of the product and to answer questions. He asks that the written report come from the city engineer's office.

"You have placed our city in a most embarrassing position," Sass wrote. "The delay in starting the 1962 street repair program will cause much inconvenience during the vacation season."

"As you must fully realize," he said, "any further delay will result in an incomplete street-repair program before winter is upon us." In the remaining days before the council "will be asked to pass on a $120,000 bond for street repairs, which I am led to believe will include the use of Dix Seal, an incident occurred which raises serious doubts as to the advisability of using Dix Seal."

Noting the Boulevard "incident," he said he had been told that after "many hours of labor were used to put the material down, many more hours of labor were used to pick it up, put it back on trucks and ultimately dump it in Lawton Park. It must be obvious to you that this is not an economical process. In one application of this material we have wasted several hundred dollars of tax money."

Sass said that for three months he has requested from the public works and mayor's offices, information on the acceptance and use of "this material for street-repair work. Your letter of May 16, 1962, is most inadequate."

In the interest of the citizens of the city, he wrote, "and in an effort to overcome the delay you have already created, I submit that this issue be considered on the merits only, and not become political. I further submit that you reconsider the list of streets you intend to repair with a view to include the streets suggested by the alderman of the ward involved. I am sure if you will cooperate, as you have so often said you would, we can solve this problem quickly. Give us the facts we need and we can then make an intelligent decision."

Drive Starting To Get Work for June Graduates

Anthony C. Hart, manager of the Kingston office of the New York State Employment Service, announced the launching today of a Kingston drive to find jobs for June graduates and other young people who are out of school and unemployed.

Noting that Governor Rockefeller has proclaimed June 3rd to 9th as Youth Employment Week, Hart said his office will step up its regular efforts to develop jobs for beginners and will seek widespread employer support in the push for jobs.

"We need community cooperation to assure early career starts for this new generation of workers. This is a challenge that reaches into every home; it touches on our way of thinking and our way of doing things. We cannot waste people.

"The State Employment Service is now mapping plans which call for the active participation in this drive of business groups, labor unions, the Parent-Teacher Association, educators, veterans' groups and government agencies. We all have a part to play and I know that the people of this community will do what is needed to be done."

Reviewing the problem which confronts this city, Manager Hart said that many experienced young people qualified to step into responsible jobs have been unable to find them. Others have potential to progress rapidly in trainee and other beginner jobs but have not received offers.

Hart urged employers to list openings with the State Employment office immediately at 16 Pine Grove Avenue or call the office with information.

Fall From Car Fatal

Woman Opens Door in Thruway Skid

A 48-year-old Chicago, Ill. woman was dragged to her death, and her husband and another man escaped injury late Thursday, when the car in which they were riding skidded off the State Thruway near the Kingston Interchange.

Mrs. Mildred Tucker, of 8223 South Paulina Street, Chicago, died of a fractured skull and crushed chest and abdomen, according to Ulster County Coroner Francis J. McCardle, who gave a verdict of accidental death.

Mrs. Tucker's husband, Stephen, 55, a trainer of race horses, was operating the car south on the Thruway when it skidded on wet pavement and went down an embankment. Tucker and a passenger in the car, Charles Scott, 52, a [illegible] f Pasadena, Calif., escaped injury.

The Tuckers and Scott were en route to New York City. They entered the Thruway at the Saugerties interchange and were heading south when the accident occurred. As the car veered out of control and headed for the embankment, Mrs. Tucker evidently panicked and opened the car door. As she did she actually flew from the car and caught on the vehicle.

Coroner McCardle, who investigated at the scene with Troopers J. J. Cullen and G. A. Grunwald of Troop T, said evidence indicated the woman was dragged down the embankment to the point where the vehicle came to a stop. She was pinned under the vehicle. The car did not overturn and was not damaged.

Authorities said Tucker and

Sass Asks Report on Waste Of Paving at Boulevard Job

Common Council Majority Leader Frank C. Sass (D) Seventh Ward, in a letter to Mayor John J. Schwenk today asks for detailed information on Dix Seal, a street-paving product now being used by the city, and cites an "incident" on the Boulevard, which, he contends, is costly to the city.

Sass said he had been told that 16,000 pounds of Dix Seal used on the Boulevard was removed and dumped in Lawton Park. He requests the mayor to have Charles J. Cole, public works superintendent, attend the June 5 meeting of the Common Council, and that a written report on use of Dix Seal be prepared for the council session. He asks that Cole be there to report on his knowledge of the product and to answer questions. He asks that the written report come from the city engineer's office.

"You have placed our city in a most embarrassing position," Sass wrote. "The delay in starting the 1962 street repair program will cause much inconvenience during the vacation season."

"As you must fully realize," he said, "any further delay will result in an incomplete street-repair program before winter is upon us." In the remaining days before the council "will be asked to pass on a $120,000 bond for street repairs, which I am led to believe will include the use of Dix Seal, an incident occurred which raises serious doubts as to the advisability of using Dix Seal."

Noting the Boulevard "incident," he said he had been told that after "many hours of labor were used to put the material down, many more hours of labor were used to pick it up, put it back on trucks and ultimately dump it in Lawton Park. It must be obvious to you that this is not an economical process. In one application of this material we have wasted several hundred dollars of tax money."

Sass said that for three months he has requested from the public works and mayor's offices, information on the acceptance and use of "this material for street-repair work. Your letter of May 16, 1962, is most inadequate."

In the interest of the citizens of the city, he wrote, "and in an effort to overcome the delay you have already created, I submit that this issue be considered on the merits only, and not become political. I further submit that you reconsider the list of streets you intend to repair with a view to include the streets suggested by the alderman of the ward involved. I am sure if you will cooperate, as you have so often said you would, we can solve this problem quickly. Give us the facts we need and we can then make an intelligent decision."

Dip Not Furious As Before

Signs Are Sought For Future Trend

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed signs of easing off in opening trading today from the spurt that by Thursday had restored deep early-week losses.

The market was irregularly lower in still active trading. The ticker tape lagged again, but not at the furious pace of previous days.

Key stocks moved irregularly with a few gaining or losing $2 or so.

Analysts Watch

Analysts watched the market's action closely today for signs of direction after the immediate effects of the rebound wear off.

In today's opening, American Telephone jumped $2.12 to $111.12 on a block of 10,000 shares. Chrysler gained 12 cents to $44.37 and Eastman Kodak was up $1.75 to $98.25.

There were indications that some investors were selling at new higher prices to take profits from the recent rise, a practice that yesterday seemed to leak off steam from a rousing rally.

Facing Probe

The securities industry, rocked by severe falls and rises, faces a possible investigation by Congress.

The market propelled its startling rally through a second consecutive session Thursday and more than made up the retreat of Monday and Tuesday morning. However, stock prices, declining since mid-March, remained far below their 1962 highs.

Buy orders swelled to mammoth proportions—a dramatic turnabout from the selling panic that earlier had gripped the market.

March Threatened

The exchange ordered brokers to have representatives on the floor Saturday to clear the great mass of paper work.

Profit-taking cut into early gains and raised a threat to continuation of the forward march.

The American, Pacific Coast and Midwest stock exchanges also recorded big gains on heavy volume.

Anthony C. Hart, manager of the Kingston office of the New York State Employment Service, announced the launching today of a Kingston drive to find jobs for June graduates and other young people who are out of school and unemployed.

Noting that Governor Rockefeller has proclaimed June 3rd to 9th as Youth Employment Week, Hart said his office will step up its regular efforts to develop jobs for beginners and will seek widespread employer support in the push for jobs.

"We need community cooperation to assure early career starts for this new generation of workers. This is a challenge that reaches into every home; it touches on our way of thinking and our way of doing things. We cannot waste people.

"The State Employment Service is now mapping plans which call for the active participation in this drive of business groups, labor unions, the Parent-Teacher Association, educators, veterans' groups and government agencies. We all have a part to play and I know that the people of this community will do what is needed to be done."

Reviewing the problem which confronts this city, Manager Hart said that many experienced young people qualified to step into responsible jobs have been unable to find them. Others have potential to progress rapidly in trainee and other beginner jobs but have not received offers.

Hart urged employers to list openings with the State Employment office immediately at 16 Pine Grove Avenue or call the office with information.

Fall From Car Fatal

Woman Opens Door in Thruway Skid

A 48-year-old Chicago, Ill. woman was dragged to her death, and her husband and another man escaped injury late Thursday, when the car in which they were riding skidded off the State Thruway near the Kingston Interchange.

Mrs. Mildred Tucker, of 8223 South Paulina Street, Chicago, died of a fractured skull and crushed chest and abdomen, according to Ulster County Coroner Francis J. McCardle, who gave a verdict of accidental death.

Mrs. Tucker's husband, Stephen, 55, a trainer of race horses, was operating the car south on the Thruway when it skidded on wet pavement and went down an embankment. Tucker and a passenger in the car, Charles Scott, 52, a [illegible] of Fasadena, Calif., escaped injury.

The Tuckers and Scott were en route to New York City. They entered the Thruway at the Saugerties interchange and were heading south when the accident occurred. As the car veered out of control and headed for the embankment, Mrs. Tucker evidently panicked and opened the car door. As she did she actually flew from the car and caught on the vehicle.

Coroner McCardle, who investigated at the scene with Troopers J. J. Cullen and G. A. Grunwald of Troop T, said evidence indicated the woman was dragged down the embankment to the point where the vehicle came to a stop. She was pinned under the vehicle. The car did not overturn and was not damaged.

Authorities said Tucker and

OEP Aide Fired As Probe Asked Of Stockpiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Emergency Planning fired one of its consultants today and asked the Justice Department to look into what it called an "apparent conflict of interest violation" brought out in the Senate investigation of stockpiling.

Simultaneously Chairman Stuart Symington, D-Mo., of the investigating group said its study has brought out evidence of two instances of "clear-cut conflicts of interest," and has shown that the taxpayers face a loss of probably much more than $1 billion on the defense stockpile.

Was With ODM

Symington said, too, that an inquiry will be made into whether companies headed by George M. Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration, made exorbitant profits on stockpile nickel.

The man whose contract as a consultant was canceled by the emergency planning office is John D. Morgan Jr., one-time assistant to the deputy director of the materials division of the old Office of Defense Mobilization which had over-all direction of stockpiling in the Eisenhower administration. More recently he has been a consultant, at $50 a day when actually working, to the successor agency.

The stockpiling inquiry centered Thursday on the circumstances in 1957 under which Climax Molybdenum Co., was let out of a contract to deliver about 38 million pounds of its steel alloying metal.

The government first asked for $4.5 million as a cancellation fee, figuring that as the amount of extra money the company would make by selling the molybdenum to other buyers, but finally settled for $1.2 million.

The subcommittee heard testimony that Morgan, who had resigned his ODM job less than a year before, drew $10,000 in pay from Climax as a consultant on its molybdenum contract in 1957, and in the same year drew around $3,000 in consultant fees from the government. There was no testimony linking Morgan to the cancellation.

School Teacher Now

R. C. Coburn, the committee's chief counsel, said Morgan now teaches school in Daytona Beach, Fla., and has advised the investigators it would not be convenient for him to testify until after June 15.

Edward A. McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said in announcing cancellation of Morgan's consultant contract that Morgan had been "afforded an opportunity to appear before the Symington subcommittee and explain his activities but has refused to do so."

McDermott said his action on Morgan's contract, and in referring the matter to the Justice Department, was based not only on hearing testimony but on "information developed by my staff earlier."

Goldwater Pictured As Hopeful in 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new political biography of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., pictures him today as feeling he would have a good chance at winning the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. And it suggests he might take a stab at it if the GOP's prospects look bright.

In any event Goldwater is said to believe the party's conservative wing, for which he is the chief spokesman, will hold the balance of power at the next GOP national convention.

"I am reasonably certain that the Republican presidential nominee in 1964 will have to accommodate the conservatives," Goldwater is quoted as saying in, "Mr. Conservative: Barry Goldwater," published today and written by Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer.

In suggesting he might throw his hat in the ring in 1964 if he thinks he has a fighting chance, the Arizona senator cited the historical precedent that the incumbent president—President Kennedy, in this case—always has the inside track the second time around.

He says he doesn't think Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential candidate, or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would run in 1964 if Kennedy "looks good" at the time.

On his own chances, Goldwater says: "I think my strength would lie in the South, the Middle West, and the Rocky Mountain West. Certainly, I wouldn't have great strength in the big states like Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, and New Jersey. But I would have some in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio."

Train Toll 62, Saw No Warning Lights Two Say

VOGHERA, Italy (AP) — A freight train engineer and his assistant say they saw no warning lights but jumped to safety before their locomotive hit the rear of a passenger train Thursday, killing 62 and injuring 70.

One of the injured died today, increasing the death toll to 63.

The engineer, Lanfranco Pigiani, 27, and Soriano Fabbri, 22, told police their first warning of Italy's fourth major rail disaster in five months came only seconds before impact. They said they set the emergency brake before jumping.

The Italian Transport Ministry said visibility was good and signal lights were working, warning that the Riveria-bound passenger train was stopped in the station, blocking the tracks. Survivors and station employes said they heard no sound of braking before the freight slammed into the express.

2. Prospective elementary - school teachers must earn at least 24 semester-hours of credit in a particular field of study, such as science or languages.

3. The number of required liberal-arts courses will be increased to total 75 semester-hours instead of the present 60. The number of semester - hours of elective subjects will be reduced accordingly.

4. The number of hours students are required to conduct classes under supervision, will be increased from 240 to 300.

Names Important Factors

Allen said the increase in required liberal-arts courses would cut the amount of time students spend in elective courses that often are less demanding.

He said the selection of potential teachers and the type of education they receive are the most important factors in the improvement of teaching.

"The schools of today and tomorrow must have a well-educated teacher in the classroom," he said.

Italy's fire losses last year totaled $30 million, les than 4 per cent of those in the United States.

Paltz Vote Set July 2 for New 16-Room School

New Paltz Central School district voters will be asked July 2 for approval of a 16-room elementary school on a 20-acre site north of the village, which was approved Monday by a 127-vote margin, according to Gerald DuBois, president of the school board.

The estimated cost of the school site at Prospect and Grove Streets, was reported at $7,000.

DuBois said the Board of Education has not yet arrived at an estimate of the cost of the proposed school, and he added it will be "around $600,000."

DuBois said Thursday that residents of the Gardiner area, who objected to the site proposed by the school board, will be asked to make suggestions about an alternate site.

Convicted in Case

A half hour later the jury reported it had reached a verdict and moments later reported to Judge Schwartz they found Stockton guilty of all six counts of the indictment.

Stockton could receive a sentence up to 10 years, it was said.

At a preliminary hearing in Poughkeepsie City Court, Mrs. Stockton testified she met her husband on Feb. 3 and she and Stockton were married on Feb. 10. She testified she gave money to the defendant after he told her he would give her part of his $60,000 business and purchase tickets for a wedding trip.

Paid No Bills

The indictment charged that Stockton didn't pay his wife's bills he promised, and had neither a business income nor reservations for the trip.

The indictment further charged the defendant took $1,000 from his wife on Feb. 7; $1,000 on Feb. 9 and 1,500 on Feb. 13.

Proposal Would Exempt $5,000 Or Less Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration supporters in the Senate are proposing a compromise plan to try to save the bitterly disputed plan to withhold taxes on income from dividends and interest.

The compromise, disclosed today by Senate Finance Committee members, would exempt from withholding persons with incomes of $5,000 or less.

One senator said he understood the proposal might even win the endorsement of the Treasury.

Byrd Holds Out

However, it was learned that it has not won over the committee chairman, Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who has announced his opposition to the withholding plan.

Byrd, it was understood, feels any compromise would be designed to get the principle of withholding through the Senate, with the idea that the original plan might be restored in conference with the House.

The House included President Kennedy's withholding recommendation in the tax revision bill it passed in March.

The Finance Committee has held lengthy hearings on the measure, but has not reached any decisions.

Senators have been deluged with thousands of letters from investors and savers opposing the withholding feature.

Backers of the President came up with the $5,000 exemption proposal after it became obvious that Byrd probably would win in a fight to knock out the feature in the committee.

GOP Going With Byrd

All six Republican members are expected to vote with Byrd. In addition, Sens. Russell B. Long, D-La., and George A. Smathers, D-Fla., have notified constituents that they oppose the provision as written in the house bill.

This would mean nine adverse votes, a majority. One or two other senators are in the uncertain column.

The withholding provision in the House bill, which generally follows the administration recommendation, would impose 20 per cent withholding on dividend and interest payments.

However, persons 18 years and younger, and all other persons who owe no tax could ask exemption.

Senators supporting the plan contend this would mean that all low — income individuals or families would be exempt.

Probers Turn Up Safety Deposit Box of Financier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators in search of names, cash or records have located a safety deposit box of Billie Sol Estes and are trying to learn if there are more.

One box was uncovered in a Texas bank, authorities disclosed Thursday, but they said neither Estes nor his lawyers showed any inclination to let investigators check the contents.

Only a court order could force surrender of the key or give investigators authority to open the box.

Officials are exploring in other directions. They hope to learn if he has other safety deposit boxes and are seeking evidence for a court order to permit an examination of any and all such repositories.

They said the indicted promoter's financial files and records are getting a thorough going over, but that many entries are vague. For instance, checks drawn to "cash" or to himself in amounts up to $40,000 sometimes more, are accompanied by no supporting entries or receipts to show what Estes did with the money, they said. There the trail ends, said one informant.

Campaign contributions by Estes to politicians and political groups "once in a while" were found in the proper file, an informant added, but declined to discuss recipients' names.

The FBI, Internal Revenue and Senate Investigations subcommittee all have agents at work here and in Texas, seeking to unravel the story of Estes' deals and his relationships with persons in government in a position to help him.

Motion to Sell Hudson City Hall Defeated by 8-3

A resolution calling for the sale of the present Hudson City Hall at public auction was defeated Thursday night by one vote at a Common Council meeting. The vote was 8-3. The issue required a three-quarter majority for passage.

Also rejected by the Council were three bids received on the renovation of the new city hall building, the former Hudson River Trust Co.

Action on the bids was taken on recommendation of Munrow Tarbell, superintendent of public works, who said the bids, ranging from $25,000 to $29,000 were at least $5,000 above the anticipated costs.

Kennedy Interest Spurs FBI Probe Of Texas Death

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — President Kennedy's interest in the case is spurring an FBI investigation of the mysterious death of an Agriculture Department official who pried into the affairs of Billie Sol Estes, the Dallas News reported today.

A Texas grand jury also is looking into the shooting of Henry H. Marshall, 52, found dead on his farm near Franklin Tex., a year ago. The body was exhumed and a pathologist said Marshall probably was murdered. At the time of his death, a justice of the peace decided it was suicide.

RFK Gives Word

In a copyright story, the Dallas News said the President's personal interest prompted his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to order the FBI to step up its investigation.

Marshall was shot five times. A bolt action .22 caliber rifle was found near the body.

At the time of his death, he was investigating transfers of cotton allotments by Estes, the Pecos, Tex., financier who has been indicted on fraud and theft charges. Estes business interests involving millions — liquid fertilizer sales, elevators collecting huge sums from the government for storing surplus grain, and extensive farms — have been placed in the hands of a receiver.

In addition, House and Senate committees are investigating charges that Estes distributed cash and expensive gifts to win preferential treatment by government officials.

"If it could be proved conclusively that Marshall was a suicide; or that, if he was murdered, it had nothing to do with the Estes case, the political pressure against the Democrats would be reduced," said the News.

Says Clerk Mistaken

A hardware store clerk at Franklin, Lois Smith, told the Houston Chronicle Thursday she sold Marshall a box of .22 cartridges the day he was shot.

"He just came in and told me what he wanted," Mrs. Smith said. "I remember his handing me a dollar."

Sybil Marshall, the widow, said she believed Mrs. Smith was mistaken.

"I'm pretty sure he didn't because he had shells in his bedroom which I found later," Mrs. Marshall said, "and I know he always kept shells in his pickup."

Motions on Santos Slated for June 15

Motions on behalf of Anthony Santos Jr., 22, of Middletown, charged with escaping from custody at the Dutchess County jail on May 17, are scheduled before Judge John R. Schwartz at Poughkeepsie, June 15.

Santos, who is accused of participating in a burglary at the Grand Union-Empire Market, 52 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, and taking $785 last Dec. 13, is represented by Henry Hirschberg, Newburgh attorney and former Orange County district attorney.

Wappingers Defeats Budget Second Time

A $4,412,298 record budget was defeated a second time Thursday by voters in the Wappingers Central School district by a vote of 1,979-1,323, a majority of 656 votes.

On May 3 the budget was defeated by a 69-vote margin and yesterday it was resubmitted without change.

William Tierney, a spokesman for the Wappingers District Board of Education, said after the vote was announced that the earliest possible date to resubmit a budget will be early in July.

Meanwhile, meetings will be held to discuss items in the budget and aid will be sought by the school board from the State Department of Education.

Allen told police that he felt the quarrel between his father and brother would lead to a fight between them and he said he hit Robert in the face. A fight which followed, he said, was stopped by his mother.

Robert, he said, then invited him downstairs. His mother interfered, he claimed, and he then went to a bedroom got the rifle, loaded it, removed a screen from a living room window, and as he indicated to police, aimed low and was pushed from position by his mother.

A police report indicated that headquarters was notified at 1:34 a. m. and officers Francis Buchanan and Sheldon O'Rourke were assigned with detectives Ellsworth and Hutton. Statements were taken from Allen, his brother and father.

Trooper Beating Wins Greene Man Award of $4,622

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A $50-a-week dishwasher won a $4,622 award today in the State Court of Claims for a beating he said he suffered at the hands of State Police.

Harry O. Morrison of Purling, Greene County, had sought $100,000.

Judge Sidney Squire, who made the award, decided that three troopers, Richard C. Roe, William Wolfe and Joseph Valecenti, had beaten Morrison "without justification or provocation" while questioning him about a burglary.

"No information was ever filed charging him with commission of the alleged crime," the judge said.

The troopers had sworn they did not "strike, kick or harm" Morrison.

Morrison said they beat him in July 1958 at the barracks in Leeds while investigating a tavern burglary. He said that his injuries forced him to remain home for three weeks and that he later suffered headaches and pains in the left knee.

Algiers Enjoys Second Truce Day

ALGIERS (AP)—Europeans and Moslems mixed peacefully in the streets of Algiers today as the second consecutive bloodless morning drew to a close.

The terrorist European Secret Army Organization continued its mysterious truce in an apparent effort to prove its bargaining power in any negotiations with the Moslem National Liberation Front.

Secret army leaders want to talk directly to Moslem nationalists to seek additional guarantees for Algeria's European community before the Moslem majority takes over an independent Algeria.

So far, Moslem quarters have vehemently denied any contact has been made.

The truce, which began with the Ascension holiday Thursday, gave the city a new face.

Moslem women penetrated the heart of the European city without incident. Moslem bootblacks and flower vendors, long absent, set up their stands again.

Markets were crowded by European housewives, many of whom have been feeding their families canned goods for weeks.

Europeans close to the secret army said its commandos had received orders to "cease fire" until Saturday.

One report was that the secret army would announce results of its alleged contacts with the Moslems.

Another explanation was that a new flareup of terrorism, more vicious than ever, should be expected after the truce to show that "real peace" depends on the secret army.

The truce in the heart of Algiers apparently did not affect some of the city's suburbs and Oran.

A Moslem was shot down in the beach town of Guyotville west of Algiers. In the El Biar suburb, three Europeans raided a branch bank, taking the equivalent of $3,000.

Throughout Algeria Thursday terrorism took a toll of 17 lives—a relatively light total for recent weeks. Officials said the dead included 13 Europeans, most of them in Oran.

107 Lose Lives In Traffic Over Holiday Period

OEP Aide Fired As Probe Asked Of Stockpiling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Emergency Planning fired one of its consultants today and asked the Justice Department to look into what it called an "apparent conflict of interest violation" brought out in the Senate investigation of stockpiling.

Simultaneously Chairman Stuart Symington, D-Mo., of the investigating group said its study has brought out evidence of two instances of "clear-cut conflicts of interest," and has shown that the taxpayers face a loss of probably much more than $1 billion on the defense stockpile.

Was With ODM

Symington said, too, that an inquiry will be made into whether companies headed by George M. Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury in the Eisenhower administration, made exorbitant profits on stockpile nickel.

The man whose contract as a consultant was canceled by the emergency planning office is John D. Morgan Jr., one-time assistant to the deputy director of the materials division of the old Office of Defense Mobilization which had over-all direction of stockpiling in the Eisenhower administration. More recently he has been a consultant, at $50 a day when actually working, to the successor agency.

The stockpiling inquiry centered Thursday on the circumstances in 1957 under which Climax Molybdenum Co., was let out of a contract to deliver about 38 million pounds of its steel alloying metal.

The government first asked for $4.5 million as a cancellation fee, figuring that as the amount of extra money the company would make by selling the molybdenum to other buyers, but finally settled for $1.2 million.

The subcommittee heard testimony that Morgan, who had resigned his ODM job less than a year before, drew $10,000 in pay from Climax as a consultant on its molybdenum contract in 1957, and in the same year drew around $3,000 in consultant fees from the government. There was no testimony linking Morgan to the cancellation.

School Teacher Now

R. C. Coburn, the committee's chief counsel, said Morgan now teaches school in Daytona Beach, Fla., and has advised the investigators it would not be convenient for him to testify until after June 15.

Edward A. McDermott, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, said in announcing cancellation of Morgan's consultant contract that Morgan had been "afforded an opportunity to appear before the Symington subcommittee and explain his activities but has refused to do so."

McDermott said his action on Morgan's contract, and in referring the matter to the Justice Department, was based not only on hearing testimony but on "information developed by my staff earlier."

Goldwater Pictured As Hopeful in 1964

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new political biography of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., pictures him today as feeling he would have a good chance at winning the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. And it suggests he might take a stab at it if the GOP's prospects look bright.

In any event Goldwater is said to believe the party's conservative wing, for which he is the chief spokesman, will hold the balance of power at the next GOP national convention.

"I am reasonably certain that the Republican presidential nominee in 1964 will have to accommodate the conservatives," Goldwater is quoted as saying in, "Mr. Conservative: Barry Goldwater," published today and written by Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer.

In suggesting he might throw his hat in the ring in 1964 if he thinks he has a fighting chance, the Arizona senator cited the historical precedent that the incumbent president—President Kennedy, in this case—always has the inside track the second time around.

He says he doesn't think Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 GOP presidential candidate, or New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller would run in 1964 if Kennedy "looks good" at the time.

On his own chances, Goldwater says: "I think my strength would lie in the South, the Middle West, and the Rocky Mountain West. Certainly, I wouldn't have great strength in the big states like Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, and New Jersey. But I would have some in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio."

Train Toll 62, Saw No Warning Lights Two Say

VOGHERA, Italy (AP) — A freight train engineer and his assistant say they saw no warning lights but jumped to safety before their locomotive hit the rear of a passenger train Thursday, killing 62 and injuring 70.

One of the injured died today, increasing the death toll to 63.

The engineer, Lanfranco Pigiani, 27, and Soriano Fabbri, 22, told police their first warning of Italy's fourth major rail disaster in five months came only seconds before impact. They said they set the emergency brake before jumping.

The Italian Transport Ministry said visibility was good and signal lights were working, warning that the Riveria-bound passenger train was stopped in the station, blocking the tracks. Survivors and station employes said they heard no sound of braking before the freight slammed into the express.

2. Prospective elementary - school teachers must earn at least 24 semester-hours of credit in a particular field of study, such as science or languages.

3. The number of required liberal-arts courses will be increased to total 75 semester-hours instead of the present 60. The number of semester - hours of elective subjects will be reduced accordingly.

4. The number of hours students are required to conduct classes under supervision, will be increased from 240 to 300.

Names Important Factors

Allen said the increase in required liberal-arts courses would cut the amount of time students spend in elective courses that often are less demanding.

He said the selection of potential teachers and the type of education they receive are the most important factors in the improvement of teaching.

"The schools of today and tomorrow must have a well-educated teacher in the classroom," he said.

Italy's fire losses last year totaled $30 million, les than 4 per cent of those in the United States.

Paltz Vote Set July 2 for New 16-Room School

New Paltz Central School district voters will be asked July 2 for approval of a 16-room elementary school on a 20-acre site north of the village, which was approved Monday by a 127-vote margin, according to Gerald DuBois, president of the school board.

The estimated cost of the school site at Prospect and Grove Streets, was reported at $7,000.

DuBois said the Board of Education has not yet arrived at an estimate of the cost of the proposed school, and he added it will be "around $600,000."

DuBois said Thursday that residents of the Gardiner area, who objected to the site proposed by the school board, will be asked to make suggestions about an alternate site.

Convicted in Case

A half hour later the jury reported it had reached a verdict and moments later reported to Judge Schwartz they found Stockton guilty of all six counts of the indictment.

Stockton could receive a sentence up to 10 years, it was said.

At a preliminary hearing in Poughkeepsie City Court, Mrs. Stockton testified she met her husband on Feb. 3 and she and Stockton were married on Feb. 10. She testified she gave money to the defendant after he told her he would give her part of his $60,000 business and purchase tickets for a wedding trip.

Paid No Bills

The indictment charged that Stockton didn't pay his wife's bills he promised, and had neither a business income nor reservations for the trip.

The indictment further charged the defendant took $1,000 from his wife on Feb. 7; $1,000 on Feb. 9 and 1,500 on Feb. 13.

Proposal Would Exempt $5,000 Or Less Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration supporters in the Senate are proposing a compromise plan to try to save the bitterly disputed plan to withhold taxes on income from dividends and interest.

The compromise, disclosed today by Senate Finance Committee members, would exempt from withholding persons with incomes of $5,000 or less.

One senator said he understood the proposal might even win the endorsement of the Treasury.

Byrd Holds Out

However, it was learned that it has not won over the committee chairman, Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who has announced his opposition to the withholding plan.

Byrd, it was understood, feels any compromise would be designed to get the principle of withholding through the Senate, with the idea that the original plan might be restored in conference with the House.

The House included President Kennedy's withholding recommendation in the tax revision bill it passed in March.

The Finance Committee has held lengthy hearings on the measure, but has not reached any decisions.

Senators have been deluged with thousands of letters from investors and savers opposing the withholding feature.

Backers of the President came up with the $5,000 exemption proposal after it became obvious that Byrd probably would win in a fight to knock out the feature in the committee.

GOP Going With Byrd

All six Republican members are expected to vote with Byrd. In addition, Sens. Russell B. Long, D-La., and George A. Smathers, D-Fla., have notified constituents that they oppose the provision as written in the house bill.

This would mean nine adverse votes, a majority. One or two other senators are in the uncertain column.

The withholding provision in the House bill, which generally follows the administration recommendation, would impose 20 per cent withholding on dividend and interest payments.

However, persons 18 years and younger, and all other persons who owe no tax could ask exemption.

Senators supporting the plan contend this would mean that all low — income individuals or families would be exempt.

Probers Turn Up Safety Deposit Box of Financier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal investigators in search of names, cash or records have located a safety deposit box of Billie Sol Estes and are trying to learn if there are more.

One box was uncovered in a Texas bank, authorities disclosed Thursday, but they said neither Estes nor his lawyers showed any inclination to let investigators check the contents.

Only a court order could force surrender of the key or give investigators authority to open the box.

Officials are exploring in other directions. They hope to learn if he has other safety deposit boxes and are seeking evidence for a court order to permit an examination of any and all such repositories.

They said the indicted promoter's financial files and records are getting a thorough going over, but that many entries are vague. For instance, checks drawn to "cash" or to himself in amounts up to $40,000 sometimes more, are accompanied by no supporting entries or receipts to show what Estes did with the money, they said. There the trail ends, said one informant.

Campaign contributions by Estes to politicians and political groups "once in a while" were found in the proper file, an informant added, but declined to discuss recipients' names.

The FBI, Internal Revenue and Senate Investigations subcommittee all have agents at work here and in Texas, seeking to unravel the story of Estes' deals and his relationships with persons in government in a position to help him.

Motion to Sell Hudson City Hall Defeated by 8-3

A resolution calling for the sale of the present Hudson City Hall at public auction was defeated Thursday night by one vote at a Common Council meeting. The vote was 8-3. The issue required a three-quarter majority for passage.

Also rejected by the Council were three bids received on the renovation of the new city hall building, the former Hudson River Trust Co.

Action on the bids was taken on recommendation of Munrow Tarbell, superintendent of public works, who said the bids, ranging from $25,000 to $29,000 were at least $5,000 above the anticipated costs.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — President Kennedy's interest in the case is spurring an FBI investigation of the mysterious death of an Agriculture Department official who pried into the affairs of Billie Sol Estes, the Dallas News reported today.

A Texas grand jury also is looking into the shooting of Henry H. Marshall, 52, found dead on his farm near Franklin Tex., a year ago. The body was exhumed and a pathologist said Marshall probably was murdered. At the time of his death, a justice of the peace decided it was suicide.

RFK Gives Word

In a copyright story, the Dallas News said the President's personal interest prompted his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to order the FBI to step up its investigation.

Marshall was shot five times. A bolt action .22 caliber rifle was found near the body.

At the time of his death, he was investigating transfers of cotton allotments by Estes, the Pecos, Tex., financier who has been indicted on fraud and theft charges. Estes business interests involving millions — liquid fertilizer sales, elevators collecting huge sums from the government for storing surplus grain, and extensive farms — have been placed in the hands of a receiver.

In addition, House and Senate committees are investigating charges that Estes distributed cash and expensive gifts to win preferential treatment by government officials.

"If it could be proved conclusively that Marshall was a suicide; or that, if he was murdered, it had nothing to do with the Estes case, the political pressure against the Democrats would be reduced," said the News.

Says Clerk Mistaken

A hardware store clerk at Franklin, Lois Smith, told the Houston Chronicle Thursday she sold Marshall a box of .22 cartridges the day he was shot.

"He just came in and told me what he wanted," Mrs. Smith said. "I remember his handing me a dollar."

Sybil Marshall, the widow, said she believed Mrs. Smith was mistaken.

"I'm pretty sure he didn't because he had shells in his bedroom which I found later," Mrs. Marshall said, "and I know he always kept shells in his pickup."

Motions on Santos Slated for June 15

Motions on behalf of Anthony Santos Jr., 22, of Middletown, charged with escaping from custody at the Dutchess County jail on May 17, are scheduled before Judge John R. Schwartz at Poughkeepsie, June 15.

Santos, who is accused of participating in a burglary at the Grand Union-Empire Market, 52 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, and taking $785 last Dec. 13, is represented by Henry Hirschberg, Newburgh attorney and former Orange County district attorney.

At recent arraignment, Santos continued a plea of innocence to charges of conspiracy, third degree burglary and grand larceny first degree.

Wappingers Defeats Budget Second Time

A $4,412,298 record budget was defeated a second time Thursday by voters in the Wappingers Central School district by a vote of 1,979-1,323, a majority of 656 votes.

On May 3 the budget was defeated by a 69-vote margin and yesterday it was resubmitted without change.

William Tierney, a spokesman for the Wappingers District Board of Education, said after the vote was announced that the earliest possible date to resubmit a budget will be early in July.

Meanwhile, meetings will be held to discuss items in the budget and aid will be sought by the school board from the State Department of Education.

custody of his attorney, Richard Griggs.

Allen told police that he felt the quarrel between his father and brother would lead to a fight between them and he said he hit Robert in the face. A fight which followed, he said, was stopped by his mother.

Robert, he said, then invited him downstairs. His mother interfered, he claimed, and he then went to a bedroom got the rifle, loaded it, removed a screen from a living room window, and as he indicated to police, aimed low and was pushed from position by his mother.

A police report indicated that headquarters was notified at 1:34 a. m. and officers Francis Buchanan and Sheldon O'Rourke were assigned with detectives Ellsworth and Hutton. Statements were taken from Allen, his brother and father.

Trooper Beating Wins Greene Man Award of $4,622

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A $50-a-week dishwasher won a $4,622 award today in the State Court of Claims for a beating he said he suffered at the hands of State Police.

Harry O. Morrison of Purling, Greene County, had sought $100,000.

Judge Sidney Squire, who made the award, decided that three troopers, Richard C. Roe, William Wolfe and Joseph Valecenti, had beaten Morrison "without justification or provocation" while questioning him about a burglary.

"No information was ever filed charging him with commission of the alleged crime," the judge said.

The troopers had sworn they did not "strike, kick or harm" Morrison.

Morrison said they beat him in July 1958 at the barracks in Leeds while investigating a tavern burglary. He said that his injuries forced him to remain home for three weeks and that he later suffered headaches and pains in the left knee.

Algiers Enjoys Second Truce Day

ALGIERS (AP)—Europeans and Moslems mixed peacefully in the streets of Algiers today as the second consecutive bloodless morning drew to a close.

The terrorist European Secret Army Organization continued its mysterious truce in an apparent effort to prove its bargaining power in any negotiations with the Moslem National Liberation Front.

Secret army leaders want to talk directly to Moslem nationalists to seek additional guarantees for Algeria's European community before the Moslem majority takes over an independent Algeria.

So far, Moslem quarters have vehemently denied any contact has been made.

The truce, which began with the Ascension holiday Thursday, gave the city a new face.

Moslem women penetrated the heart of the European city without incident. Moslem bootblacks and flower vendors, long absent, set up their stands again.

Markets were crowded by European housewives, many of whom have been feeding their families canned goods for weeks.

Europeans close to the secret army said its commandos had received orders to "cease fire" until Saturday.

One report was that the secret army would announce results of its alleged contacts with the Moslems.

Another explanation was that a new flareup of terrorism, more vicious than ever, should be expected after the truce to show that "real peace" depends on the secret army.

The truce in the heart of Algiers apparently did not affect some of the city's suburbs and Oran.

A Moslem was shot down in the beach town of Guyotville west of Algiers. In the El Biar suburb, three Europeans raided a branch bank, taking the equivalent of $3,000.

Throughout Algeria Thursday terrorism took a toll of 17 lives—a relatively light total for recent weeks. Officials said the dead included 13 Europeans, most of them in Oran.

Drivers Picket Liquor Building

Pickets were active today at the Colony Liquor Dealers Inc. building, 66 TenBroeck Avenue.

Theodore D. Daley, secretary-treasurer and principal officer of the union, Local 445, International Brotherhood of Teamsters Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers, headquarters at Yonkers, said today that truck drivers were on strike because of "failure to reach a new agreement."

The last contract expired Dec. 31, 1961, and negotiations have been under way since that date, he said. Affected locally, he said, are 12 drivers.

107 Lose Lives In Traffic Over Holiday Period

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic accidents killed 107 persons during Memorial Day, two under the record toll for the one-day holiday period in 1956.

A record over-all toll of 201 violent deaths was recorded during the 30-hour holiday period. In addition to the traffic fatalities, 9 persons lost their lives in boating accidents, 38 drowned and 47 were killed in miscellaneous mishaps. The total topped the previous record of 174 set in 1956.

Banker Called Good, Hurt in Cart Mishap

A spokesman at Vassar Hospital today described the condition of Herbert V. Dederer, 55, vice president and cashier of the Marine Midland National Bank of Southeastern New York, Poughkeepsie, as "good."

Dederer was seriously injured Wednesday, when thrown from a pony cart at the Varick V. W. Stringham farm, Fishkill Plains. Dederer was thrown against a tree as the cart struck a tree stump.

Dederer and about 20 other persons were attending a picnic at the Stringham home. Stringham is president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Inc.

Several other guests took rides in the cart drawn by a pony without incident before Dederer was injured.

30 Reserve Posts Are Available At Stewart AFB

Over 30 unfilled reserve positions with the 336th Troop Carrier Squadron at Stewart Air Force Base are available to area high school and college graduates. This opportunity for young men to complete a military obligation, mostly in their home area, is possibly the least known of the several service plans.

Individuals eligible for this program spend six months on a full time active duty basis. Two of these months are devoted to basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas and four months to on-the-job training at an Air Force specialty school or at Stewart Air Force Base.

When the six-month active duty training is completed, the young airman is placed on reserve status for six years. He then serves 12 weekends a year and a 15-day active duty tour in his job specialty with the 336th Troop Carrier Squadron at Stewart AFB.

For those eligible, the program enables the high school graduate to pursue a college education or civilian career while completing his military service. The college graduate, following a short six month active duty tour, also can start an uninterrupted civilian career while accomplishing his military time. In both cases, the young man will serve in a trained position and will gain financially as a paid reservist.

Some of the vacancies include training as specialists for radar, engine mechanic, air craft refueling, propeller repairman, mechanical accessory and equipment repairman, vehicle operator and aircraft passenger specialist.

Forty-eight reserve positions with the 336th Troop Carrier Squadron are also open to former Air Force personnel in this area. Captain and lieutenant vacancies exist for pilots, maintenance and air operations officers.

Central School Receives Award For Safety Plan

The New Paltz Central High School was recently notified that it was a recepient of a certificate of merit by the National Commission on Safety Education, National Education Association, for its outstanding safety program.

New Paltz was one of the three schools in New York State to receive this award. The three schools in New York State which were recognized for their outstanding work in the 1961-62 National Student Traffic Safety Program have been invited to participate in the 1962 National Safety Conference at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio, Aug. 19 through 22. The two student delegates who will represent New Paltz Central School at the National Conference are John Morris and James Lynch.

The basis of evaluating a school for a certificate of merit by the National Commission on Safety Education is determined by its contribution in safety education through planned activities and participation in driver education, Student Council, school safety instructions, school bus safety record, effective school safety rules and regulations, student participation in safety projects and community safety efforts. A determining factor in receiving national recognition for safety was the close working relationship between school and non-school groups in order to achieve the school's safety goals.

The Lions Club contributed raincoats and hats to protect the members of the safety patrol during inclement weather, the Junior Chamber of Commerce has held bicycle rodeos to encourage safe bicycle practices, the village has provided a part-time policeman to assist the children in crossing the street, the P-TA for its support in making New Paltz Central School a safer school and the two local papers for their contribution to safety by publishing school press releases on safety.

WE NEED THE IMPARTIAL

The average citizen can be forgiven for wondering where wisdom lies, as Congress and the nation debate controversial issues like the President's new trade program, medical care for the aged, a revised tax plan.

Within the space of a few days, the President himself made his case before the whole country on the first two of these. On medical care, he got a ringing answer from his program's opponents.

But this is just the most visible part of the fighting. As these issues are heard before congressional committees, interested parties present long, detailed, closely reasoned arguments for and against. Lawmakers fill pages and pages of the Congressional Record with more of the same.

Most of this, of course, the ordinary citizen never sees or hears of. Even if he did, would it help him decide what is the soundest course, so he might know how to judge the votes of his representatives?

Probably not.

How is the inexpert citizen supposed to know, then, which facts are most telling in the controversy at hand?

Some Americans appear to hunger for a kind of impartial tribunal which will weigh the facts in disputed matters and come up with informed, useful judgments. On paper this is a nice idea. But where it is tried, it doesn't seem to work too well.

Some weeks ago a presidential commission reported results of an extended study of railway labor practices. The group made many important recommendations for changes, not least in the field of so-called "featherbedding."

Yet there has been no general disposition to accept these findings as definite. President Kennedy put no force behind his acceptance of the commission report. Railway labor officials dismissed it as if it were just another "partisan" document.

One big difficulty seems to be that in this age when everybody is thought to be "making a case" of some kind or other, not too many Americans readily accept any individual or group as "impartial."

Fact-finding commissions often are composed of "pro," "con" and "public" members. The fashion nowadays appears to be to demonstrate that the public members really are pro or con—and hence suspect.

We will serve our free society poorly if we should ever conclude—with finality—that impartial judgments are impossible. Facing today's tangled problems, we need such judgments now as never before.

A British scientist fears U.S. and Soviet rockets may "contaminate" life on Venus. What worries us is that the Venusians may get mad and return the favor.

President Guido of Argentina orders "reorganization" of political parties to weed out those dictator-minded Peronists, and meanwhile he'll rule by decree. This is fighting fuehrer with fuehrer.

EASING BUSINESS FEARS

President Kennedy's efforts to reassure the business community are starting to bear fruit. The leaders of both United States Steel and the national Chamber of Commerce have taken note of the administration's concern for the welfare of industry.

It is no accident that both of these business leaders cited as evidence of this concern the administration's plans for liberalized depreciation allowances on corporate taxes. Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel, has said that he sees in this "a significant step" toward more sympathetic consideration for industry. The U. S. Chamber's new president, H. Ladd Plumley, expressed businessmen's gratitude for this move to ease their tax burden.

The prospective tax relief will not, in itself, smooth away all the tensions created by the administration's crackdown on the steel industry over pricing. As Plumley said, much remains to be done. But a good start has been made.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE CHURCH AND THE EMPIRE

Two phases of the Marxian Revolution affect all peoples today:

1. The Church—that is, the Marxist ideological concept and ritual which has been developed into a crusading Communism. This exists in all countries, Communist, Neutral, or Western.

The principal agency of this movement is the Communist Party which in a country such as Italy is still large in membership although Italy is an anti-Communist country. In the United States, this Party is very small.

It indirect influence is extensive because many of its ideas have been absorbed both by the intelligenzia and the populace. For instance, there is no longer a capitalist country in the 19th Century sense. Everywhere there is some kind of mixed economy, the best example being the United States where there are not only numerous controls over the means of production and distribution but also a large number of government owned and operated enterprises.

There are many manifestations of Marxism but what concerns us might best be described as Communism. And there are many types of Communism. For instance, in Soviet Russia, Marxism is a socialism which employs many of the devices of capitalism. The more industrialized Soviet Russia becomes, the less "pure" are its Communist characteristics. What actually is happening there seems to be that an incentive system is producing a new type capitalistic elite, similar to the American self-made men of the early 20th Century.

On the other hand, in Jugoslavia, there seems to be a wider division of the benefits of production, while in Red China, an effort was made to turn an anarchistic, patristic society, vestigially feudal, by a great leap, into a primitive Communist society.

Nowhere has Marxism succeeded in its major effort which is: by redistribution of the income from production and distribution to create a classless society. In fact, it may be said without contradiction, that the idealistic economic and social aims of Marxism are more manifest in such countries as the United States and Great Britain than in any Communist country where th standards of life remain contemptibly low.

2. The driving force of the Marxist Revolution has been an evangelical effort to convert the entire world not only to the economic and political forms of Marxism-Leninism but also to its basic sociological concept which is that man is a casual product of the struggle for biologic form and existence.

Out of this evangelistic effort, which at first was propagandistic, then politically infiltrating, has developed an imperialism both political and military.

Soviet Russia has conquered a good part of Europe, becoming the successor to the Hapsburg Empire as well as to the Romanoff Empire. It too a large part of Germany from the Nazi Revolution. As the principal beneficiary of World War II, Soviet Russia conquered China and presented it to the Chinese Communist Party. It also developed a political enclave in the Moslem countries of West Asia. Its rise was so rapid and successful that a number of important European, Asiatic and African countries either became satellites or declared themselves neutral between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Red China, as I have already indicated in these columns, is moving imperially throughout East Asia, seeking to build an Empire as large as that of the Emperor Chienlung. The technique of Red China is to stimulate civil war within a country, to support one faction with arms, "volunteers" and money, and then to pacify the country by means of "advisors." The present wars in Vietnam, Laos, Thailand and Indonesia are examples of Red Chinese techniques.

Cuba is another example of Soviet Imperialism. There never was a time when the Castro Revolution was not Communistic. There never was a time that our government was not accurately informed that Castro, his brother Raul, Che Guevara and the principal men in the Castro Revolution were Communists. And so a Marxist state was established in Cuba and it followed the general patern of Marxism everywhere. Therefore, one of its first functions has been the evangelical one of seeking to establish Marxist states throughout the American continents.

The question that needs to be considered is upon which form are we to concentrate our opposition, the Church or the Empire — Soviet Russia, Red China, Jugoslavia, Cuba. Should the Empire fall, the Party will wither on the vine.

Drugs That Act on Nerves May Affect Certain Skills

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

At the University of Michigan an investigation is being carried out to determine the effect of drugs that act on the central nervous system on behavioral skills—such as operating an auto or power tool. Such drugs are sedatives, sleeping medicines, tranquilizers, pep-up energizers and the like.

By the use of ingenious test machines, experiments have been conducted by the American Automobile Association's Auto Trainer, a panel that records hand steadiness, and on an Orthorater that measures near and distant vision.

In these experiments, subjects were tested before and after taking average doses of the most popularly used drugs in each category.

In general when average doses were given to normal subjects who had not taken any alcoholic beverage, there was no clear-cut evidence of significant changes in test performances (behavioral toxicity).

Unfortunately the story does not end there. For there is a suggestion that continued administration of these drugs (chronic toxicity), particularly when combined with an alcoholic beverage, may significantly affect behavioral skills, especially of the operation of vehicles used in public transportation.

Just what can be done to control this potentially alarming situation is not clear. In the case of alcoholism, of course, it is possible for authorities to measure the alcoholic content of breath and blood. In the case of the drugs listed no such measuring sticks are available.

To penalize skilled workers merely because they are taking prescribed drugs would be both impractical and unfair.

On the individual level, however, you can do the following for your own protection and the protection of fellow-employes and the general public:

Do not take any of the listed drugs, especially pep-up pills, without the knowledge and consent of your doctor. Particularly if you are on the road, do not purchase and swallow any over-the-counter product on sale at any way station.

If you are given any of the listed drugs, or if any is contained in a prescription or combination such as one used to reduce blood pressure (antitensive), watch your behavioral performance when you drive your car or use a power tool.

Should you note diminished skill, stop the drug for a few days and note any change that occurs. If your behavioral skill returns, repeat the test. If you again note an adverse effect, report to your doctor.

On the other hand, if you note no adverse effect, you may safely continue, always provided that you do not take even an average alcoholic drink while you are on medication.

"How Long Can We Ignore Him?"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall was the big wheel of the two-day White House Conference on Conservation, held in the State Department. The big idea was to whip up public support for the administration's broad natural resources development programs, now stymied in Congress.

The late Gifford Pinchot ran one of these conferences for President Theodore Roosevelt back in 1908. The Udall job was supposed to top that, look farther ahead.

The one new item in the 1962 program that seems to have the best prospects in Congress is recreation.

UDALL HAS JUST SET UP a new Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to co-ordinate all federal programs in this field, now scattered among 20 different agencies.

Dr. Edward C. Crafts, former assistant chief in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service has recently been sworn in as bureau head. His top assistant is Lawrence N. Stevens, director of studies for the "Outdoor Recreation for America" report submitted to President Kennedy last January after three years of preparation.

It was this comprehensive report from a commission of four senators, four representatives and seven private citizens headed by Laurance S. Rockefeller that formed the basis for the administration program.

In essence, the Rockefeller commission found that while the population of the country will double by the year 2000, the need for recreation facilities will triple.

The trouble is, the commission found, that most of the recreation areas are in the wrong places, too far away from the big centers of population. So an organized and orderly expansion of recreation facilities was recommended, with a Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to co-ordinate the effort.

PENDING BEFORE CONGRESS, therefore, is a bill which would authorize the BOR to allocate $50 million in matching grants to the states to plan new recreation areas. National Park Service, Forest Service, Army Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation and other federal agencies whose publicly-owned lands provide recreation services would then co-ordinate their new area planning through BOR.

Acquisition of new recreation areas will be left to the state and federal agencies, with funds provide by Congress and the legislature. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will thus be a small planning center—the way they all begin.

Crafts has taken on his new assignment with several misapprehensions to overcome. He says he is not to be a czar of the great outdoors. Nor will he try to teach people to dance around the Maypoles and have organized fun.

"Recreation is a lot more significant than just playing," says Dr. Crafts. "Getting the right understanding of the use of leisure time for constructive recreation will benefit the American people physically, culturally, morally."

TO THE CHARGE that government planning for recreation is federal paternalism and a further development of the welfare state his assistant, Larry Stevens, points out that there is a public demand for more recreation that has been growing steadily since the end of World War II.

Population has increased, leisure time has been increasing, people have had more money to spend, they have become more mobile as means of transportation have improved.

All this has created demands for more recreation which is now a $20 billion-a-year business—and it's growing. State parks serve more people than national parks and both are over-crowded. Private recreation facilities such as resort hotels, summer cottage colonies and private clubs provide recreation for even more people than national and state parks.

Stevens quotes Laurance Rockefeller to the effect that the moral fiber of the American people in the future may well be determined by their recreation.

Presidential Intervention And 'Profit-Squeeze Panic'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—What's been happening in the stock market probably can be described as the "profit-squeeze panic."

For the key to an understanding of the decline, as well as a clue to possible recovery, can be found in the operations of the age-old law of profit or loss in a free-enterprise system.

The investor in stocks has not been attracted by dividend rates as such in the last year or so, for he really could get a better income on his money simply by buying bonds. What the investor has been betting on is a steady increase in the profits of the companies themselves. This would mean a capital gain for him, because securities go up as profits rise. They are usually valued on the ratio of a certain number of times their earnings.

Thus, in early 1958, in computing value, the ratio was about 15 times earnings. The hope that dividends would grow as profits grew caused the ratio to rise recently to an average of 23 times earnings. This was at the end of 1961. The prices paid for stocks, therefore, reflected a high appraisal of future earnings.

It was the expectation of a recovery from the recession of 1960 and the good reports coming from several lines of business that caused the stock market to attain its peak of prices on December 13, 1961, when the Dow-Jones averages on all stocks reached 735.

Thereafter, as it became apparent that the labor unions were going to insist on higher and higher wage demands, the financial community began to hear reports of a "profit squeeze." The increased volume of business transactions didn't mean an increase in the rate of profit on sales for the corporations. The market consequently drifted downward from 735 to about 700 on April 6, 1962. This wasn't a severe drop, relatively speaking, as the figure of 685 had been recorded in January, 1960. So a change of 35 points was not enough in itself to cause a loss of confidence in the future.

Then Came April 11

Then came President Kennedy's dramatic intervention in the process of price-making in the national economy. His press conference of April 11 shocked the business world. He threatened reprisals. He implied that the U. S. Steel Corporation had done something illegal, and FBI agents were ordered into the act. The net result was a feeling that the Administration would use means, legal or otherwise, to halt any price increase but that it would not restrain the increases in wage costs which the unions were demanding.

Everything the President said in speeches of reassurance to business men was compared with the pronouncements of labor leaders who began urging the 35-hour week at the same pay as that received for 40 hours of work. Despite a few gentle words of disagreement from the White House—which the labor leaders ignored—the whole system of price-making in large industries had become demoralized. A "profit squeeze" was clearly indicated as the inevitable trend perhaps for the next few years.

When wage costs go up while price increases are tabooed, there can be only one consequence—a narrowing of the profit margin. When that happens, the dividend rate cannot be increased. In fact, even continuance of the same dividend rate as before sometimes becomes imperiled.

Many investors thereupon took a realistic view of what was happening and determined to sell their stock. From April 11, when the President declared war on the steel companies, through Monday, May 28, inclusive, the stockmarket averages fell from 695 to 577. This was a drop of 118 points in 47 days, or more than three times the decline in the 119 days prior to the steel episode. Indeed, the drop in values before the steel controversy was about $24.4 billion, whereas after the President's announcement of his price policy it fell by another $93.3 billion, for a total of $117.7 billion since the preceding December.

Loss at $90 Billion

At the end of the trading on Thursday, May 31, the market had recovered somewhat, but the total loss since last December still remained between $90 and $95 billion.

Stock-market fluctuations may continue with wide swings in either direction just as happened in 1930 and 1931 after the sensational break of October, 1929. But the important factor, which in the long range situation will be definitive, is the measurement of profits. If business is to be held down on prices, if labor unions are to go on forcing an increase in wage costs, and if the Administration continues to exclaim that it is helpless to do anything about labor's behavior, then the jig is up. The profit squeeze will continue and investors will see little hope for stocks to rise in value or to pay good dividends.

If the President now would ask Congress to give "equal protection of the law" to companies in business, and if something were done by law to rid the country of conspiracies practiced by nationwide labor unions which "restrain trade" constantly and impair interstate commerce — as the principle is set forth in the anti-monopoly laws that govern business — the opportunity for better profit margins would arise overnight. The whole economy would then be healthier. Expansion could be planned on the basis of reasonable expectations. More jobs would be created. Unemployment would be substantially reduced, if not eliminated, as a factor. The road to prosperity would then be clearly marked for all to see.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

At two o'clock in the morning there came a knock and several sturdy kicks on the door of the George Spelvin lovebower on Juniper Esplanade, Dudgeon Heights, and Mrs. Spelvin said "Who in the world can that be?"

Mr. Spelvin said "Some darn drunks coming home from a party, well no matter who it is I am not going to get up and pour and listen to a lot of praddle." Mr. Spelvin raised his voice and yelled: "Go away! Be absent. Let an honest, God-fearing, right-wing taxpayer sleep."

There was a strong voice at the front door and the bell rang a long peal.

"Who?" Mr. Spelvin asked.

"Well come around in office hours," Mr. Spelvin said. Mrs. Spelvin was up and wrapping a robe around herself. "I will fix them," she said and he could hear her slippers slapping down the hall. Then angry words and she came back and put on the light. It really is the FBI," she said. "They want to interview you. Did you do anything wrong?"

"Are you jesting?" George said.. "My life is an open book. I will take care of those monkeys" and he slid into his robe and slippers and went to the door. Mrs. Spelvin sat down in the living room. She felt very unsightly without any makeup.

One of the agents, whose name seemed to be Carmody or something, said, "Mr. Spelvin, the Director would like a statement from you about a discussion in which you seem to have used a word—excuse me, please, Mrs. Spelvin, this is my painful duty—you seem to have used a word rhyming with 'itches.' As reported to us by an informant, about the time of the Steel Controversy, you said 'My father always told me all Kennedys were' this word, 'but I never believed it until now.' Did you say that, Mr. Spelvin?"

George Spelvin paused a few seconds and said, "No, I did not say 'all Kennedys' and my father did not say all of them. When I was a kid there was a very nice fellow named Bradley Kennedy ran a speakeasy near us and we were very good friends and I used to date their oldest daughter, Mary. I distinctly did not say 'all Kennedys' and neither did my old man, God rest his soul. We used to know a priest from Galway named Father Martin Kennedy, one of the finest men I ever met, and naturally I would not even let such a thought like that cross my mind about Father Kennedy.

"I can name you probably 50 Kennedys, men and women and children I have known down the years, I respect them absolutely and I never said my father ever said all Kennedys were what you said this character said I said my old man always said all Kennedys were, and I did not believe him until now. That is just a dirty rotten lie, somebody blowing the whistle on me because whatever that John Birch guy said about Harry Truman that goes for me, too. Anyway, what do you mean kicking on a citizen's door this time of night asking those kind of questions? What is this, Hitler? Where they would snatch a guy from their loved ones in the dead of night because they said however they pronounce it in German, Adolf Hitler was one of those rhyming with 'itches'?"

The FBI men both were making notes. The one named Carmody or something said "Well, maybe we are now getting somewhere, Mr. Spelvin. Would you care to say whether at the time that I mention you said any particular man named Kennedy was what you said your father always said all Kennedys were and now you believed him?"

Mr. Spelvin said, "Well in the first place you did not mention any particular time, you just said something about the Steel Controversy and I tell you again my old man did not say all Kennedys because you will probably find a few in any big family where there is whole columns in the phone book, why would he say a thing like that?"

Mr. Carmody or whatever snapped his little book shut and both agents rose.

Mrs. Carmody or whatever snapped his little book shut and both agents rose.

Mrs. Spelvin got up, too, and she was blistering. She said, "George Spelvin, I am ashamed. Why don't you tell these cops to go and tell that fellow if he wants to make anything out of it, come around in person like a man ought to?"

The agents bowed out and Mr. Spelvin said, "Honestly, honey, out of a sound sleep how could I remember?"

She said "Do not lie or I will wash your mouth with soap. Now they will go and tell him you choked up and he will say all Spelvins are just what your father always told you all Kennedys were."

matter of Fact

Ever think of a jail sentence as being a humanitarian way to treat a prisoner? In the American colonial period workhouses or prisons were set up as a more humane way to handle convicts. It was much better to be sent to jail than to have to pay a heavy fine, and certainly better than corporal punishment.

WE NEED THE IMPARTIAL

The average citizen can be forgiven for wondering where wisdom lies, as Congress and the nation debate controversial issues like the President's new trade program, medical care for the aged, a revised tax plan.

Within the space of a few days, the President himself made his case before the whole country on the first two of these. On medical care, he got a ringing answer from his program's opponents.

But this is just the most visible part of the fighting. As these issues are heard before congressional committees, interested parties present long, detailed, closely reasoned arguments for and against. Lawmakers fill pages and pages of the Congressional Record with more of the same.

Most of this, of course, the ordinary citizen never sees or hears of. Even if he did, would it help him decide what is the soundest course, so he might know how to judge the votes of his representatives?

Probably not.

How is the inexpert citizen supposed to know, then, which facts are most telling in the controversy at hand?

Some Americans appear to hunger for a kind of impartial tribunal which will weigh the facts in disputed matters and come up with informed, useful judgments. On paper this is a nice idea. But where it is tried, it doesn't seem to work too well.

Some weeks ago a presidential commission reported results of an extended study of railway labor practices. The group made many important recommendations for changes, not least in the field of so-called "featherbedding."

Yet there has been no general disposition to accept these findings as definite. President Kennedy put no force behind his acceptance of the commission report. Railway labor officials dismissed it as if it were just another "partisan" document.

One big difficulty seems to be that in this age when everybody is thought to be "making a case" of some kind or other, not too many Americans readily accept any individual or group as "impartial."

Fact-finding commissions often are composed of "pro," "con" and "public" members. The fashion nowadays appears to be to demonstrate that the public members really are pro or con—and hence suspect.

We will serve our free society poorly if we should ever conclude—with finality—that impartial judgments are impossible. Facing today's tangled problems, we need such judgments now as never before.

A British scientist fears U.S. and Soviet rockets may "contaminate" life on Venus. What worries us is that the Venusians may get mad and return the favor.

President Guido of Argentina orders "reorganization" of political parties to weed out those dictator-minded Peronists, and meanwhile he'll rule by decree. This is fighting fuehrer with fuehrer.

EASING BUSINESS FEARS

President Kennedy's efforts to reassure the business community are starting to bear fruit. The leaders of both United States Steel and the national Chamber of Commerce have taken note of the administration's concern for the welfare of industry.

It is no accident that both of these business leaders cited as evidence of this concern the administration's plans for liberalized depreciation allowances on corporate taxes. Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel, has said that he sees in this "a significant step" toward more sympathetic consideration for industry. The U. S. Chamber's new president, H. Ladd Plumley, expressed businessmen's gratitude for this move to ease their tax burden.

The prospective tax relief will not, in itself, smooth away all the tensions created by the administration's crackdown on the steel industry over pricing. As Plumley said, much remains to be done. But a good start has been made.

'These Days'

THE CHURCH AND THE EMPIRE

Two phases of the Marxian Revolution affect all peoples today:

1. The Church—that is, the Marxist ideological concept and ritual which has been developed into a crusading Communism. This exists in all countries, Communist, Neutral, or Western.

The principal agency of this movement is the Communist Party which in a country such as Italy is still large in membership although Italy is an anti-Communist country. In the United States, this Party is very small.

It indirect influence is extensive because many of its ideas have been absorbed both by the intelligenzia and the populace. For instance, there is no longer a capitalist country in the 19th Century sense. Everywhere there is some kind of mixed economy, the best example being the United States where there are not only numerous controls over the means of production and distribution but also a large number of government owned and operated enterprises.

There are many manifestations of Marxism but what concerns us might best be described as Communism. And there are many types of Communism. For instance, in Soviet Russia, Marxism is a socialism which employs many of the devices of capitalism. The more industrialized Soviet Russia becomes, the less "pure" are its Communist characteristics. What actually is happening there seems to be that an incentive system is producing a new type capitalistic elite, similar to the American self-made men of the early 20th Century.

On the other hand, in Jugoslavia, there seems to be a wider division of the benefits of production, while in Red China, an effort was made to turn an anarchistic, patristic society, vestigially feudal, by a great leap, into a primitive Communist society.

Nowhere has Marxism succeeded in its major effort which is: by redistribution of the income from production and distribution to create a classless society. In fact, it may be said without contradiction, that the idealistic economic and social aims of Marxism are more manifest in such countries as the United States and Great Britain than in any Communist country where th standards of life remain contemptibly low.

2. The driving force of the Marxist Revolution has been an evangelical effort to convert the entire world not only to the economic and political forms of Marxism-Leninism but also to its basic sociological concept which is that man is a casual product of the struggle for biologic form and existence.

Out of this evangelistic effort, which at first was propagandistic, then politically infiltrating, has developed an imperialism both political and military.

Soviet Russia has conquered a good part of Europe, becoming the successor to the Hapsburg Empire as well as to the Romanoff Empire. It too a large part of Germany from the Nazi Revolution. As the principal beneficiary of World War II, Soviet Russia conquered China and presented it to the Chinese Communist Party. It also developed a political enclave in the Moslem countries of West Asia. Its rise was so rapid and successful that a number of important European, Asiatic and African countries either became satellites or declared themselves neutral between the United States and Soviet Russia.

Red China, as I have already indicated in these columns, is moving imperially throughout East Asia, seeking to build an Empire as large as that of the Emperor Chienlung. The technique of Red China is to stimulate civil war within a country, to support one faction with arms, "volunteers" and money, and then to pacify the country by means of "advisors." The present wars in Vietnam, Laos, Thailand and Indonesia are examples of Red Chinese techniques.

Cuba is another example of Soviet Imperialism. There never was a time when the Castro Revolution was not Communistic. There never was a time that our government was not accurately informed that Castro, his brother Raul, Che Guevara and the principal men in the Castro Revolution were Communists. And so a Marxist state was established in Cuba and it followed the general patern of Marxism everywhere. Therefore, one of its first functions has been the evangelical one of seeking to establish Marxist states throughout the American continents.

The question that needs to be considered is upon which form are we to concentrate our opposition, the Church or the Empire — Soviet Russia, Red China, Jugoslavia, Cuba. Should the Empire fall, the Party will wither on the vine.

Drugs That Act on Nerves May Affect Certain Skills

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

At the University of Michigan an investigation is being carried out to determine the effect of drugs that act on the central nervous system on behavioral skills—such as operating an auto or power tool. Such drugs are sedatives, sleeping medicines, tranquilizers, pep-up energizers and the like.

By the use of ingenious test machines, experiments have been conducted by the American Automobile Association's Auto Trainer, a panel that records hand steadiness, and on an Orthorater that measures near and distant vision.

In these experiments, subjects were tested before and after taking average doses of the most popularly used drugs in each category.

In general when average doses were given to normal subjects who had not taken any alcoholic beverage, there was no clear-cut evidence of significant changes in test performances (behavioral toxicity).

Unfortunately the story does not end there. For there is a suggestion that continued administration of these drugs (chronic toxicity), particularly when combined with an alcoholic beverage, may significantly affect behavioral skills, especially of the operation of vehicles used in public transportation.

Just what can be done to control this potentially alarming situation is not clear. In the case of alcoholism, of course, it is possible for authorities to measure the alcoholic content of breath and blood. In the case of the drugs listed no such measuring sticks are available.

To penalize skilled workers merely because they are taking prescribed drugs would be both impractical and unfair.

On the individual level, however, you can do the following for your own protection and the protection of fellow-employes and the general public:

Do not take any of the listed drugs, especially pep-up pills, without the knowledge and consent of your doctor. Particularly if you are on the road, do not purchase and swallow any over-the-counter product on sale at any way station.

If you are given any of the listed drugs, or if any is contained in a prescription or combination such as one used to reduce blood pressure (antitensive), watch your behavioral performance when you drive your car or use a power tool.

Should you note diminished skill, stop the drug for a few days and note any change that occurs. If your behavioral skill returns, repeat the test. If you again note an adverse effect, report to your doctor.

On the other hand, if you note no adverse effect, you may safely continue, always provided that you do not take even an average alcoholic drink while you are on medication.

"How Long Can We Ignore Him?"

Washington News

BY PETER EDSON
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall was the big wheel of the two-day White House Conference on Conservation, held in the State Department. The big idea was to whip up public support for the administration's broad natural resources development programs, now stymied in Congress.

The late Gifford Pinchot ran one of these conferences for President Theodore Roosevelt back in 1908. The Udall job was supposed to top that, look farther ahead.

The one new item in the 1962 program that seems to have the best prospects in Congress is recreation.

UDALL HAS JUST SET UP a new Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to co-ordinate all federal programs in this field, now scattered among 20 different agencies.

Dr. Edward C. Crafts, former assistant chief in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Forest Service has recently been sworn in as bureau head. His top assistant is Lawrence N. Stevens, director of studies for the "Outdoor Recreation for America" report submitted to President Kennedy last January after three years of preparation.

It was this comprehensive report from a commission of four senators, four representatives and seven private citizens headed by Laurance S. Rockefeller that formed the basis for the administration program.

In essence, the Rockefeller commission found that while the population of the country will double by the year 2000, the need for recreation facilities will triple.

The trouble is, the commission found, that most of the recreation areas are in the wrong places, too far away from the big centers of population. So an organized and orderly expansion of recreation facilities was recommended, with a Bureau of Outdoor Recreation to co-ordinate the effort.

PENDING BEFORE CONGRESS, therefore, is a bill which would authorize the BOR to allocate $50 million in matching grants to the states to plan new recreation areas. National Park Service, Forest Service, Army Corps of Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation and other federal agencies whose publicly-owned lands provide recreation services would then co-ordinate their new area planning through BOR.

Acquisition of new recreation areas will be left to the state and federal agencies, with funds provide by Congress and the legislature. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation will thus be a small planning center—the way they all begin.

Crafts has taken on his new assignment with several misapprehensions to overcome. He says he is not to be a czar of the great outdoors. Nor will he try to teach people to dance around the Maypoles and have organized fun.

"Recreation is a lot more significant than just playing," says Dr. Crafts. "Getting the right understanding of the use of leisure time for constructive recreation will benefit the American people physically, culturally, morally."

TO THE CHARGE that government planning for recreation is federal paternalism and a further development of the welfare state his assistant, Larry Stevens, points out that there is a public demand for more recreation that has been growing steadily since the end of World War II.

Population has increased, leisure time has been increasing, people have had more money to spend, they have become more mobile as means of transportation have improved.

All this has created demands for more recreation which is now a $20 billion-a-year business —and it's growing. State parks serve more people than national parks and both are over-crowded. Private recreation facilities such as resort hotels, summer cottage colonies and private clubs provide recreation for even more people than national and state parks.

Stevens quotes Laurance Rockefeller to the effect that the moral fiber of the American people in the future may well be determined by their recreation.

Presidential Intervention And 'Profit-Squeeze Panic'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—What's been happening in the stock market probably can be described as the "profit-squeeze panic."

For the key to an understanding of the decline, as well as a clue to possible recovery, can be found in the operations of the age-old law of profit or loss in a free-enterprise system.

The investor in stocks has not been attracted by dividend rates as such in the last year or so, for he really could get a better income on his money simply by buying bonds. What the investor has been betting on is a steady increase in the profits of the companies themselves. This would mean a capital gain for him, because securities go up as profits rise. They are usually valued on the ratio of a certain number of times their earnings.

Thus, in early 1958, in computing value, the ratio was about 15 times earnings. The hope that dividends would grow as profits grew caused the ratio to rise recently to an average of 23 times earnings. This was at the end of 1961. The prices paid for stocks, therefore, reflected a high appraisal of future earnings.

It was the expectation of a recovery from the recession of 1960 and the good reports coming from several lines of business that caused the stock market to attain its peak of prices on December 13, 1961, when the Dow-Jones averages on all stocks reached 735.

Thereafter, as it became apparent that the labor unions were going to insist on higher and higher wage demands, the financial community began to hear reports of a "profit squeeze." The increased volume of business transactions didn't mean an increase in the rate of profit on sales for the corporations. The market consequently drifted downward from 735 to about 700 on April 6, 1962. This wasn't a severe drop, relatively speaking, as the figure of 685 had been recorded in January, 1960. So a change of 35 points was not enough in itself to cause a loss of confidence in the future.

Then Came April 11

Then came President Kennedy's dramatic intervention in the process of price-making in the national economy. His press conference of April 11 shocked the business world. He threatened reprisals. He implied that the U. S. Steel Corporation had done something illegal, and FBI agents were ordered into the act. The net result was a feeling that the Administration would use means, legal or otherwise, to halt any price increase but that it would not restrain the increases in wage costs which the unions were demanding.

Everything the President said in speeches of reassurance to business men was compared with the pronouncements of labor leaders who began urging the 35-hour week at the same pay as that received for 40 hours of work. Despite a few gentle words of disagreement from the White House—which the labor leaders ignored—the whole system of price-making in large industries had become demoralized. A "profit squeeze" was clearly indicated as the inevitable trend perhaps for the next few years.

When wage costs go up while price increases are tabooed, there can be only one consequence—a narrowing of the profit margin. When that happens, the dividend rate cannot be increased. In fact, even continuance of the same dividend rate as before sometimes becomes imperiled.

Many investors thereupon took a realistic view of what was happening and determined to sell their stock. From April 11, when the President declared war on the steel companies, through Monday, May 28, inclusive, the stockmarket averages fell from 695 to 577. This was a drop of 118 points in 47 days, or more than three times the decline in the 119 days prior to the steel episode. Indeed, the drop in values before the steel controversy was about $24.4 billion, whereas after the President's announcement of his price policy it fell by another $93.3 billion, for a total of $117.7 billion since the preceding December.

Loss at $90 Billion

At the end of the trading on Thursday, May 31, the market had recovered somewhat, but the total loss since last December still remained between $90 and $95 billion.

Stock-market fluctuations may continue with wide swings in either direction just as happened in 1930 and 1931 after the sensational break of October, 1929. But the important factor, which in the long range situation will be definitive, is the measurement of profits. If business is to be held down on prices, if labor unions are to go on forcing an increase in wage costs, and if the Administration continues to exclaim that it is helpless to do anything about labor's behavior, then the jig is up. The profit squeeze will continue and investors will see little hope for stocks to rise in value or to pay good dividends.

If the President now would ask Congress to give "equal protection of the law" to companies in business, and if something were done by law to rid the country of conspiracies practiced by nationwide labor unions which "restrain trade" constantly and impair interstate commerce — as the principle is set forth in the anti-monopoly laws that govern business — the opportunity for better profit margins would arise overnight. The whole economy would then be healthier. Expansion could be planned on the basis of reasonable expectations. More jobs would be created. Unemployment would be substantially reduced, if not eliminated, as a factor. The road to prosperity would then be clearly marked for all to see.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

At two o'clock in the morning there came a knock and several sturdy kicks on the door of the George Spelvin lovebower on Juniper Esplanade, Dudgeon Heights, and Mrs. Spelvin said "Who in the world can that be?"

Mr. Spelvin said "Some darn drunks coming home from a party, well no matter who it is I am not going to get up and pour and listen to a lot of praddle." Mr. Spelvin raised his voice and yelled: "Go away! Be absent. Let an honest, God-fearing, right-wing taxpayer sleep."

There was a strong voice at the front door and the bell rang a long peal.

"Who?" Mr. Spelvin asked.

"Well come around in office hours," Mr. Spelvin said. Mrs. Spelvin was up and wrapping a robe around herself. "I will fix them," she said and he could hear her slippers slapping down the hall. Then angry words and she came back and put on the light. It really is the FBI," she said. "They want to interview you. Did you do anything wrong?"

"Are you jesting?" George said.. "My life is an open book. I will take care of those monkeys" and he slid into his robe and slippers and went to the door. Mrs. Spelvin sat down in the living room. She felt very unsightly without any makeup.

One of the agents, whose name seemed to be Carmody or something, said, "Mr. Spelvin, the Director would like a statement from you about a discussion in which you seem to have used a word—excuse me, please, Mrs. Spelvin, this is my painful duty —you seem to have used a word rhyming with 'itches.' As reported to us by an informant, about the time of the Steel Controversy, you said 'My father always told me all Kennedys were' this word, 'but I never believed it until now.' Did you say that, Mr. Spelvin?"

George Spelvin paused a few seconds and said, "No, I did not say 'all Kennedys' and my father did not say all of them. When I was a kid there was a very nice fellow named Bradley Kennedy ran a speakeasy near us and we were very good friends and I used to date their oldest daughter, Mary. I distinctly did not say 'all Kennedys' and neither did my old man, God rest his soul. We used to know a priest from Galway named Father Martin Kennedy, one of the finest men I ever met, and naturally I would not even let such a thought like that cross my mind about Father Kennedy.

"I can name you probably 50 Kennedys, men and women and children I have known down the years, I respect them absolutely and I never said my father ever said all Kennedys were what you said this character said I said my old man always said all Kennedys were, and I did not believe him until now. That is just a dirty rotten lie, somebody blowing the whistle on me because whatever that John Birch guy said about Harry Truman that goes for me, too. Anyway, what do you mean kicking on a citizen's door this time of night asking those kind of questions? What is this, Hitler? Where they would snatch a guy from their loved ones in the dead of night because they said however they pronounce it in German, Adolf Hitler was one of those rhyming with 'itches'?"

The FBI men both were making notes. The one named Carmody or something said "Well, maybe we are now getting somewhere, Mr. Spelvin. Would you care to say whether at the time that I mention you said any particular man named Kennedy was what you said your father always said all Kennedys were and now you believed him?"

Mr. Spelvin said, "Well in the first place you did not mention any particular time, you just said something about the Steel Controversy and I tell you again my old man did not say all Kennedys because you will probably find a few in any big family where there is whole columns in the phone book, why would he say a thing like that?"

Mr. Carmody or whatever snapped his little book shut and both agents rose.

Mrs. Carmody or whatever snapped his little book shut and both agents rose.

Mrs. Spelvin got up, too, and she was blistering. She said, "George Spelvin, I am ashamed. Why don't you tell these cops to go and tell that fellow if he wants to make anything out of it, come around in person like a man ought to?"

The agents bowed out and Mr. Spelvin said, "Honestly, honey, out of a sound sleep how could I remember?"

She said "Do not lie or I will wash your mouth with soap. Now they will go and tell him you choked up and he will say all Spelvins are just what your father always told you all Kennedys were."

Ever think of a jail sentence as being a humanitarian way to treat a prisoner? In the American colonial period workhouses or prisons were set up as a more humane way to handle convicts. It was much better to be sent to jail than to have to pay a heavy fine, and certainly better than corporal punishment.

Old Favorites Are Hoping to Make Good on Return

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, through all its short existence, has been feared for its ability to consume talent. The viewing public is feared for its fickle tastes. It finds a performer, can't get enough of him for a time—and suddenly turns stonily away.

Next season, a number of favorites will be attempting returns to favor and one of the most interesting spectator sports of the fall will be watching the way they make out.

Lucille Ball will be back after a long absence with a new situation comedy. Jackie Gleason comes in with a new series of Saturday night variety hours. Sid Caesar has been signed for a series of shows. Roy Rogers and Dale Evans will try their luck with weekly variety. Jack Paar will be transformed from a late night phenomenon into a weekly variety show host.

Under Big Sword

A big sword will hover over all of them. Will they make it back to success?

In the case of Lucille Ball, the chances look good—if she returns in a funny, bright show. Her old "I Love Lucy" series was still an extremely popular program and Lucy herself was a hot theatrical property. Besides, she and Desi Arnaz decided to terminate the series. They weren't dislodged by small audiences.

Jackie Gleason's chances are more debatable. His old variety hour turned into "The Honeymooners" series when the audience of several seasons ago was growing chilly. Then he tried an unsuccessful comeback. This failed. Finally, this season, he was a party to a short-lived little disaster that started as a game-show and wound up as a conversation hour.

Sid Caesar was the nation's toast in the old "Your Show of Shows" days with Imogene Coca. Attempts to revive this show failed, and nothing much has happened to Caesar over the recent years.

A Different Program

Jack Paar quit when he was still far ahead, but there's a question, of course, whether the public will still embrace him when he returns with an entirely different type of program.

ABC, rather wisely, has scheduled Roy and Dale's musical program at an early hour Saturday night—after all, they always had a big audience of children for their horse opera.

The list of entertainers who have had a hard time finding the right road back is long, and starts with Milton Berle, who is still looking. Steve Allen's try at another variety hour was an early casualty of this season. George Gobel hasn't had his own show for several seasons now.

Trouble Forces Plane To Land on Thruway

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A single-engine plane carrying five persons was forced to land on the State Thruway in suburban Cheektowaga Thursday because of carburetor trouble. No one was hurt.

James Ryan of Cheektowaga, the pilot, was given a summons by State Police, who charged him with violation of the State General Business Law.

Ryan said that while he was preparing to land at an airpark, the plane developed carburetor trouble, and that he either had to land on the Thruway or crash.

"It was the first time I ever stopped a moving plane", one trooper said.

With Ryan were 12-year-old son, Patrick, and three neighbors. They were returning from the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis.

New Shows Dot Fading TV Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—The season is now upon us when the big challenge of television is to avoid the repeat shows, which abound.

But Dinah Shore, for one, has a new show tonight(NBC, 9:30 10:30 EDT) and the theme is country music.

With 18th anniversary of the Allied invasion of Europe next week, Sunday television will be preoccupied with the subject. CBS will rerun the second part of its "D-Day" series (6-6:30 p.m.) and NBC will show some archive Allied and German film in its new treatment of the same subject (10-11).

Bob Hope will be the guest star on Monday night's "Danny Thomas Show" (CBS, 9-9:30 p.m.) and the hosts on NBC's "Tonight Show" for the week, starting tonight (11:15-1 a.m.) will be Spike Jones and wife, Helen Grayco.

"Hitchcock Presents" (NBC, 8:30-9 p.m.) is a new episode, and stars Jack Carson. Gwen Verdon and Jack Jones, Allan's son, are guest stars on "The Garry Moore Show" (CBS, 10-11).

NBC's "Wagon Train" (7:30-8:30 p.m.) on Wednesday is a new show, and so is CBS' "Checkmate" (8:30-9:30). David Brinkley's "Journal" (NBC, 10:30-11) takes a look at the Miss America contest.

"Brenner," on CBS will start Thursday night (9-9:30) with a series of repeats from another summer season.

Slim pickings all over.

Storm Causes Damage In Cherry Valley

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Trees were knocked down, electric power was disrupted and buildings were damaged in Cherry Valley, Otsego County, during a brief rain and wind storm.

A laundry and a dormitory building at a resort hotel on Third Lake in the Adirondacks also were damaged by fire Thursday night after being struck by lightning.

In Cherry Valley, the storm lasted only about 10 minutes, but residents estimated the wind gusts at 45 miles an hour.

Carpenter Gets Chance at Last To Read His Mail

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP) — Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who only one week ago orbited the earth three times, Thursday got down to the more mundane task of looking over his mail.

There was lots of it waiting him in the office at his old space training grounds he shares with America's six other astronauts.

Keating Would Prevent a New EstesInvolvement

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Three proposals designed to help prevent involvement of congressmen in such cases as the Billie Sol Estes affair have been offered by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

The New York Republican said Thursday night that "existing federal regulations on conflict of interest, graft, bribery and corrupt practices are outdated, inconsistent, vague and inadequate."

He proposed that:

1. All oral and written communications received by government agencies from members of Congress be made a part of the public record in any conflict-of-interest case.

2. Members of Congress and their employes be required to make full disclosure of any financial interest they may have in any activity subject to the jurisdiction of a regulatory agency.

3. A joint congressional committee on ethics be established.

"The revelations of widespread involvement of members of Congress in the affairs of Billie Sol Estes make it plain that Congress is in no position to take a 'holier than thou' attitude," Keating said.

His remarks were made in a speech to the bar association of Erie County.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, through all its short existence, has been feared for its ability to consume talent. The viewing public is feared for its fickle tastes. It finds a performer, can't get enough of him for a time—and suddenly turns stonily away.

Next season, a number of favorites will be attempting returns to favor and one of the most interesting spectator sports of the fall will be watching the way they make out.

Lucille Ball will be back after a long absence with a new situation comedy. Jackie Gleason comes in with a new series of Saturday night variety hours. Sid Caesar has been signed for a series of shows. Roy Rogers and Dale Evans will try their luck with weekly variety. Jack Paar will be transformed from a late night phenomenon into a weekly variety show host.

Under Big Sword

A big sword will hover over all of them. Will they make it back to success?

In the case of Lucille Ball, the chances look good—if she returns in a funny, bright show. Her old "I Love Lucy" series was still an extremely popular program and Lucy herself was a hot theatrical property. Besides, she and Desi Arnaz decided to terminate the series. They weren't dislodged by small audiences.

Jackie Gleason's chances are more debatable. His old variety hour turned into "The Honeymooners" series when the audience of several seasons ago was growing chilly. Then he tried an unsuccessful comeback. This failed. Finally, this season, he was a party to a short-lived little disaster that started as a game-show and wound up as a conversation hour.

Sid Caesar was the nation's toast in the old "Your Show of Shows" days with Imogene Coca. Attempts to revive this show failed, and nothing much has happened to Caesar over the recent years.

A Different Program

Jack Paar quit when he was still far ahead, but there's a question, of course, whether the public will still embrace him when he returns with an entirely different type of program.

ABC, rather wisely, has scheduled Roy and Dale's musical program at an early hour Saturday night—after all, they always had a big audience of children for their horse opera.

The list of entertainers who have had a hard time finding the right road back is long, and starts with Milton Berle, who is still looking. Steve Allen's try at another variety hour was an early casualty of this season. George Gobel hasn't had his own show for several seasons now.

Coming Up

Recommended weekend viewing:

Tonight: Dinah Shore Show, NBC, 9:30-10:30 (Eastern Standard Time)—program of country-style music.

Trouble Forces Plane To Land on Thruway

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A single-engine plane carrying five persons was forced to land on the State Thruway in suburban Cheektowaga Thursday because of carburetor trouble. No one was hurt.

James Ryan of Cheektowaga, the pilot, was given a summons by State Police, who charged him with violation of the State General Business Law.

Ryan said that while he was preparing to land at an airpark, the plane developed carburetor trouble, and that he either had to land on the Thruway or crash.

"It was the first time I ever stopped a moving plane", one trooper said.

With Ryan were 12-year-old son, Patrick, and three neighbors. They were returning from the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis.

New Shows Dot Fading TV Year

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The season is now upon us when the big challenge of television is to avoid the repeat shows, which abound.

But Dinah Shore, for one, has a new show tonight(NBC, 9:30 10:30 EDT) and the theme is country music.

With 18th anniversary of the Allied invasion of Europe next week, Sunday television will be preoccupied with the subject. CBS will rerun the second part of its "D-Day" series (6-6:30 p.m.) and NBC will show some archive Allied and German film in its new treatment of the same subject (10-11).

Bob Hope will be the guest star on Monday night's "Danny Thomas Show" (CBS, 9-9:30 p.m.) and the hosts on NBC's "Tonight Show" for the week, starting tonight (11:15-1 a.m.) will be Spike Jones and wife, Helen Grayco.

"Hitchcock Presents" (NBC, 8:30-9 p.m.) is a new episode, and stars Jack Carson. Gwen Verdon and Jack Jones, Allan's son, are guest stars on "The Garry Moore Show" (CBS, 10-11).

NBC's "Wagon Train" (7:30-8:30 p.m.) on Wednesday is a new show, and so is CBS' "Checkmate" (8:30-9:30). David Brinkley's "Journal" (NBC, 10:30-11) takes a look at the Miss America contest.

"Brenner," on CBS will start Thursday night (9-9:30) with a series of repeats from another summer season.

Slim pickings all over.

Eichmann Reaction

Suddenness One Critical View Of Nazi's Death

LONDON (AP)—Israel's swift midnight hanging of Adolf Eichmann evoked surprise around the world today. Few expressed sympathy for the former Nazi officer, but the suddenness of his execution drew scattered murmurs of disapproval.

Across Europe, the frequent comment was: "It was about time."

"He got no better than he deserved," said an elderly housekeeper in West Berlin, where Eichmann once directed the Gestapo department charged with carrying out Hitler's "final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

Partisians Show No Regret

"After all, six million Jews; what can you expect?" commented a messenger boy in Paris.

"The least you can say was that it was a little his own fault, even though he said he followed orders," said a secretary. Many Parisians reacted to the news with a simple Gallic shrug of the shoulders and no regret.

But others expressed shock that Israel executed Eichmann within hours after his appeal for executive clemency had been rejected. Some said he should have been spared.

"Hanging won't do any good after all these years," said London bus driver Sidney Baines.

Factory worker George Clark added: "They hanged him for someone else. He's only taking the blame. What about the generals above him?"

The news reached Europe too late for morning newspapers to do more than splash big bold headlines on brief stories. Governmental and editorial reaction came slowly.

Bonn Maintains Silence

The Bonn government maintained official silence on the execution today, but previously had condemned the Nazi slaughter of Jews and praised Israel for its "remarkably objective" Eichmann trial.

Random questioning of West Germans on their way to work this morning brought general approval of the execution.

"He deserved his fate," said postman Robert Muench. "I'm satisfied that this terrible Eichmann story is now over."

Josef Wendel, a young bank clerk, said, "Eichmann certainly deserved no mercy. But I cannot approve of capital punishment. Eichmann had no right to do what he did to the Jews. But do the Jews have a right to kill Eichmann?"

There is no capital punishment in West Germany under the post-war constitution.

In Argentina, the government ordered guards around the Israeli Embassy and Jewish synagogues and businesses after getting word of Eichmann's execution.

Many Argentines still are resentful that Israeli commandos kidnaped Eichmann from his Argentine hideout and spirited him out of the country to Israel for trial two years ago. Anti-Semitic incidents have increased in frequency in recent weeks.

The Soviet Union coupled the announcement of Eichmann's execution with a bitter propaganda blast at surviving Nazis it charged now run West Germany.

Romulo Takes Post

MANILA (AP)—Carlos P. Romulo, former ambassador to the United States, was sworn in today as president of the University of the Philippines.

The veteran diplomat, one-time president of the United Nations General Assembly, pledged he will keep the university "a secular institution free from any religious or political leanings" and make it "a citadel of truth."

Humphrey Urges Income Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., today urged a cut in individual and corporate income taxes "to strengthen the economy and the stock market."

"It will take more than expressions of friendship and cooperation from the White House and other areas of government to strengthen the market," Humphrey said in a statement.

"What is needed is action," he said. "Delay by Congress or the administration will bring further economic trouble."

The assistant Senate Democratic leader, who talked Thursday in New York with stock exchange officials and other financial leaders, proposed cuts of 2 to 4 per cent in corporation levies and 2 per cent in personal taxes.

Meanwhile, the recent gyrations of the stock market prompted Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, to ask Congress to approve a $750,000 investigation of the market by the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday the administration was not supporting any immediate income tax cut.

The Treasury has said, however, that such cuts probably will be proposed next year as a part of a tax overhaul measure which will include some provisions to increase revenues in other ways.

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. Military Academy, at its social best, will fete new graduates and alumni with gala and solemn activities during traditional "June Week," June 2 through 6.

The festive week will be highlighted by a visit from the commander-in-chief, President Kennedy, who will deliver the commencement address June 6.

Activities ranging from alumni picnics to cadet weddings under the traditional arch of sabers make June Week the best annual social occasion on the west bank of the Hudson River.

Fifty-seven of the 601 graduating cadets will be married in the academy's chapels from June 6 through 10.

RFK Bid Would UnmaskRedParty

.WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has petitioned the Subversive Activities Control Board to require 10 persons to register with him as members of the Communist party.

With this action Thursday the government opened another front in its campaign to unmask the party, its leaders and members.

The Supreme Court cleared the way for the Justice Department last June when it ordered the party to register with the board under provisions of the 1950 Internal Securities Act as an agency of Moscow. The party appealed but the court last October refused to reconsider.

10 Identified

Kennedy said in his announcement that the 10 persons were elected to the party's national committee in December 1959. He identified them in separate petitions as:

Two Convicted in '53

Mrs. Tormey and Weinstock were convicted in 1953 and served prison terms of two and three years respectively, on charges of violating the Smith Act which prohibits the teaching of violent overthrow of the government.

The 10 named in the petitions have 20 days in which to reply. The board then will conduct hearings and its decision in each case will become final only after review by the courts.

The maximum penalty for failure of an individual to register—if he refuses to do so after the board orders him to and the courts uphold the board—would be five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Would Fight Action

Lima said in Oakland he had no intention of registering and that he would fight Kennedy's action through hearings of the board and in the courts. He called the 1950 Internal Security Act a "dragnet law under which a great majority of Americans could be put in prison without trial or evidence."

In Seattle, Nelson, who has previously stated he would "sooner go to prison than register," said he would have no comment until he had some official notification.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Reacting from the gains made in its big recovery, the stock market pendulum swung lower early this afternonn in heavy trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.60 to 223.90, with industrials off 2.30, rails down .70 and utilities 1.10.

By ordinary standards it was a substantial loss but it was trivial compared with the wide swings made earlier this week.

Key stocks fell from fractions to 1 or 2 points. The volatile "growth" stocks and other high-priced issues took losses ranging to about half a dozen points.

The ticker tape ran as much as 19 minutes behind transactions, then began to catch up gradually. At the comparable time Thursday it ran 43 minutes late and grew progressively later until it was one hour and 55 minutes late at the close.

Generally, the biggest gainers in Thursday's upswing were the losers today, and there seemed little discrimination about the selling.

A T & T sank 2⅛ to 111⅛ and then widened the loss slightly.

As trading wore into the afternoon, IBM and Xerox were off about 6, Polaroid 5, Litton Industries more than 4.

Watchman Pleads Innocent to Arson

Charged with third degree arson as the result of police investigation of a $50,000 two-alarm fire at the Salvation Army's Social Service Center, 84 Cottage Street, Poughkeepsie, Alfred Coffey, 34, night watchman at the Army's center, pleaded innocent Thursday.

City Judge Milton Haven adjourned hearing until June 7, after Coffey said he wanted an attorney.

Coffey was accused of pouring turpentine on the second floor of the building about 3 a. m. Tuesday and igniting it with a match. Coffey said in court yesterday, "It was an accident. I didn't want to set the place on fire. I didn't want to destroy anything."

Detectives Jack Benton and Edward McLaughlin said after Coffey's arrest that the defendant admitted setting the fire because he was reprimanded for missing rings on his rounds of the building as a watchman.

Area Is Lashed By Wind, Rain

Thundershowers accompanied by strong gusts of wind, sometimes up to 45 miles an hour, raked this area Thursday night and felled at least three trees across highways, according to the sheriff's office.

The sheriff's office received reports that large trees were felled by the wind on Route 209 opposite the Stone Ridge Methodist Church, on Springtown Road, Tillson and on Route 213.

Highway crews were notified and cleared the highways to permit normal traffic.

Rhinebeck State Police reported a large tree was felled by the wind across Route 9 near Rhinebeck. Traffic was rerouted more than three hours until the tree was removed by highway crews.

Fall From Car

Scott confirmed the report that Mrs. Tucker panicked when the car went out of control, and while in panic she opened the door. Coroner McCardle said there apparently was no reason for the door to open, as the vehicle was not sprung or damaged.

Mrs. Tucker evidently attempted to get out of the car and opened the door before she plunged out of the vehicle.

A toy collie, black with brown around the eyes, apparently escaped from the car and today is missing. The dog is named "Checkers and belonged to the Tuckers. Tucker inserted a classified advertisement in today's issue of The Freeman, listing his Chicago telephone number. A reward is offered by the owner if the dog is found and returned.

Jockey Scott told a Freeman reporter today that he races horses "all over America." Tucker appeared to be in a state of shock and could not be interviewed.

Gallows Death

for the Supreme Court decision, to Ramleh Prison. There, his spiritual adviser, the Rev. William Hull, visited him in his cell.

The Canada-born Protestant clergyman reported later that Eichmann was not sad but was defiant. Eichmann, who earlier had expressed a belief in God but belonged to no church, refused to reaffirm a faith in Christ.

'Ready to Die'

"I do not have time to read the Bible," Eichmann told the minister. "I have peace in my heart. I am ready to die."

Eichmann was told of the rejection of the clemency appeals—but not that he was to die that night—about 8 p.m. He asked for and received a bottle of red wine. He drank half of it.

Outside a thick fog set in. Guards turned on flood lights and police set up roadblocks to divert traffic from the prison, a former British fort, on the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road.

Eichmann learned death was at hand only when guards came to his cell to take him the 50 yards to the gallows. He walked steadily to the execution room handcuffed to two guards. He made only one request—to stop and blow his nose.

Dressed in brown slacks and a brown shirt open at the neck, he mounted the scaffold by a single step and stood directly under the noose which was suspended over his head on a chain. His hands and ankles were bound with white cloth.

Felt Belief Correct

As the noose was fitted over his head, Eichmann half closed his eyes and looked downward at the floor. As the black hood was proferred, Eichmann said: "I don't need that."

"My belief was correct," he said. "After a short while, gentlemen, we shall all meet again. So is the fate of all men. I have lived believing in God and I die believing in God.

"Long live Germany. Long live Argentina. Long live Austria. These are the countries with which I have been most closely associated and I shall not forget them. I greet my wife, my family and my friends. I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

Eichmann, the father of four sons, was born in Austria, served Germany and hid out after World War II in Argentina.

Eichmann's wife, Vera, was the only member of his family to see him in prison.

Had Requested Cremation

"Adolf Eichmann's will includes a request that his remains be cremated."

Eichmann went to his death 2 years and 21 days after Israeli commandos captured him in Argentina and smuggled him to Israel by air, ending a world-wide search by Jewish agents that began on the smoldering ashes of the Nazi empire.

The swiftness of the execution after the rejection of the appeals surprised Israelis and many others around the world. Some leading Jews had urged that Eichmann be spared as a living reminder of Nazi horrors. Many others, however, urged death. Not one Israeli newspaper pleaded for Eichmann's life.

has accused the government of having a "no win" policy in the cold war.

Rusk rejected the charge but said "there is one point on which we do have to show some caution and that is the notion that victory in its usual sense is to be achieved by sudden military means."

He declared that the United States is promoting development of the Atlantic community, building up its alliances, trying to expand trade, assiting countries in need and strengthening the solidarity of the Free World.

Aluminum Overcapacity Dulls Profit Outlook

Q) "I own a few shares of Alcoa and would like your investment opinion of the issue along with other aluminums like Kaiser and Reynolds. I'm interested in a safe dividend—paying stock primarily, although some growth would help." — J. C.

A) I think that the aluminums as a whole have very little investment appeal at this time.

Producers of the metal, encouraged by the Federal Government, have built their capacity to a level considerably above present needs. As a result, the price structure of the group has been soft, and profit margins have been anything but satisfactory.

The forces of supply and demand may eventually draw closer, permitting earnings of the group to show steady improvement. But until the fundamentals brighten, I'd prefer to keep my money in more promising situations.

Accordingly, I feel you would do well to avoid Kaiser and Reynolds and to eliminate Alcoa from your list. I suggest Marshall Field (NYSE) as a replacement, an issue which I believe will give you a good yield, relative security, and gradual appreciation.

Q) "Five years ago I put $34,000 in a mutual fund because of my total lack of knowledge regarding almost all individual stocks. These shares are now worth $53,000 on the market. Because of someone else's advice I also own a big block of El Paso Electric shares having a market valuation of over $17,000. To raise money, I must sell some $15,000 of my stock holdings. Which do you think should go?"—G. J.

A) I recommend that you raise the $15,000 by selling your entire block of El Paso Electric. It's not often that I suggest selling out shares of a good utility. However, I believe such a move is justified in this instance for two reasons.

First, your mutual fund has shown a satisfactory performance.

Secondly, El Paso shares sell at a high multiple of earnings, perhaps higher than they deserve relative to the company's over-all growth pattern and near term potentials.

Suit Justified, Vols Argued as Fire Ruins Home

NEW YORK (AP) — A widow with three children has been advised that she has a right to seek $2,000 in damages because her Long Island home was destroyed by fire while two volunteer fire companies argued over who had the right to fight it.

Mrs. Agnes Matlock said members of the New Hyde Park Fire Department and the Garden City Park Fire Department argued for 15 minutes while her house in New Hyde Park burned.

Her claim for damages had been turned down by State Supreme Court Justice Fred J. Munder, who said she had no cause of action against either fire department.

Thursday, five justices of the State Supreme Court's Appellate Division ruled that she was justified in her suit.

Driver Is Fined $50, Loses License For Two Months

Charged with reckless driving and driving a car while his ability was impaired, William G. Kahrs, of 421 Wilbur Avenue, pleaded guilty Thursday night before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster.

Kahrs was fined $50 on the charge of driving while ability was impaired. On the reckless driving charge he was fined $25, but payment was suspended and his driver's license was suspended for 60 days.

Deputies said the car ran off the right side of the road, went through a guard rail and a service station and then proceeded 500 yards to a parking area where the driver was apprehended by the deputies.

Ticker Tape Lags

gress to appropriate $750.000 for an inquiry by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

"Congress ought to know what influences the stock market and how these influences affect the health of the business and credit systems," Patman said.

Irregularties Found

The Securities and Exchange Commission is investigating the securities industry and has uncovered some irregularities. Patman said the SEC probe is "good as far as it goes." He added that he wanted the congressional inquiry to be considered and well designed.

Earlier William Cary, chairman of the SEC, had denied a published report that his agency had ordered an investigation "to explore its suspicions that stock market professionals' set the stage" for the plunge. He said he saw no evidence that professionals touched it off.

As for the future, Henri de la Chapelle of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis in Los Angeles said, "the swing of the pendulum is now at its peak and should die down over a period of days. The total decline in the last six months is almost a record and should mark a bottom that should hold for a summer rise for at least a 50 per cent retracement."

Four Water Breaks

Four water line breaks were found on Abeel Street in the past 10 days, Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent reported today. They were discovered after reported lowered pressure, he said, and location and repair were made difficult because none resulted in seepage or undermining of surface area. All four were between Hudson and Dunn Streets.

Eichmann Reaction

Suddenness One Critical View Of Nazi's Death

LONDON (AP)—Israel's swift midnight hanging of Adolf Eichmann evoked surprise around the world today. Few expressed sympathy for the former Nazi officer, but the suddenness of his execution drew scattered murmurs of disapproval.

Across Europe, the frequent comment was: "It was about time."

"He got no better than he deserved," said an elderly housekeeper in West Berlin, where Eichmann once directed the Gestapo department charged with carrying out Hitler's "final solution to the Jewish problem"—extermination.

Partisians Show No Regret

"After all, six million Jews; what can you expect?" commented a messenger boy in Paris.

"The least you can say was that it was a little his own fault, even though he said he followed orders," said a secretary. Many Parisians reacted to the news with a simple Gallic shrug of the shoulders and no regret.

But others expressed shock that Israel executed Eichmann within hours after his appeal for executive clemency had been rejected. Some said he should have been spared.

"Hanging won't do any good after all these years," said London bus driver Sidney Baines.

Factory worker George Clark added: "They hanged him for someone else. He's only taking the blame. What about the generals above him?"

The news reached Europe too late for morning newspapers to do more than splash big bold headlines on brief stories. Governmental and editorial reaction came slowly.

Bonn Maintains Silence

The Bonn government maintained official silence on the execution today, but previously had condemned the Nazi slaughter of Jews and praised Israel for its "remarkably objective" Eichmann trial.

Random questioning of West Germans on their way to work this morning brought general approval of the execution.

"He deserved his fate," said postman Robert Muench. "I'm satisfied that this terrible Eichmann story is now over."

Josef Wendel, a young bank clerk, said, "Eichmann certainly deserved no mercy. But I cannot approve of capital punishment. Eichmann had no right to do what he did to the Jews. But do the Jews have a right to kill Eichmann?"

There is no capital punishment in West Germany under the post-war constitution.

In Argentina, the government ordered guards around the Israeli Embassy and Jewish synagogues and businesses after getting word of Eichmann's execution.

Many Argentines still are resentful that Israeli commandos kidnaped Eichmann from his Argentine hideout and spirited him out of the country to Israel for trial two years ago. Anti-Semitic incidents have increased in frequency in recent weeks.

The Soviet Union coupled the announcement of Eichmann's execution with a bitter propaganda blast at surviving Nazis it charged now run West Germany.

Romulo Takes Post

MANILA (AP)—Carlos P. Romulo, former ambassador to the United States, was sworn in today as president of the University of the Philippines.

The veteran diplomat, one-time president of the United Nations General Assembly, pledged he will keep the university "a secular institution free from any religious or political leanings" and make it "a citadel of truth."

Humphrey Urges Income Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., today urged a cut in individual and corporate income taxes "to strengthen the economy and the stock market."

"It will take more than expressions of friendship and cooperation from the White House and other areas of government to strengthen the market," Humphrey said in a statement.

"What is needed is action," he said. "Delay by Congress or the administration will bring further economic trouble."

The assistant Senate Democratic leader, who talked Thursday in New York with stock exchange officials and other financial leaders, proposed cuts of 2 to 4 per cent in corporation levies and 2 per cent in personal taxes.

Meanwhile, the recent gyrations of the stock market prompted Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the Senate-House Economic Committee, to ask Congress to approve a $750,000 investigation of the market by the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told the House Ways and Means Committee Thursday the administration was not supporting any immediate income tax cut.

The Treasury has said, however, that such cuts probably will be proposed next year as a part of a tax overhaul measure which will include some provisions to increase revenues in other ways.

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S. Military Academy, at its social best, will fete new graduates and alumni with gala and solemn activities during traditional "June Week," June 2 through 6.

The festive week will be highlighted by a visit from the commander-in-chief, President Kennedy, who will deliver the commencement address June 6.

Activities ranging from alumni picnics to cadet weddings under the traditional arch of sabers make June Week the best annual social occasion on the west bank of the Hudson River.

Fifty-seven of the 601 graduating cadets will be married in the academy's chapels from June 6 through 10.

RFK Bid Would UnmaskRedParty

.WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has petitioned the Subversive Activities Control Board to require 10 persons to register with him as members of the Communist party.

With this action Thursday the government opened another front in its campaign to unmask the party, its leaders and members.

The Supreme Court cleared the way for the Justice Department last June when it ordered the party to register with the board under provisions of the 1950 Internal Securities Act as an agency of Moscow. The party appealed but the court last October refused to reconsider.

10 Identified

Kennedy said in his announcement that the 10 persons were elected to the party's national committee in December 1959. He identified them in separate petitions as:

Two Convicted in '53

Mrs. Tormey and Weinstock were convicted in 1953 and served prison terms of two and three years respectively, on charges of violating the Smith Act which prohibits the teaching of violent overthrow of the government.

The 10 named in the petitions have 20 days in which to reply. The board then will conduct hearings and its decision in each case will become final only after review by the courts.

The maximum penalty for failure of an individual to register—if he refuses to do so after the board orders him to and the courts uphold the board—would be five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Would Fight Action

Lima said in Oakland he had no intention of registering and that he would fight Kennedy's action through hearings of the board and in the courts. He called the 1950 Internal Security Act a "dragnet law under which a great majority of Americans could be put in prison without trial or evidence."

In Seattle, Nelson, who has previously stated he would "sooner go to prison than register," said he would have no comment until he had some official notification.

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Reacting from the gains made in its big recovery, the stock market pendulum swung lower early this afternoon in heavy trading.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.60 to 223.90, with industrials off 2.30, rails down .70 and utilities 1.10.

By ordinary standards it was a substantial loss but it was trivial compared with the wide swings made earlier this week.

Key stocks fell from fractions to 1 or 2 points. The volatile "growth" stocks and other high-priced issues took losses ranging to about half a dozen points.

The ticker tape ran as much as 19 minutes behind transactions, then began to catch up gradually. At the comparable time Thursday it ran 43 minutes late and grew progressively later until it was one hour and 55 minutes late at the close.

Generally, the biggest gainers in Thursday's upswing were the losers today, and there seemed little discrimination about the selling.

A T & T sank 2⅛ to 111⅛ and then widened the loss slightly.

As trading wore into the afternoon, IBM and Xerox were off about 6, Polaroid 5, Litton Industries more than 4.

Watchman Pleads Innocent to Arson

Charged with third degree arson as the result of police investigation of a $50,000 two-alarm fire at the Salvation Army's Social Service Center, 84 Cottage Street, Poughkeepsie, Alfred Coffey, 34, night watchman at the Army's center, pleaded innocent Thursday.

City Judge Milton Haven adjourned hearing until June 7, after Coffey said he wanted an attorney.

Coffey was accused of pouring turpentine on the second floor of the building about 3 a. m. Tuesday and igniting it with a match. Coffey said in court yesterday, "It was an accident. I didn't want to set the place on fire. I didn't want to destroy anything."

Detectives Jack Benton and Edward McLaughlin said after Coffey's arrest that the defendant admitted setting the fire because he was reprimanded for missing rings on his rounds of the building as a watchman.

Area Is Lashed By Wind, Rain

Thundershowers accompanied by strong gusts of wind, sometimes up to 45 miles an hour, raked this area Thursday night and felled at least three trees across highways, according to the sheriff's office.

The sheriff's office received reports that large trees were felled by the wind on Route 209 opposite the Stone Ridge Methodist Church, on Springtown Road, Tillson and on Route 213.

Highway crews were notified and cleared the highways to permit normal traffic.

Rhinebeck State Police reported a large tree was felled by the wind across Route 9 near Rhinebeck. Traffic was rerouted more than three hours until the tree was removed by highway crews.

Fall From Car

Scott confirmed the report that Mrs. Tucker panicked when the car went out of control, and while in panic she opened the door. Coroner McCardle said there apparently was no reason for the door to open, as the vehicle was not sprung or damaged.

Mrs. Tucker evidently attempted to get out of the car and opened the door before she plunged out of the vehicle.

A toy collie, black with brown around the eyes, apparently escaped from the car and today is missing. The dog is named "Checkers and belonged to the Tuckers. Tucker inserted a classified advertisement in today's issue of The Freeman, listing his Chicago telephone number. A reward is offered by the owner if the dog is found and returned.

Jockey Scott told a Freeman reporter today that he races horses "all over America." Tucker appeared to be in a state of shock and could not be interviewed.

Eichmann was told of the rejection of the clemency appeals—but not that he was to die that night—about 8 p.m. He asked for and received a bottle of red wine. He drank half of it.

Outside a thick fog set in. Guards turned on flood lights and police set up roadblocks to divert traffic from the prison, a former British fort, on the Tel Aviv-Jerusalem road.

Eichmann learned death was at hand only when guards came to his cell to take him the 50 yards to the gallows. He walked steadily to the execution room handcuffed to two guards. He made only one request—to stop and blow his nose.

Dressed in brown slacks and a brown shirt open at the neck, he mounted the scaffold by a single step and stood directly under the noose which was suspended over his head on a chain. His hands and ankles were bound with white cloth.

Felt Belief Correct

As the noose was fitted over his head, Eichmann half closed his eyes and looked downward at the floor. As the black hood was proferred, Eichmann said: "I don't need that."

"My belief was correct," he said. "After a short while, gentlemen, we shall all meet again. So is the fate of all men. I have lived believing in God and I die believing in God.

"Long live Germany. Long live Argentina. Long live Austria. These are the countries with which I have been most closely associated and I shall not forget them. I greet my wife, my family and my friends. I had to obey the rules of war and my flag. I am ready."

Eichmahn, the father of four sons, was born in Austria, served Germany and hid out after World War II in Argentina.

Eichmann's wife, Vera, was the only member of his family to see him in prison.

Had Requested Cremation

"Adolf Eichmann's will includes a request that his remains be cremated."

Eichmann went to his death 2 years and 21 days after Israeli commandos captured him in Argentina and smuggled him to Israel by air, ending a world-wide search by Jewish agents that began on the smoldering ashes of the Nazi empire.

The swiftness of the execution after the rejection of the appeals surprised Israelis and many others around the world. Some leading Jews had urged that Eichmann be spared as a living reminder of Nazi horrors. Many others, however, urged death. Not one Israeli newspaper pleaded for Eichmann's life.

Rusk Slates . . .

has accused the government of having a "no win" policy in the cold war.

Rusk rejected the charge but said "there is one point on which we do have to show some caution and that is the notion that victory in its usual sense is to be achieved by sudden military means."

He declared that the United States is promoting development of the Atlantic community, building up its alliances, trying to expand trade, assiting countries in need and strengthening the solidarity of the Free World.

Aluminum Overcapacity Dulls Profit Outlook

Q) "I own a few shares of Alcoa and would like your investment opinion of the issue along with other aluminums like Kaiser and Reynolds. I'm interested in a safe dividend—paying stock primarily, although some growth would help." — J. C.

A) I think that the aluminums as a whole have very little investment appeal at this time.

Producers of the metal, encouraged by the Federal Government, have built their capacity to a level considerably above present needs. As a result, the price structure of the group has been soft, and profit margins have been anything but satisfactory.

The forces of supply and demand may eventually draw closer, permitting earnings of the group to show steady improvement. But until the fundamentals brighten, I'd prefer to keep my money in more promising situations.

Accordingly, I feel you would do well to avoid Kaiser and Reynolds and to eliminate Alcoa from your list. I suggest Marshall Field (NYSE) as a replacement, an issue which I believe will give you a good yield, relative security, and gradual appreciation.

Q) "Five years ago I put $34,000 in a mutual fund because of my total lack of knowledge regarding almost all individual stocks. These shares are now worth $53,000 on the market. Because of someone else's advice I also own a big block of El Paso Electric shares having a market valuation of over $17,000. To raise money, I must sell some $15,000 of my stock holdings. Which do you think should go?"—G. J.

A) I recommend that you raise the $15,000 by selling your entire block of El Paso Electric. It's not often that I suggest selling out shares of a good utility. However, I believe such a move is justified in this instance for two reasons.

First, your mutual fund has shown a satisfactory performance.

Secondly, El Paso shares sell at a high multiple of earnings, perhaps higher than they deserve relative to the company's over-all growth pattern and near term potentials.

Weekend Scout Camporee Opens Saturday at 8:30

Upwards of 750 Boy Scouts and Explorers representing 30 townships in Greene and Ulster Counties are expected at the first World Trails Jambo Camporee scheduled for Saturday and Sunday.

The camporee will take place on the property of the Flatbush Reformed Church, Route 32, Saugerties, four miles north of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge.

Colorful parade ground ceremonies will actually open the weekend camporee Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The highlight event during tomorrow afternoon's program will be a unique "World Trails Scouting Fair," with each troop and Explorer Post staging colorful displays and demonstrations of various scouting countries throughout the world.

Another feature is the traditional campfire scheduled for Saturday night from 8:15 to 9:15 o'clock to which the public is invited. Members of the Half Moon Lodge, National Order of the Arrow, will conduct a colorful and impressive tap-out ceremony at the conclusion of the campfire.

Worship services will be held on the Camporee grounds Sunday morning. Scouts and Explorers of the Catholic faith will attend a field Mass while on another section of the grounds Scouts and Explorers of the Protestant faith will participate in their service.

NEW YORK (AP) — A widow with three children has been advised that she has a right to seek $2,000 in damages because her Long Island home was destroyed by fire while two volunteer fire companies argued over who had the right to fight it.

Mrs. Agnes Matlock said members of the New Hyde Park Fire Department and the Garden City Park Fire Department argued for 15 minutes while her house in New Hyde Park burned.

Her claim for damages had been turned down by State Supreme Court Justice Fred J. Munder, who said she had no cause of action against either fire department.

Thursday, five justices of the State Supreme Court's Appellate Division ruled that she was justified in her suit.

Driver Is Fined $50, Loses License For Two Months

Charged with reckless driving and driving a car while his ability was impaired, William G. Kahrs, of 421 Wilbur Avenue, pleaded guilty Thursday night before Justice of the Peace Arthur A. Reilly, Town of Ulster.

Kahrs was fined $50 on the charge of driving while ability was impaired. On the reckless driving charge he was fined $25, but payment was suspended and his driver's license was suspended for 60 days.

Deputies said the car ran off the right side of the road, went through a guard rail and a service station and then proceeded 500 yards to a parking area where the driver was apprehended by the deputies.

Ticker Tape Lags

gress to appropriate $750,000 for an inquiry by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee.

"Congress ought to know what influences the stock market and how these influences affect the health of the business and credit systems," Patman said.

Irregularties Found

The Securities and Exchange Commission is investigating the securities industry and has uncovered some irregularities. Patman said the SEC probe is "good as far as it goes." He added that he wanted the congressional inquiry to be considered and well designed.

Earlier William Cary, chairman of the SEC, had denied a published report that his agency had ordered an investigation "to explore its suspicions that stock market professionals' set the stage" for the plunge. He said he saw no evidence that professionals touched it off.

As for the future, Henri de la Chapelle of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis in Los Angeles said, "the swing of the pendulum is now at its peak and should die down over a period of days. The total decline in the last six months is almost a record and should mark a bottom that should hold for a summer rise for at least a 50 per cent retracement."

Four Water Breaks

Four water line breaks were found on Abeel Street in the past 10 days, Edmund T. Cloonan, water department superintendent reported today. They were discovered after reported lowered pressure, he said, and location and repair were made difficult because none resulted in seepage or undermining of surface area. All four were between Hudson and Dunn Streets.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A crisis in confidence is what businessmen, stock traders, and almost everyone else fear most.

And the thing they had been fearing for several weeks seemed to be taking sudden and sickening shape Monday. Businessmen as well as stock owners breathed easier Tuesday afternoon when the market came back—whether from a return of confidence, from an opportunity to buy bargains, from a chance to make a quick buck, didn't seem to matter.

Drop Taken in Stride

The five-month drop in stock averages from their peaks had been taken in stride by most top business executives around the country. They didn't like it but they had been expecting it.

Even the sharper rate of decline in recent weeks after the steel crisis, with its overtones of a fundamental clash between government and business over Washington's role in setting industrial policies, left many of them cautious but still optimistic about the near term outlook for business.

Executives were perhaps more calm about it in other sections of the country than in New York where daily market fluctuations, and especially rumors, seem to have a greater if passing impact on business thinking.

Almost without exception, business leaders who have expressed opinions have said that a shakeout in the stock market, if orderly, might be a good thing in disguise, by deflating some stock prices way out of line with earning prospects.

Always Big 'Unless'

But to this they always added a big "unless"—unless the general public lost confidence. The fear was that this might spread from selling of stocks to curtailing consumer spending.

The rush to sell stocks all day Monday and early Tuesday, with the general public, the small holders, credited with doing most of the dumping, seemed to bear out their worst fears—a crisis in confidence.

This week's fluctuations in the stock prices won't settle the question as to whether a real and lasting loss of confidence in the outlook for business in particular and the economy in general has developed.

Most observers lean strongly to the belief that the loss was largely confined to panicky amateurs—newcomers to the stock market who had thought that prices must always go up, that tomorrow they could always sell their shares, no matter how highly priced, for more than they had paid for them.

But if it spreads no further than the market, the jolt to the economy may be only a passing one.

Sculptor Works On Portraying Deity in Jewel

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Sculptor Oskar J. W. Hansen is fashioning what he hopes will become a second Holy Grail. He wants nations to compete for the prize in the name of peace.

It is to be a communion chalice of gold and precious jewels which he plans to give to the world to promote peace.

Hansen, a native of Norway, has completed the focal heart of the chalice, an image of God carved in a 507½-carat piece of rose-colored beryl—a stone as big as a golf ball.

A New York mineralogist and gem broker has appraised the carved gem at $100,000, Hansen reported.

Hansen said that to his knowledge no one else has ever portrayed the Deity in a jewel.

Always Big 'Unless'

But to this they always added a big "unless"—unless the general public lost confidence. The fear was that this might spread from selling of stocks to curtailing consumer spending.

The rush to sell stocks all day Monday and early Tuesday, with the general public, the small holders, credited with doing most of the dumping, seemed to bear out their worst fears—a crisis in confidence.

This week's fluctuations in the stock prices won't settle the question as to whether a real and lasting loss of confidence in the outlook for business in particular and the economy in general has developed.

Most observers lean strongly to the belief that the loss was largely confined to panicky amateurs—newcomers to the stock market who had thought that prices must always go up, that tomorrow they could always sell their shares, no matter how highly priced, for more than they had paid for them.

But if it spreads no further than the market, the jolt to the economy may be only a passing one.

Sculptor Works On Portraying Deity in Jewel

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Sculptor Oskar J. W. Hansen is fashioning what he hopes will become a second Holy Grail. He wants nations to compete for the prize in the name of peace.

It is to be a communion chalice of gold and precious jewels which he plans to give to the world to promote peace.

Hansen, a native of Norway, has completed the focal heart of the chalice, an image of God carved in a 507½-carat piece of rose-colored beryl—a stone as big as a golf ball.

A New York mineralogist and gem broker has appraised the carved gem at $100,000, Hansen reported.

Hansen said that to his knowledge no one else has ever portrayed the Deity in a jewel.

State Grange

New York State Grange, the state's oldest and largest farm organization, has had one of its most successful years from the standpoint of legislative action.

Kenneth H. Fake of Cobleskill, New York, legislative representative, has filed his annual report with county leaders, asserting that almost all of the bills with which the grange was concerned were approved by the Legislature. One grange sponsored bill brought clarification of the use of farm tractors, with snow blade attached, by farmers removing snow for others without pay. The law eliminates any question of the legality of such use in plowing a neighbor's or the church's driveway as a courtesy.

The action was described as very important to a great many farmers. Other Grange approved legislation authorizes a study to determine the economic impact upon New York State milk production and dairy farmers of a National Sanitation Act. Local dairy farmers are apprehensive as to the possible importation of fluid milk from western states. Also, amending the Agriculture and Markets Law to extend the weight and measure disclosure provision to the sale of additional foods and food products, including pre-packaged foods. New laws extend the work of a temporary state commission on resources planning for another year and provide for the establishment of the uniform state inspection program as of March 1, 1963, for meat and meat products. Further restraint is placed on the dealer to avoid manipulation to the apparent detriment of the farmer milk producer. The Agriculture and Markets law was amended in relation to the payment of dues by members of milk producers cooperatives.

Other new laws relieve the farmer from having to maintain splash guards on so-called dollar license fee trucks when those trucks are operated not in excess of one and one-half miles on the highway; requires, in appropriation of private property for public use, payment to the owner of sixty per cent of the appraisal value in the event of a dispute as to value; requires the social welfare department to study the methods and practices of granting relief to welfare recipients; amends the Conservation Law to permit the owner of a motor vehicle damaged by a deer on the highway to have possession of the deer carcass; amends the vehicle and traffic law concerning traffic regulations on the county roads to facilitate movement of milk, feed and fuel oil the year around; continuous financial support of the Extension Service Association, in amount eqqual to that currently appropriated.

Fake's report noted that the Grange's long range agricultural planning committee has recommended that more consideration might be given to the farmer as to the general farm practices, including farm management and the merchandising and packaging of farm produce, rather than the old methods of making two blades of grass grow where one grew before.

Conners Will Speak June 9 At Legion Life Member Fete

Dr. S. Herrick Conners of Cohoes, whose nomination is expected this year for New York State Legion commander, will address the Saturday, June 9, life membership award dinner planned by Kingston Post 150.

Dr. Conners, who is superintendent of schools in Cohoes, was confirmed as the special speaker following efforts of Commander George Heppner of the local Post.

Will Honor Three

The June 9 dinner will pay special tribute to three local Legionnaires—the Rev. Clarance E. Brown, former mayor Eugene B. Carey and Roy Jacob.

Following is the history of Carey's Legion activity:

Carey has been most active in legion affairs since Post 150 was organized July 8, 1919. He was elected post adjutant under the first commander Rudolph Dittus. He, Dittus and Walter H. Gill comprised the first appointed committee of organization and he was one of the original signers. Of the eight elected men at the organizational meeting, he is now the sole survivor and is still active in Legion affairs.

He served as adjutant under numerous commanders: Thomas Coughlin 1920-21, A. R. Leighton 1921-22, Stanley Matthews 1923-24, Herman DuBois 1924-25, George Potter 1926-27, A. J. Murphy 1927-28, and Conrad J. Heiselman 1928-29.

Commander in 1926

In August 1923 under Commander Matthews, Adjutant Carey was appointed to the committee to call on Mrs. Cecelia O'Reilly for the purpose of purchasing the land on which the Legion Building now stands. On March 17, 1924, the deed was delivered to the Legion.

Carey was elected commander in 1926. He is the seventh post commander and during his administration dedication services were held in the Memorial Building. During his year of leadership the membership increased to 526 and became the ninth largest post in New York State.

In later years he served as Post Service officer and was most sought after as representative of the ex-service man. He was asked for help and advise by many seeking relief and veteran counseling, doing much civic work whether or not for Legionnaires. He was a member of the famous Legion Drum Corps, playing in the drum section, and in 1957 took over the leadership as captain.

Recalled in 30-31

During the depression years 1930-31, economic conditions were such that no one wanted to take the commandership, so the Legion's friend "Gene" was called back again and served as the 12th commander. He was the only man to serve more than one term. Even in that year, 500 members paid their dues. Much relief work was done and all requests were filled to the extent that the welfare fund was exhausted. In this second term his accomplishments were many.

Carey was born in the Ponckhockie section, the son of Michael and Jane Edwards Carey, attended Kingston schools and graduated from Ulster Academy. He entered the military service in 1917. He was appointed an army field clerk in the Adjutant General's office Dec. 26, 1917. After serving in the message center at Chaumont and in the headquarters of the Second Army in Toul, France, he returned to the states and was discharged April 6, 1919.

Carey was the Democratic nominee for mayor in Kingston in 1931 and took office Jan. 1, 1932, serving a successful term. During this time, through the efforts of Philip Eltinge, the then Armory Building on Broadway and Hoffman Streets, was deeded to the city for $1 and became its municipal auditorium. He also helped enact the law making taxes payable in two installments. Wading pools in Hasbrouck and Forsyth Parks were completed and with the help of Mrs. Charles Cantine and other ladies, proper feeds and drains were installed for the pools.

Carey was honored as a 50-year member by John N. Cordts Hose Co. No. 8 in 1961.

He has been a member of the Knights of Columbus and is also the oldest member of the famous Rondout Yacht Club.

Carey and his wife, Katherine A. Carey, live at 143 Harding Avenue. They have a daughter, Sheila, wife of James Matteo, and they are the parents of three boys. Matteo is one of a very few to receive the Distinguished Service Cross for his service in Korea. Their home is in Sunset Park.

Harpists Will Play

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Unlike the legendary lady who took her harp to a party but no one asked her to play, there'll be plenty of harp playing at the University of Illinois during a harp festival early in March.

Some 80 harpists from 15 states and Canada will meet to rehearse together and play a final concert conducted by Alice Chalifoux, Cleveland Symphony solo harpist.

She replaces Carlos Salzedo, former director of the Summer Harp Colony of America at Camden, Maine, who died last August.

The harp festival will be dedicated to his memory.

Gill comprised the first appointed committee of organization and he was one of the original signers. Of the eight elected men at the organizational meeting, he is now the sole survivor and is still active in Legion affairs.

He served as adjutant under numerous commanders: Thomas Coughlin 1920-21, A. R. Leighton 1921-22, Stanley Matthews 1923-24, Herman DuBois 1924-25, George Potter 1926-27, A. J. Murphy 1927-28, and Conrad J. Heiselman 1928-29.

Commander in 1926

In August 1923 under Commander Matthews, Adjutant Carey was appointed to the committee to call on Mrs. Cecelia O'Reilly for the purpose of purchasing the land on which the Legion Building now stands. On March 17, 1924, the deed was delivered to the Legion.

Carey was elected commander in 1926. He is the seventh post commander and during his administration dedication services were held in the Memorial Building. During his year of leadership the membership increased to 526 and became the ninth largest post in New York State.

In later years he served as Post Service officer and was most sought after as representative of the ex-service man. He was asked for help and advise by many seeking relief and veteran counseling, doing much civic work whether or not for Legionnaires. He was a member of the famous Legion Drum Corps, playing in the drum section, and in 1957 took over the leadership as captain.

Recalled in 30-31

During the depression years 1930-31, economic conditions were such that no one wanted to take the commandership, so the Legion's friend "Gene" was called back again and served as the 12th commander. He was the only man to serve more than one term. Even in that year, 500 members paid their dues. Much relief work was done and all requests were filled to the extent that the welfare fund was exhausted. In this second term his accomplishments were many.

Carey was born in the Ponckhockie section, the son of Michael and Jane Edwards Carey, attended Kingston schools and graduated from Ulster Academy. He entered the military service in 1917. He was appointed an army field clerk in the Adjutant General's office Dec. 26, 1917. After serving in the message center at Chaumont and in the headquarters of the Second Army in Toul, France, he returned to the states and was discharged April 6, 1919.

Carey was the Democratic nominee for mayor in Kingston in 1931 and took office Jan. 1, 1932, serving a successful term. During this time, through the efforts of Philip Eltinge, the then Armory Building on Broadway and Hoffman Streets, was deeded to the city for $1 and became its municipal auditorium. He also helped enact the law making taxes payable in two installments. Wading pools in Hasbrouck and Forsyth Parks were completed and with the help of Mrs. Charles Cantine and other ladies, proper feeds and drains were installed for the pools.

Carey was honored as a 50-year member by John N. Cordts Hose Co. No. 8 in 1961.

He has been a member of the Knights of Columbus and is also the oldest member of the famous Rondout Yacht Club.

Carey and his wife, Katherine A. Carey, live at 143 Harding Avenue. They have a daughter, Sheila, wife of James Matteo, and they are the parents of three boys. Matteo is one of a very few to receive the Distinguished Service Cross for his service in Korea. Their home is in Sunset Park.

Harpists Will Play

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Unlike the legendary lady who took her harp to a party but no one asked her to play, there'll be plenty of harp playing at the University of Illinois during a harp festival early in March.

Some 80 harpists from 15 states and Canada will meet to rehearse together and play a final concert conducted by Alice Chalifoux, Cleveland Symphony solo harpist.

She replaces Carlos Salzedo, former director of the Summer Harp Colony of America at Camden, Maine, who died last August.

The harp festival will be dedicated to his memory.

P-TA's Council Seeks Help for Part-Time Pupil

The executive council of the Woodstock elementary school P-TA met at the Woodstock School on May 28 and held preliminary discussions on a remarkable suggestion made anonymously by one of the respondents to the "Overhaulics Anonymous" quiz.

The questionnaire was sent out recently to all parents of Woodstock elementary pupils to ascertain if there should be a P-TA at all, and if so, what it should do. Many responded and the Council is most grateful to them all.

The most intriguing response of all was in the form of a query: Can't we do something for the children who will be on half shifts this fall—something to broaden their education and keep them off the streets?

The Council feels that Woodstock, one of the most richly endowed communities in the country in terms of creative people, certainly can do something. Almost immediately, volunteers spoke up willing to help, but of course many more are needed. Literally dozens of possibilities were suggested for fall and winter activities for these children, from the graphic and performing arts through folk singing, nature walks, auto mechanics, carpentry, field trips to industrial concerns and public services.

At 8 o'clock, Thursday, June 7, at the general P-TA meeting, these plans will be discussed and organized. Refreshments will be served.

Joseph Bundy, Onteora Student, Is Prize Winner

Joseph Bundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Bundy of RFD 1, Box 398, West Hurley, was selected as winner of second grand prize in the annual Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation lamp design and building contest. The award was made at a luncheon which took place in the corporation's auditorium in Poughkeepsie early in May.

More than 100 participants representing 35 schools competed in this year's contest. Only first place winners in each of the 35 schools became eligible for entry to be judged in the grand award competition. Selection of local winners was based on compliance to basic specification—apparent lighting efficiency, appearance, practicability, originality of design and craftsmanship.

In winning this award, Joseph Bundy received prize money totalling $50. He received $10 for being local first prize winner; $40 for the second place grand award prize and adds his name to the list of Onteora grand award prize winners dating back to the year 1954.

More On Italy: By Schimmerling

A piano for every student: In summer, Arturo B. Michelangelo teaches music in Arezzo. In winter, he goes to Turin. Here the city fathers turned over to him a mansion but Fiat Auto gave the furniture; in addition twenty five grand pianos. As there are exactly 20 students, each has his own piano. Only three students are Italians. Among the 17 foreigners are some Americans, too. Tuition fee is $16 monthly; duration of the term—six months.

This is truly international: On May 30 of this year, a British orchestra (Philharmonic London) under the baton of an Italian conductor (Carlo Maria Giulini) will perform in an Austrian concert (Vienna Music Festival) German music (Beethoven) with a Russian violinist (David Oistrakh). Opinion differs: some might say: Beethoven is not German but Austrian, and Oistrakh is not Russian but Jewish. Never mind what they are; it is a great thing. I believe that musicians represent people better than politicians.

Bravo Italia: It is not always the richest country where money is abuntly available for cultural purposes. Take, for example, the following gigantic projects in the field of music publication in Italy: (1) A collection of 40 records, representing an anthology of Italian music from its origins to the present day; (2) a 22-volume set of the complete works by Claudo Monteverdi, to be completed before 1967 in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the composer's birth; (3) A Ricordi publication of all 350 concertos by Antonio Vivaldi; and (4) last but not least, the tenth album of hitherto unpublished piano compositions by Rossini, sponsored by the Rossini Foundation of Pesaro (the composer's birthplace).

And a Toscanini biography, too: Since a biography of the great conductor means actually the history of one century of music, the title "Un secolo di musica" is fully justified. The author, Filippo Sacchi, one of Italy's leading music critics, was a personal friend of Toscanini. The book was published in 1961 by Longanesi in Milan—H. A. SCHIMMERLING.

League Urges Public Support Youth Center

Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, president of the Woodstock League of Women Voters has expressed hope of the League for the continued support of the Youth Center of Woodstock.

In a statement issued this week, she says:

"In the light of the report of the Acting Director of the Youth Center covering its first three months of existence, the League of Women Voters feels that now is the time for continued action by the community in support of the splendid work already accomplished and that planned for the future by these young people."

"They have demonstrated their ability to plan, direct, execute, and to raise money on their own for their project. (An adult committee, requested by the teenagers themselves, acts in an advisory capacity.")

Mrs. Schwarz went on to say that "this enthusiasm and momentum should not be lost by lack of positive action and support by the community and the Town Board. The sum of money required for re-opening the Center in October is not large—$2,500 minimum — and the young people plan to raise most of this by their own efforts.

"The League of Women Voters urges all members of the community to give their utmost in aid and encouragement to this most worthwhile project. The Town Board has already indicated its intention to explore ways and means of giving maximum possible support to the Center and it is hoped that concrete action may be taken at their next meeting on June 19 in order that plans may go forward during the summer months."

Joseph Bundy, Onteora Student, Is Prize Winner

Joseph Bundy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert D. Bundy of RFD 1, Box 398, West Hurley, was selected as winner of second grand prize in the annual Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation lamp design and building contest. The award was made at a luncheon which took place in the corporation's auditorium in Poughkeepsie early in May.

More than 100 participants representing 35 schools competed in this year's contest. Only first place winners in each of the 35 schools became eligible for entry to be judged in the grand award competition. Take, for example, the following gigantic projects in the field of music publication in Italy: (1) A collection of 40 records, representing an anthology of Italian music from its origins to the present day; (2) a 22-volume set of the complete works by Claudo Monteverdi, to be completed before 1967 in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the composer's birth; (3) A Ricordi publication of all 350 concertos by Antonio Vivaldi; and (4) last but not least, the tenth album of hitherto unpublished piano compositions by Rossini, sponsored by the Rossini Foundation of Pesaro (the composer's birthplace).

And a Toscanini biography, too: Since a biography of the great conductor means actually the history of one century of music, the title "Un secolo di musica" is fully justified. The author, Filippo Sacchi, one of Italy's leading music critics, was a personal friend of Toscanini. The book was published in 1961 by Longanesi in Milan—H. A. SCHIMMERLING.

League Urges Public Support Youth Center

Mrs. Kermit Schwarz, president of the Woodstock League of Women Voters has expressed hope of the League for the continued support of the Youth Center of Woodstock.

In a statement issued this week, she says:

"In the light of the report of the Acting Director of the Youth Center covering its first three months of existence, the League of Women Voters feels that now is the time for continued action by the community in support of the splendid work already accomplished and that planned for the future by these young people."

"They have demonstrated their ability to plan, direct, execute, and to raise money on their own for their project. (An adult committee, requested by the teenagers themselves, acts in an advisory capacity.")

Mrs. Schwarz went on to say that "this enthusiasm and momentum should not be lost by lack of positive action and support by the community and the Town Board. The sum of money required for re-opening the Center in October is not large—$2,500 minimum — and the young people plan to raise most of this by their own efforts.

"The League of Women Voters urges all members of the community to give their utmost in aid and encouragement to this most worthwhile project. The Town Board has already indicated its intention to explore ways and means of giving maximum possible support to the Center and it is hoped that concrete action may be taken at their next meeting on June 19 in order that plans may go forward during the summer months."

Mainbocher Recalls Wedding Outfit Made For Wallis Simpson

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-five years have passed since Mainbocher designed the wedding gown that has been called one of the most photographed, most copied dresses of modern times.

Wallis Warfield Simpson wore it June 3, 1937 at her wedding to the Duke of Windsor, who had given up the British throne six months before to marry "the woman I love." She later gave the dress to the costume institute of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"It was of interest at the time," Mainbocher recalls, "because it was a two-piece dress with a long, simple skirt and the first of the tops where the jacket is not supposed to be removed."

For the last 22 years Mainbocher has had his couture house in New York, and alone among American designers sells only to private clients. But back in the thirties when the royal romance was making headlines, he was a leading couturier in Paris.

"Mrs. Simpson had been my client for some time. When it came to the trousseau she asked me to make it, and also the wedding dress," he remembers.

Although the design was a closely guarded secret, a copy was spirited to the United States and put into production practically at the same time the vows were being exchanged at a French chateau. At first copies were relatively expensive, but soon the famous dress was showing up on the $10 racks.

Mainbocher reminisced about those days.

"She was staying with friends at a chateau near Tours," he said. "She didn't come to Paris at all. I sent a fitter down on Saturdays to spend the day fitting the trousseau. He went five or six Saturdays.

"I myself went down on the Saturday before the wedding to see her in the dress."

The duchess-to-be must have been well pleased. The day before the wedding, a hectic time for most brides, she stopped long enough to send him a picture inscribed "to Mr. Bocher with my grateful thanks. Wallis Warfield."

By addressing him as Mr. Bocher she was paying tribute to a fellow American. For the Chicago-born designer was christened Main Rousseau Bocher—the Main was his mother's Scotch family name and the Rousseau was contributed by his father, an ardent Francophile although he had never been to France. When he opened his Paris salon he discovered the French couldn't pronounce his name, so he ran it together and gave it a French pronunciation — "man-bow-shay."

Short, stocky, whitehaired Mainbocher, who believes in dressing women to look like women, is visited by the duchess when she comes to New York, although he no longer clothes her exclusively.

"She has always been a joy to fit," he says. "She can take a longer fitting at one sitting than most. She has fabulous energy and concentrates on what she's doing."

Although there is indirect evidence to suggest that fish can hear under water, there is no certainty that they do so.

Library Book Fair Will Be Held Here

On June 7 and 8 the Kingston Library will hold a Book Fair at the library, which will be open to the public from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. Displayed in the Children's Room, will be a large number of volumes covering a wide range of interest from the complete works of Ruskin to the tales of Uncle Wiggly.

These books, though unsuitable for the library's collection, are most suitable for private collections. Poor editions, loose bindings, duplications, have kept some from the better shelves; and some are just old timers, still wonderful for rereading and remembering.

Fifty-nine of the 60-volume set of Harvard Classics in near perfect condition are among those to be sold. Lovers of historical novels will uncover many at the Fair, including the works of Costain and Slaughter. Mothers will find, along with the New Mother's Encyclopedia, the same delightful books they enjoyed as children, picture books for the pre-schooler, and career and adventure stories for the older child. Young people, ages nine through 14, will have a chance to build their libraries with the numerous books offered them and for less than the price of a soda. There are many volumes of Shakespeare alongside of those of all the great names in English and American literature; and a good many excellent biographies. One might even, if he so wish, take home 38 volumes of Balzac in English.

In selling these books, which it is unable to use, the library plans the purchase of additional ones.

Miss Marion Bracken was maid of honor for her sister. She wore an orchid-colored floor-length gown and matching veil and carried lilacs and pink tea roses.

Mr. McCauley had his brother, Andrew J. McCauley, for his best man. Robert Nelson was the usher.

Mainbocher Recalls Wedding Outfit Made For Wallis Simpson

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty-five years have passed since Mainbocher designed the wedding gown that has been called one of the most photographed, most copied dresses of modern times.

Wallis Warfield Simpson wore it June 3, 1937 at her wedding to the Duke of Windsor, who had given up the British throne six months before to marry "the woman I love." She later gave the dress to the costume institute of the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

"It was of interest at the time," Mainbocher recalls, "because it was a two-piece dress with a long, simple skirt and the first of the tops where the jacket is not supposed to be removed."

For the last 22 years Mainbocher has had his couture house in New York, and alone among American designers sells only to private clients. But back in the thirties when the royal romance was making headlines, he was a leading couturier in Paris.

"Mrs. Simpson had been my client for some time. When it came to the trousseau she asked me to make it, and also the wedding dress," he remembers.

Although the design was a closely guarded secret, a copy was spirited to the United States and put into production practically at the same time the vows were being exchanged at a French chateau. At first copies were relatively expensive, but soon the famous dress was showing up on the $10 racks.

Mainbocher reminisced about those days.

"She was staying with friends at a chateau near Tours," he said. "She didn't come to Paris at all. I sent a fitter down on Saturdays to spend the day fitting the trousseau. He went five or six Saturdays.

"I myself went down on the Saturday before the wedding to see her in the dress."

The duchess-to-be must have been well pleased. The day before the wedding, a hectic time for most brides, she stopped long enough to send him a picture inscribed "to Mr. Bocher with my grateful thanks. Wallis Warfield."

By addressing him as Mr. Bocher she was paying tribute to a fellow American. For the Chicago-born designer was christened Main Rousseau Bocher—the Main was his mother's Scotch family name and the Rousseau was contributed by his father, an ardent Francophile although he had never been to France. When he opened his Paris salon he discovered the French couldn't pronounce his name, so he ran it together and gave it a French pronunciation — "man-bow-shay."

Short, stocky, whitehaired Mainbocher, who believes in dressing women to look like women, is visited by the duchess when she comes to New York, although he no longer clothes her exclusively.

"She has always been a joy to fit," he says. "She can take a longer fitting at one sitting than most. She has fabulous energy and concentrates on what she's doing."

Although there is indirect evidence to suggest that fish can hear under water, there is no certainty that they do so.

Those attending are invited to use the hotel's facilities for swimming and golf during the day. A 6:30 p. m. cocktail hour will precede the dinner. During the evening members and their guests will enjoy Broadway entertainment and dancing in the night club.

The dinner dance climaxes Hadassah's project on behalf of Hadassah Medical Organization. Deadline for ad payments is Friday, June 1; Mrs. Sidney Treinkman is chairman of the project.

Library Book Fair Will Be Held Here

On June 7 and 8 the Kingston Library will hold a Book Fair at the library, which will be open to the public from 10:30 a. m. to 8:30 p. m. Displayed in the Children's Room, will be a large number of volumes covering a wide range of interest from the complete works of Ruskin to the tales of Uncle Wiggly.

These books, though unsuitable for the library's collection, are most suitable for private collections. Poor editions, loose bindings, duplications, have kept some from the better shelves; and some are just old timers, still wonderful for rereading and remembering.

Fifty-nine of the 60-volume set of Harvard Classics in near perfect condition are among those to be sold. Lovers of historical novels will uncover many at the Fair, including the works of Costain and Slaughter. Mothers will find, along with the New Mother's Encyclopedia, the same delightful books they enjoyed as children, picture books for the pre-schooler, and career and adventure stories for the older child. Young people, ages nine through 14, will have a chance to build their libraries with the numerous books offered them and for less than the price of a soda. There are many volumes of Shakespeare alongside of those of all the great names in English and American literature; and a good many excellent biographies. One might even, if he so wish, take home 38 volumes of Balzac in English.

In selling these books, which it is unable to use, the library plans the purchase of additional ones.

Miss Marion Bracken was maid of honor for her sister. She wore an orchid-colored floor-length gown and matching veil and carried lilacs and pink tea roses.

Mr. McCauley had his brother, Andrew J. McCauley, for his best man. Robert Nelson was the usher.

Local Nurses Attend Convention; View New Heart Machine

Among the 14,000 nurses attending sessions of the American Nurses Association Convention held in Detroit on May 14-18, were Miss Barbara Clark of Port Ewen, Sister M. Callista, Sister Cecilia, Benedictine Hospital, and Mrs. Marie Stewart and Miss Mary Butler of Kingston, all members of District No. 11 of the New York State Nurses Association. Miss Clark was the officially elected delegate, representing the nurses of Greene and Ulster Counties. On Tuesday, May 22 reports of the convention were given at a special district meeting at the Benedictine Nurses Auditorium in Kingston.

New equipment was demonstrated at clinical sessions and speakers read papers on relationships of nurses to patients, and of nurses to each other as the gap between the nurse at the bedside and the nurse at the desk widens. The experiences from sessions and exchange of views with nurses from 53 other constituent units of the Association, as well as many foreign countries, bring into the local nursing circle the questions and answers of national concern to the nurse.

The Honorable Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare made the address at the opening program meeting. He saluted the ANA and lauded the nurses on their professional integrity and courage and devotion.

Of particular interest to the group from this area was the clinical session at Harper Hospital involving a patient with heart surgery. The use of hypothermia, the heart-lung machine and defibrillator and the cardiac pacemaker were discussed and demonstrated.

During the convention, the Mary Mahoney award, honoring America's first Negro professional nurse was presented to Mildred Adams, associate professor, Division of Nursing Education, Indiana University, for outstanding contributions to the professional opportunities of all races, colors and creeds. Mrs. Pearl Coulter, director of the University of Arizona School of Nursing received the Pearl McIver Public Health Nursing award.

By majority vote, dues were increased five dollars, bringing dues for District, State and National organizations to a total of $30.50 for 1963.

Officers elected for the coming two years were: Margaret B. Dolan, president; Ann Magnussen, first vice president; Mrs. Louise A. Meyer, second vice president; Sister Delphine, secretary and Louise Folgueras, treasurer.

Local Nurses Attend Convention; View New Heart Machine

Among the 14,000 nurses attending sessions of the American Nurses Association Convention held in Detroit on May 14-18, were Miss Barbara Clark of Port Ewen, Sister M. Callista, Sister Cecilia, Benedictine Hospital, and Mrs. Marie Stewart and Miss Mary Butler of Kingston, all members of District No. 11 of the New York State Nurses Association. Miss Clark was the officially elected delegate, representing the nurses of Greene and Ulster Counties. On Tuesday, May 22 reports of the convention were given at a special district meeting at the Benedictine Nurses Auditorium in Kingston.

New equipment was demonstrated at clinical sessions and speakers read papers on relationships of nurses to patients, and of nurses to each other as the gap between the nurse at the bedside and the nurse at the desk widens. The experiences from sessions and exchange of views with nurses from 53 other constituent units of the Association, as well as many foreign countries, bring into the local nursing circle the questions and answers of national concern to the nurse.

The Honorable Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare made the address at the opening program meeting. He saluted the ANA and lauded the nurses on their professional integrity and courage and devotion.

Of particular interest to the group from this area was the clinical session at Harper Hospital involving a patient with heart surgery. The use of hypothermia, the heart-lung machine and defibrillator and the cardiac pacemaker were discussed and demonstrated.

During the convention, the Mary Mahoney award, honoring America's first Negro professional nurse was presented to Mildred Adams, associate professor, Division of Nursing Education, Indiana University, for outstanding contributions to the professional opportunities of all races, colors and creeds. Mrs. Pearl Coulter, director of the University of Arizona School of Nursing received the Pearl McIver Public Health Nursing award.

By majority vote, dues were increased five dollars, bringing dues for District, State and National organizations to a total of $30.50 for 1963.

Officers elected for the coming two years were: Margaret B. Dolan, president; Ann Magnussen, first vice president; Mrs. Louise A. Meyer, second vice president; Sister Delphine, secretary and Louise Folgueras, treasurer.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Prices Received By Farmers Not Changed: Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices received by farmers for their products remained unchanged between mid-April and mid-May, the Agriculture Department reported.

This was a change from mid-March to mid-April when farm product prices declined nearly 1 per cent.

The department's price report said that for the period ending in mid-May, the most significant price increases were reported for potatoes, cantaloupe, cotton, wheat, lettuce and corn. The main offsetting declines were in prices of milk, eggs and strawberries.

The prices paid by farmers for daily family living items rose to a record high, but this increase was offset by a slight decline in average prices of production goods. The index was 1 per cent higher than a year earlier.

On April 18, 1961, County Judge John R. Schwartz sentenced Tice to 11 months, 27 days and placed him on probation for five years on a morals conviction, authorities said.

Favors Rail Compact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., proposed today a railroad compact among eight states and the District of Columbia to speed passengers up and down the northeastern Atlantic seaboard on monorails "or other forward-looking techniques of the future."

Pell said he planned to introduce in the Senate today a joint resolution giving congressional consent to a railroad passenger service compact among Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

The resolution would permit establishment of a multi-state authority to construct and operate a passenger rail-transportation system. The legislature of each state and Congress would have to ratify such an agreement.

The program commenced at 9 a. m. with judging of the garments. Each girl has an opportunity to consult with a pair of judges, who evaluate the girl, her garment, for quality of workmanship, general appearance, and the color, design and style of the costume on the girl. NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Prices Received By Farmers Not Changed: Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prices received by farmers for their products remained unchanged between mid-April and mid-May, the Agriculture Department reported.

This was a change from mid-March to mid-April when farm product prices declined nearly 1 per cent.

The department's price report said that for the period ending in mid-May, the most significant price increases were reported for potatoes, cantaloupe, cotton, wheat, lettuce and corn. The main offsetting declines were in prices of milk, eggs and strawberries.

The prices paid by farmers for daily family living items rose to a record high, but this increase was offset by a slight decline in average prices of production goods. The index was 1 per cent higher than a year earlier.

Tice on Danger List

A 58-year-old former Poughkeepsie elevator operator today remained in grave condition at Vassar Hospital with a shotgun wound, which police said was self inflicted. A spokesman at the hospital told The Freeman, Clayton Tice, of 117 Church Street, Poughkeepsie, remained on the danger list. Authorities said Tice is on probation to the County Probation Department. On April 18, 1961, County Judge John R. Schwartz sentenced Tice to 11 months, 27 days and placed him on probation for five years on a morals conviction, authorities said.

Show of Anger Only Temporary

Rusk Displays Initial Irritation at Critics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since he took office Secretary of State Dean Rusk's press conference remarks have been so calm, unexciting, generalized and obvious that some newsmen have fallen asleep during the sessions.

This was because Rusk' who works in the closest collaboration with President Kennedy, seemed to regard himself more as the navigator of the foreign policy ship than the captain.

There has never been any doubt that Kennedy is the captain. The President has made the big pronouncements.

Asks for Alternatives

Thursday for a change Rusk showed real irritation at Kennedy administration foreign policy critics, particularly when told Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had accused the State Department of advocating a "no-win" rather than a "victory" policy in dealing with communism.

After citing all the problems the administration is trying to solve, Rusk called on the critics to offer some alternatives, instead of just criticism, if they have alternatives.

This moment of anger, so contrary to Rusk's policy of deliberate calm, is not likely to be repeated soon. If it were, his news conferences would be a little livelier.

Unsensational Dealings

His generally unheated and unsensational dealings with the press have made it a little hard for newsmen to get used to after being exposed for so long to a more colorful and flamboyant predecessor, John Foster Dulles.

In his almost year and a half in office Rusk has never once used such provocative statements as Dulles' "agonizing reappraisal" or "massive retaliation."

Yet, both men have had one thing in common: A feeling that they had to move around the world fast and often. But even on this part of his job Rusk used a soft-pedal even before he got it.

Outside Vital Too

In January 1961, when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was questioning him before approving him, he was asked if he planned to spend most of his time in the department and let ambassadors do the work abroad.

Came the typical Rusk statement which closed no doors on whatever he might decide to do.

"I do believe that the secretary has an important role in the department, but sometimes has an important role outside it," he said.

And there was this when a senator asked him what the new Kennedy administration planned to do, after it took office, about a couple of American airmen held captive by the Russians:

"I think," Rusk said, "it would be important for the new administration to make every effort possible to obtain the release of these two airmen."

When asked why Rusk has refrained from trying to make a more personal impact on the public mind, one of his aides said: "He hopes to be judged not on any single accomplishment but on his total performance so that when it comes time for him to step out it can be said of him that he did a good job."

Talks With Conviction

In short, he has insisted upon operating as a foreign policy technician. This explains why he has been in no fights with Congress as Secretaries Dulles and Dean Acheson were for any publicly known quarrels with Allies.

Yet, he hasn't had a quiet moment. Always there has been Russia, and Red China, in addition to Cuba, Laos, Viet Nam, Latin America, the Congo, disarmament, nuclear testing.

His time in office has left marks on him. He looks older, a little more tired. He talks with conviction, never with passion. The anger he showed Thursday was hardly more than a temporary detour from urbanity.

Hatfield Favored By Columbia Co. ForRenomination

Columbia County Republicans have assured Senator Ernest I. Hatfield of that county's support, if he seeks renomination for another term, according to Nathan Wild, Valatie, secretary of the Columbia GOP Committee.

Senator Hatfield was reported in Republican circles to have assurance of Dutchess and Putnam County Republican committee members of support if he runs again.

The Dutchess County Republican Committee will meet at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, July 12, in an endorsement session to name candidates for State senator, assemblyman, congress, and county treasurer.

Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy and Dutchess County Treasurer Wilbur Creswell appear to be assured of redesignation for new terms.

Candidates for governor and U. S. Senator are expected to be nominated at a state convention at Buffalo Sept. 17-19.

Dutchess County Republican Committee chairman Robert Blinn had indicated that committee will support Governor Rockefeller and United States Senator Jacob Javits for new terms.

Urban Plan Is Due for Changes In Poughkeepsie

Poughkeepsie's Common Council has agreed unanimously to resubmit to state and federal agencies, the city's first project of an urban renewal program, according to City Manager Kenneth Pearce.

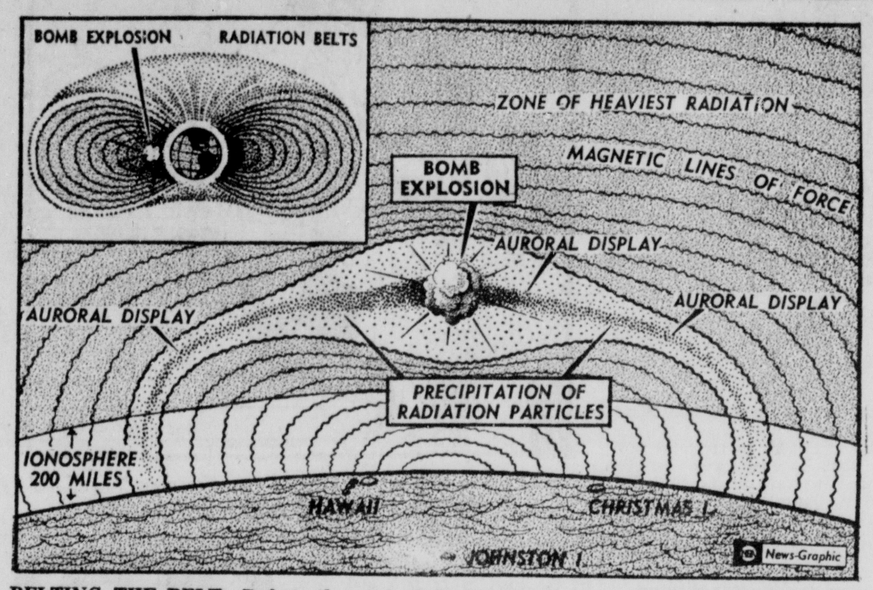
State and federal agencies can amend the original project, if it is resubmitted, to comply with the General Neighborhood Renewal Program and expand the dimensions to qualify for 75 per cent federal aid and 12:5 per cent state aid.

The original renewal project was found to be defective at a conference last week. Federal and state renewal agencies held that fringe areas were not deep enough to comply with federal and state regulations, according to the city manager.

It is planned to prepare a resolution to resubmit the plans at next Monday's council meeting.

Dutchess Has AWOL

An 18-year-old Canadian soldier stationed in the Province of Quebec, was in the Dutchess County jail Thursday awaiting extradition after he told Hyde Park state police he was AWOL. Jacques Dousignant was picked up Tuesday on Route 9 near a Hyde Park diner and was unable to produce leave papers. He told troopers he was on a 12-day pass and en route to visit his mother in New York City.



BELTING THE BELT—Before the end of its nuclear tests at Johnston Island in the Pacific, the U.S. plans to explode two relatively small hydrogen bombs about 200 to 500 miles up to see what effect they will have on the Van Allen radiation belts surrounding the earth. Predictions range from complete erasure of the belts to merely temporary disruption. Large diagram above shows how the belt of heaviest radiation, just above the ionosphere, may be partly eliminated. The charged particles are held in place by the lines of force of the earth's magnetic field (small diagram). The explosions would distort these lines, allowing the radiation particles to filter down at either end, where most of them would be absorbed by the atmosphere. Whether the belt will reconstitute itself, and how quickly it would do it, is a matter of current international scientific dispute.

BABSON DISCUSSES EDUCATION

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 1—There is much criticism by taxpayers of the amounts that are spent on education. In almost every school committee some one or more members insist that education has not increased in efficiency and in reducing cost per capita. I, myself, feel that my grandchildren go through almost the same educational routine as I did 50 years ago. I am no educator, but according to my reckoning my grandchildren are obliged to spend twelve years learning what I got in ten years.

The Brain a Physical Organ

The brain may be basically no different from the heart, or the stomach, or the liver. Certainly the brain is made up of physical cells. When something is the matter with our stomach, the doctor gives up capsules to help remedy the difficulty. This sort of treatment, however, has seldom been used for retarded children. Only in a few cases has a physician been called in to help retarded children.

It is now recognized that the difficulty with a retarded child may be his eyesight, or his hearing, or some other physical impairment. Hence, the child is given glasses, or possibly a hearing aid. We are also attempting to help these children psychologically. These are steps that have only recently been taken; but good results are being secured by these aids. Such work needs the encouragement of every school committee and every parent.

DNA and RNA

The real purpose of this week's column is to call attention to the wonderful possibilities of these new chemicals in connection with education: DNA, which stands for deoxyribonucleic acid; and RNA, which stands for ribonucleic acid. These are two new and very important chemicals which the drug companies are carefully studying. Also such companies as duPont of Wilmington, Del. and the American Cyanamid Company of New York, which owns the Lederle Laboratories. These companies are endeavoring to solve the genetic connection between two chemicals (perhaps male and female) which may lead to the origin and continuity of life, through the synthetic development of cells. Work on this is being done in conjunction with the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases at Bethesda, Maryland. They hope the work can result in the manufacture of specific proteins, one of life's most complex and important molecules which appear in all living cells of the brain. It is believed that DNA is material of which the cells of genes and chromosomes are composed.

DNA's function is to transmit genetic intelligence from one generation to the next. They make up a "template" or "mold". This mold is supposed to carry these specifications on to RNA, the messenger that in turn directs the manufacture of protein necessary for education and life. This is done in a way similar to the dots and dashes in the Morse Code spelling out over 10,000 meaningful words from only 26 letters of the alphabet. In short, every child has the equivalent of 26 letters, but the child's future depends on the arrangement of these letters (or molecules).

Proper Feeding of the Retarded

It is believed that the child's system might be directed to produce normal brain cells or perhaps even brilliant brain cells. These experiments may lead to the possibility that educators will combine psychology with cheistry and the use of TV. My grandchildren may be given capsules as part of their education, or they may be exposed to seeing proper TV programs from the time they are three days old. This may seem revolutionary, but I believe it will happen to give us better memory and judgement!

When this time comes, teachers will have no trouble obtaining increased salaries because taxpayers will recognize that the efficiency of education is increasing while the cost per capita is being reduced. DNA and RNA and TV may do for education what fertilizers are doing for agriculture. These chemicals may enable all students (not only the retarded) to become much more brilliant, and better citizens—in a shorter time and at less cost. In fact, by exposing all babies to TV there may be no "retarded" children.

Show of Anger Only Temporary

Rusk Displays Initial Irritation at Critics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since he took office Secretary of State Dean Rusk's press conference remarks have been so calm, unexciting, generalized and obvious that some newsmen have fallen asleep during the sessions.

This was because Rusk' who works in the closest collaboration with President Kennedy, seemed to regard himself more as the navigator of the foreign policy ship than the captain.

There has never been any doubt that Kennedy is the captain. The President has made the big pronouncements.

Asks for Alternatives

Thursday for a change Rusk showed real irritation at Kennedy administration foreign policy critics, particularly when told Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had accused the State Department of advocating a "no-win" rather than a "victory" policy in dealing with communism.

After citing all the problems the administration is trying to solve, Rusk called on the critics to offer some alternatives, instead of just criticism, if they have alternatives.

This moment of anger, so contrary to Rusk's policy of deliberate calm, is not likely to be repeated soon. If it were, his news conferences would be a little livelier.

Unsensational Dealings

His generally unheated and unsensational dealings with the press have made it a little hard for newsmen to get used to after being exposed for so long to a more colorful and flamboyant predecessor, John Foster Dulles.

In his almost year and a half in office Rusk has never once used such provocative statements as Dulles' "agonizing reappraisal" or "massive retaliation."

Yet, both men have had one thing in common: A feeling that they had to move around the world fast and often. But even on this part of his job Rusk used a soft-pedal even before he got it.

Outside Vital Too

In January 1961, when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was questioning him before approving him, he was asked if he planned to spend most of his time in the department and let ambassadors do the work abroad.

Came the typical Rusk statement which closed no doors on whatever he might decide to do.

"I do believe that the secretary has an important role in the department, but sometimes has an important role outside it," he said.

And there was this when a senator asked him what the new Kennedy administration planned to do, after it took office, about a couple of American airmen held captive by the Russians:

"I think," Rusk said, "it would be important for the new administration to make every effort possible to obtain the release of these two airmen."

When asked why Rusk has refrained from trying to make a more personal impact on the public mind, one of his aides said:

"He hopes to be judged not on any single accomplishment but on his total performance so that when it comes time for him to step out it can be said of him that he did a good job."

Talks With Conviction

In short, he has insisted upon operating as a foreign policy technician. This explains why he has been in no fights with Congress as Secretaries Dulles and Dean Acheson were for any publicly known quarrels with Allies.

Yet, he hasn't had a quiet moment. Always there has been Russia, and Red China, in addition to Cuba, Laos, Viet Nam, Latin America, the Congo, disarmament, nuclear testing.

His time in office has left marks on him. He looks older, a little more tired. He talks with conviction, never with passion. The anger he showed Thursday was hardly more than a temporary detour from urbanity.

Hatfield Favored By Columbia Co. ForRenomination

Columbia County Republicans have assured Senator Ernest I. Hatfield of that county's support, if he seeks renomination for another term, according to Nathan Wild, Valatie, secretary of the Columbia GOP Committee.

Senator Hatfield was reported in Republican circles to have assurance of Dutchess and Putnam County Republican committee members of support if he runs again.

The Dutchess County Republican Committee will meet at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, July 12, in an endorsement session to name candidates for State senator, assemblyman, congress, and county treasurer.

Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy and Dutchess County Treasurer Wilbur Creswell appear to be assured of redesignation for new terms.

Candidates for governor and U. S. Senator are expected to be nominated at a state convention at Buffalo Sept. 17-19.

Dutchess County Republican Committee chairman Robert Blinn had indicated that committee will support Governor Rockefeller and United States Senator Jacob Javits for new terms.

Urban Plan Is Due for Changes In Poughkeepsie

Poughkeepsie's Common Council has agreed unanimously to resubmit to state and federal agencies, the city's first project of an urban renewal program, according to City Manager Kenneth Pearce.

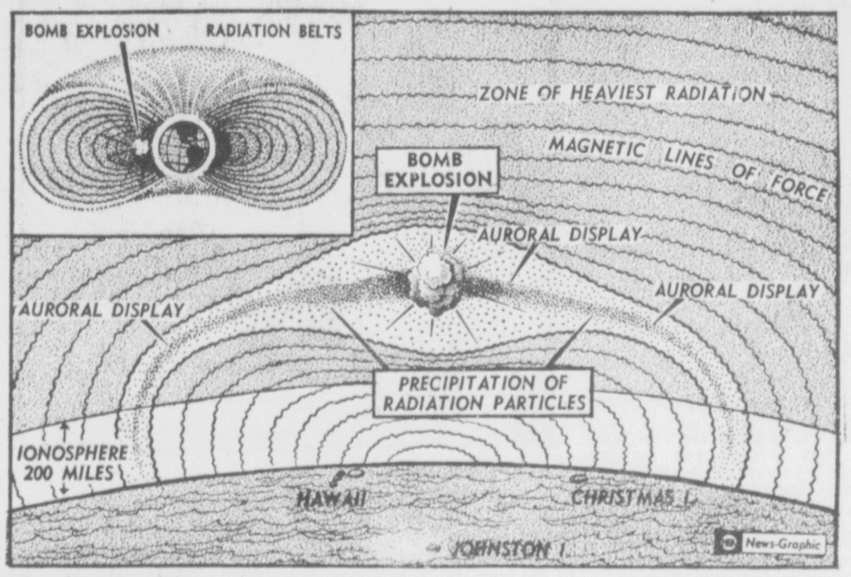
State and federal agencies can amend the original project, if it is resubmitted, to comply with the General Neighborhood Renewal Program and expand the dimensions to qualify for 75 per cent federal aid and 12:5 per cent state aid.

The original renewal project was found to be defective at a conference last week. Federal and state renewal agencies held that fringe areas were not deep enough to comply with federal and state regulations, according to the city manager.

It is planned to prepare a resolution to resubmit the plans at next Monday's council meeting.

Dutchess Has AWOL

An 18-year-old Canadian soldier stationed in the Province of Quebec, was in the Dutchess County jail Thursday awaiting extradition after he told Hyde Park state police he was AWOL. Jacques Dousignant was picked up Tuesday on Route 9 near a Hyde Park diner and was unable to produce leave papers. He told troopers he was on a 12-day pass and en route to visit his mother in New York City.



BELTING THE BELT—Before the end of its nuclear tests at Johnston Island in the Pacific, the U.S. plans to explode two relatively small hydrogen bombs about 200 to 500 miles up to see what effect they will have on the Van Allen radiation belts surrounding the earth. Predictions range from complete erasure of the belts to merely temporary disruption. Large diagram above shows how the belt of heaviest radiation, just above the ionosphere, may be partly eliminated. The charged particles are held in place by the lines of force of the earth's magnetic field (small diagram). The explosions would distort these lines, allowing the radiation particles to filter down at either end, where most of them would be absorbed by the atmosphere. Whether the belt will reconstitute itself, and how quickly it would do it, is a matter of current international scientific dispute.

BABSON DISCUSSES EDUCATION

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 1—There is much criticism by taxpayers of the amounts that are spent on education. In almost every school committee some one or more members insist that education has not increased in efficiency and in reducing cost per capita. I, myself, feel that my grandchildren go through almost the same educational routine as I did 50 years ago. I am no educator, but according to my reckoning my grandchildren are obliged to spend twelve years learning what I got in ten years.

Favors Rail Compact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., proposed today a railroad compact among eight states and the District of Columbia to speed passengers up and down the northeastern Atlantic seaboard on monorails "or other forward-looking techniques of the future."

Pell said he planned to introduce in the Senate today a joint resolution giving congressional consent to a railroad passenger service compact among Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

The resolution would permit establishment of a multi-state authority to construct and operate a passenger rail-transportation system. The legislature of each state and Congress would have to ratify such an agreement.

A 58-year-old former Poughkeepsie elevator operator today remained in grave condition at Vassar Hospital with a shotgun wound, which police said was self inflicted. A spokesman at the hospital told The Freeman, Clayton Tice, of 117 Church Street, Poughkeepsie, remained on the danger list. Authorities said Tice is on probation to the County Probation Department. On April 18, 1961, County Judge John R. Schwartz sentenced Tice to 11 months, 27 days and placed him on probation for five years on a morals conviction, authorities said.

Rusk Displays Initial Irritation at Critics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since he took office Secretary of State Dean Rusk's press conference remarks have been so calm, unexciting, generalized and obvious that some newsmen have fallen asleep during the sessions.

This was because Rusk' who works in the closest collaboration with President Kennedy, seemed to regard himself more as the navigator of the foreign policy ship than the captain.

There has never been any doubt that Kennedy is the captain. The President has made the big pronouncements.

Asks for Alternatives

Thursday for a change Rusk showed real irritation at Kennedy administration foreign policy critics, particularly when told Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had accused the State Department of advocating a "no-win" rather than a "victory" policy in dealing with communism.

After citing all the problems the administration is trying to solve, Rusk called on the critics to offer some alternatives, instead of just criticism, if they have alternatives.

This moment of anger, so contrary to Rusk's policy of deliberate calm, is not likely to be repeated soon. If it were, his news conferences would be a little livelier.

Unsensational Dealings

His generally unheated and unsensational dealings with the press have made it a little hard for newsmen to get used to after being exposed for so long to a more colorful and flamboyant predecessor, John Foster Dulles.

In his almost year and a half in office Rusk has never once used such provocative statements as Dulles' "agonizing reappraisal" or "massive retaliation."

Yet, both men have had one thing in common: A feeling that they had to move around the world fast and often. But even on this part of his job Rusk used a soft-pedal even before he got it.

Outside Vital Too

In January 1961, when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee was questioning him before approving him, he was asked if he planned to spend most of his time in the department and let ambassadors do the work abroad.

Came the typical Rusk statement which closed no doors on whatever he might decide to do.

"I do believe that the secretary has an important role in the department, but sometimes has an important role outside it," he said.

And there was this when a senator asked him what the new Kennedy administration planned to do, after it took office, about a couple of American airmen held captive by the Russians:

"I think," Rusk said, "it would be important for the new administration to make every effort possible to obtain the release of these two airmen."

When asked why Rusk has refrained from trying to make a more personal impact on the public mind, one of his aides said:

"He hopes to be judged not on any single accomplishment but on his total performance so that when it comes time for him to step out it can be said of him that he did a good job."

Talks With Conviction

In short, he has insisted upon operating as a foreign policy technician. This explains why he has been in no fights with Congress as Secretaries Dulles and Dean Acheson were for any publicly known quarrels with Allies.

Yet, he hasn't had a quiet moment. Always there has been Russia, and Red China, in addition to Cuba, Laos, Viet Nam, Latin America, the Congo, disarmament, nuclear testing.

His time in office has left marks on him. He looks older, a little more tired. He talks with conviction, never with passion. The anger he showed Thursday was hardly more than a temporary detour from urbanity.

Hatfield Favored By Columbia Co. ForRenomination

Columbia County Republicans have assured Senator Ernest I. Hatfield of that county's support, if he seeks renomination for another term, according to Nathan Wild, Valatie, secretary of the Columbia GOP Committee.

Senator Hatfield was reported in Republican circles to have assurance of Dutchess and Putnam County Republican committee members of support if he runs again.

The Dutchess County Republican Committee will meet at the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, July 12, in an endorsement session to name candidates for State senator, assemblyman, congress, and county treasurer.

Assemblyman R. Watson Pomeroy and Dutchess County Treasurer Wilbur Creswell appear to be assured of redesignation for new terms.

Candidates for governor and U. S. Senator are expected to be nominated at a state convention at Buffalo Sept. 17-19.

Dutchess County Republican Committee chairman Robert Blinn had indicated that committee will support Governor Rockefeller and United States Senator Jacob Javits for new terms.

Urban Plan Is Due for Changes In Poughkeepsie

Poughkeepsie's Common Council has agreed unanimously to resubmit to state and federal agencies, the city's first project of an urban renewal program, according to City Manager Kenneth Pearce.

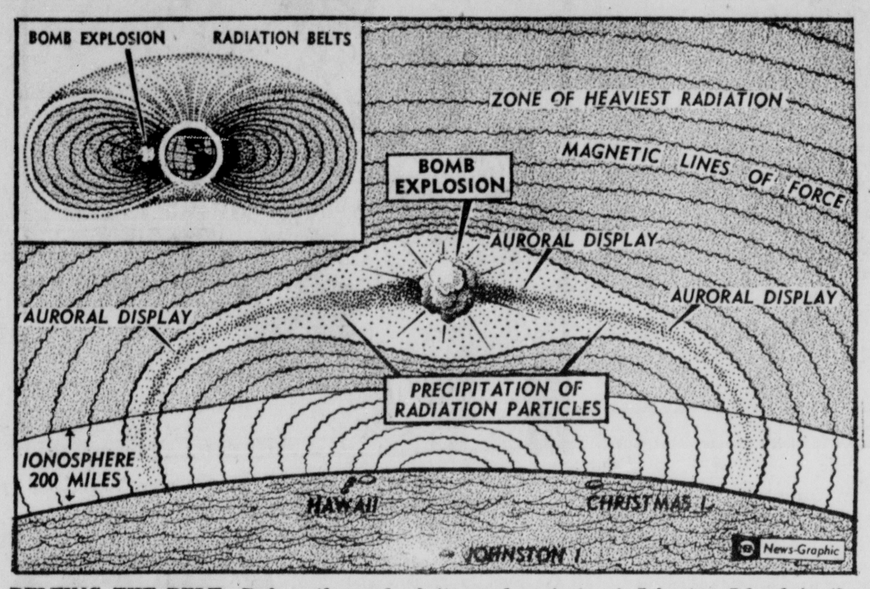
State and federal agencies can amend the original project, if it is resubmitted, to comply with the General Neighborhood Renewal Program and expand the dimensions to qualify for 75 per cent federal aid and 12:5 per cent state aid.

The original renewal project was found to be defective at a conference last week. Federal and state renewal agencies held that fringe areas were not deep enough to comply with federal and state regulations, according to the city manager.

It is planned to prepare a resolution to resubmit the plans at next Monday's council meeting.

Dutchess Has AWOL

An 18-year-old Canadian soldier stationed in the Province of Quebec, was in the Dutchess County jail Thursday awaiting extradition after he told Hyde Park state police he was AWOL. Jacques Dousignant was picked up Tuesday on Route 9 near a Hyde Park diner and was unable to produce leave papers. He told troopers he was on a 12-day pass and en route to visit his mother in New York City.



BELTING THE BELT—Before the end of its nuclear tests at Johnston Island in the Pacific, the U.S. plans to explode two relatively small hydrogen bombs about 200 to 500 miles up to see what effect they will have on the Van Allen radiation belts surrounding the earth. Predictions range from complete erasure of the belts to merely temporary disruption. Large diagram above shows how the belt of heaviest radiation, just above the ionosphere, may be partly eliminated. The charged particles are held in place by the lines of force of the earth's magnetic field (small diagram). The explosions would distort these lines, allowing the radiation particles to filter down at either end, where most of them would be absorbed by the atmosphere. Whether the belt will reconstitute itself, and how quickly it would do it, is a matter of current international scientific dispute.

BABSON DISCUSSES EDUCATION

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 1—There is much criticism by taxpayers of the amounts that are spent on education. In almost every school committee some one or more members insist that education has not increased in efficiency and in reducing cost per capita. I, myself, feel that my grandchildren go through almost the same educational routine as I did 50 years ago. I am no educator, but according to my reckoning my grandchildren are obliged to spend twelve years learning what I got in ten years.

The Brain a Physical Organ

The brain may be basically no different from the heart, or the stomach, or the liver. Certainly the brain is made up of physical cells. When something is the matter with our stomach, the doctor gives up capsules to help remedy the difficulty. This sort of treatment, however, has seldom been used for retarded children. Only in a few cases has a physician been called in to help retarded children.

It is now recognized that the difficulty with a retarded child may be his eyesight, or his hearing, or some other physical impairment. Hence, the child is given glasses, or possibly a hearing aid. We are also attempting to help these children psychologically. These are steps that have only recently been taken; but good results are being secured by these aids. Such work needs the encouragement of every school committee and every parent.

DNA and RNA

The real purpose of this week's column is to call attention to the wonderful possibilities of these new chemicals in connection with education: DNA, which stands for deoxyribonucleic acid; and RNA, which stands for ribonucleic acid. These are two new and very important chemicals which the drug companies are carefully studying. Also such companies as duPont of Wilmington, Del. and the American Cyanamid Company of New York, which owns the Lederle Laboratories. These companies are endeavoring to solve the genetic connection between two chemicals (perhaps male and female) which may lead to the origin and continuity of life, through the synthetic development of cells. Work on this is being done in conjunction with the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases at Bethesda, Maryland. They hope the work can result in the manufacture of specific proteins, one of life's most complex and important molecules which appear in all living cells of the brain. It is believed that DNA is material of which the cells of genes and chromosomes are composed.

DNA's function is to transmit genetic intelligence from one generation to the next. They make up a "template" or "mold". This mold is supposed to carry these specifications on to RNA, the messenger that in turn directs the manufacture of protein necessary for education and life. This is done in a way similar to the dots and dashes in the Morse Code spelling out over 10,000 meaningful words from only 26 letters of the alphabet. In short, every child has the equivalent of 26 letters, but the child's future depends on the arrangement of these letters (or molecules).

It is believed that the child's system might be directed to produce normal brain cells or perhaps even brilliant brain cells. These experiments may lead to the possibility that educators will combine psychology with cheistry and the use of TV. My grandchildren may be given capsules as part of their education, or they may be exposed to seeing proper TV programs from the time they are three days old. This may seem revolutionary, but I believe it will happen to give us better memory and judgement!

When this time comes, teachers will have no trouble obtaining increased salaries because taxpayers will recognize that the efficiency of education is increasing while the cost per capita is being reduced. DNA and RNA and TV may do for education what fertilizers are doing for agriculture. These chemicals may enable all students (not only the retarded) to become much more brilliant, and better citizens—in a shorter time and at less cost. In fact, by exposing all babies to TV there may be no "retarded" children.

• BRIDGE Late Thinking Costs South

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I am indebted to Leon Levenson of Jackson, Miss., for today's hand.

It is a fine example of the technique of making an unfortunate play first and thinking afterward.

South did think for a second before playing the ace of hearts from dummy at trick one. His play of the deuce of hearts from his own hand was automatic.

He led dummy's ace of spades next and when East discarded a heart South went into a long huddle. The huddle was fruitless. There were any number of lines of play at his disposal, but they had one thing in common. Not one of them would give him his contract if East defended properly.

Eventually, South did play, did go down and did complain about his hard luck. His hard luck was totally unnecessary. Yet he created it.

Do you see where South went wrong?

His ace of hearts play at trick one was correct, but his deuce of hearts play cost him the hand. If he had stopped to think, he would have dropped the queen.

Then he could have played five rounds of trumps, the ace and queen of diamonds and overtaken his nine of hearts with dummy's ten.

East could put on the king or duck, but there would be no way to keep South from making five spades, two hearts, four diamonds and one club for a total of 12 tricks.

Bustup Awfully Rough, Is View Of Janet Leigh

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I knew it was going to be rough, but I didn't think it would be this rough."

This was Janet Leigh talking about the bustup of her marriage to Tony Curtis. What she had to say gives testimony to the difficulty of making marriage work in Hollywood and especially of of healing one that has suffered a break.

Astounded by Reports

"It should be a matter between Tony and me," she commented, "but it isn't. Everybody wants to put in their two cents. Everybody has a different story. I'm astounded by some of the things I hear about us.

"I can't seem to convince anyone that we separated for the reasons we gave at the time."

When Curtis moved out of the family home March 17, the pair announced they had been having problems for some time and hoped to work them out. They declared no other parties were involved.

The rumor factory took no heed. Gossips reported that Frank Sinatra was the new No. 1 man in Janet's life. Someone printed recently that they would wed.

"I haven't even seen Frank for two months," she commented. "It's ridiculous. I've been linked with men I've scarcely met."

Little Bitterness

"I made a special trip to New York to talk to the fan magazines," Janet continued. "I wanted them to hear my side of the story so they would get it straight. They printed what I told them, all right, but they also included everything else—every piece of gossip they could get their hands on."

"I didn't realize what going through a separation in this town would be like," she said. "I was divorced before (from college sweetheart Stanley Reames in 1948). But I didn't have much of a name then, and there wasn't much fuss."

She said she has tried to maintain as normal an existence as possible. One thing she has tried to avoid is the splitting up of friends into two factions, as often happens in marital splits.

Janet said she may do a picture in Europe in October, "But if Tony and I are back together by then, I won't go," she added.

That is still a distinct possibility, she indicated, if people will only leave them alone.

Sentencing June 12

Favors Radios on Buses

A proposal calling for installation of two-way radios in school buses of the Wappingers Central School District, Dutchess county, has been advanced by R. C. Jackson, chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Committee of that community. Jackson said the committee proposes installation of radios in 51 buses operating in the school district. John Delano, the district's transportation supervisor, contended that radios would be of little use in buses that make short runs, but radios would be useful in about a dozen buses which travel to outlying areas.

• BRIDGE Late Thinking Costs South

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I am indebted to Leon Levenson of Jackson, Miss., for today's hand.

It is a fine example of the technique of making an unfortunate play first and thinking afterward.

South did think for a second before playing the ace of hearts from dummy at trick one. His play of the deuce of hearts from his own hand was automatic.

He led dummy's ace of spades next and when East discarded a heart South went into a long huddle. The huddle was fruitless. There were any number of lines of play at his disposal, but they had one thing in common. Not one of them would give him his contract if East defended properly.

Eventually, South did play, did go down and did complain about his hard luck. His hard luck was totally unnecessary. Yet he created it.

Do you see where South went wrong?

His ace of hearts play at trick one was correct, but his deuce of hearts play cost him the hand. If he had stopped to think, he would have dropped the queen.

Then he could have played five rounds of trumps, the ace and queen of diamonds and overtaken his nine of hearts with dummy's ten.

East could put on the king or duck, but there would be no way to keep South from making five spades, two hearts, four diamonds and one club for a total of 12 tricks.

Bustup Awfully Rough, Is View Of Janet Leigh

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I knew it was going to be rough, but I didn't think it would be this rough."

This was Janet Leigh talking about the bustup of her marriage to Tony Curtis. What she had to say gives testimony to the difficulty of making marriage work in Hollywood and especially of of healing one that has suffered a break.

Astounded by Reports

"It should be a matter between Tony and me," she commented, "but it isn't. Everybody wants to put in their two cents. Everybody has a different story. I'm astounded by some of the things I hear about us.

"I can't seem to convince anyone that we separated for the reasons we gave at the time."

When Curtis moved out of the family home March 17, the pair announced they had been having problems for some time and hoped to work them out. They declared no other parties were involved.

The rumor factory took no heed. Gossips reported that Frank Sinatra was the new No. 1 man in Janet's life. Someone printed recently that they would wed.

"I haven't even seen Frank for two months," she commented. "It's ridiculous. I've been linked with men I've scarcely met."

Little Bitterness

"I made a special trip to New York to talk to the fan magazines," Janet continued. "I wanted them to hear my side of the story so they would get it straight. They printed what I told them, all right, but they also included everything else—every piece of gossip they could get their hands on."

"I didn't realize what going through a separation in this town would be like," she said. "I was divorced before (from college sweetheart Stanley Reames in 1948). But I didn't have much of a name then, and there wasn't much fuss."

She said she has tried to maintain as normal an existence as possible. One thing she has tried to avoid is the splitting up of friends into two factions, as often happens in marital splits.

Janet said she may do a picture in Europe in October, "But if Tony and I are back together by then, I won't go," she added.

That is still a distinct possibility, she indicated, if people will only leave them alone.

Favors Radios on Buses

A proposal calling for installation of two-way radios in school buses of the Wappingers Central School District, Dutchess county, has been advanced by R. C. Jackson, chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Committee of that community. Jackson said the committee proposes installation of radios in 51 buses operating in the school district. John Delano, the district's transportation supervisor, contended that radios would be of little use in buses that make short runs, but radios would be useful in about a dozen buses which travel to outlying areas.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received an interesting letter from which I quote in part: "I thought you would be interested to know that the Elting Harp of New Paltz, whose name you mentioned in this evening's paper was the father of my brother, Peter H. Harp, whose name you often mention with respect to old local papers he gave you."

"Also the P. B. Hayt, is the man, Peter Berry Hayt, of Poughkeepsie, that my brother Peter Hayt Harp is named after. Mr. Hayt conducted a gent's clothing store, at corner of Main and Garden Streets, Poughkeepsie for many years.

'Uncle' Peter Hayt as the eight children of the late Elting Harp fondly called him was truely a remearkable man. He was not only a successful business man but had many other interests. He was a true sportsman and especially enjoyed hunting, much of which he did on our Shawangunk Mountains. He was also a race horse enthusiast and owned some Blue Ribbon Winners."

"The H. H. Valentine mentioned was the late Harry Valentine for whom another of my five brothers was named after. (Mr. Valentine's wife, Anna Otis, was several years older than he and her first husband owned the old Murray Hill Hotel in New York City, which was a popular place during the Gay Nineties.)

From time to time you have mentioned in your interesting column 'Art Work of Ulster County' published in 12 parts by the W. H. Parish Publishing Co., in 1893. I own a set of these and as you undoubtedly know contain many excellent photographs of our Ulster County, which our late father always called 'God's Country.' "

Mrs. Daniel (Delia) T. Shaw of the Daniel Shaw Insurance Agency of New Paltz further writes: "Perhaps some of your readers will remember Arthur Bruce Bennett, A. B. as his pupils called him, was a member of New Paltz Normal School faculty from 1909 to 1938 where he taught English and dramatics. He also was a true sportsman and his favorite hobby was fishing. A. B. Bennett was my dad. Elting Harp was a guest of the late Lewis Mercer Borden, son of John Gail Borden, of the Borden's Condensed Milk scion, over in Napanoch, Ulster County, at "Yama Yama Farms" which was conducted by Frank Seaman and his wife, Olive Brown Seamon. A. B. Bennett was sought-after as an after dinner speaker and one of his favorite stories was the meeting of Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and John Burroughs, (whom you so frequently mention), at Yama Yama Farms." I appreciate no end this addition to the information I had in the column, from attorney Peter H. Harp's sister.

I was sorry to hear the passing of John Striebel, cartoonist of Bearsville. The late J. P. McEvoy also from Woodstock, had written a book and play "Show Girl" and the two Ulster County men worked out the very popular Dixie Dugan cartoon.

I had a chance to enjoy J. P. McEvoy's sense of humor when I met him at his home and he drove me in to Kingston. He liked to drive fast. Mr. Striebel I met at his home when several patients from Castle Point Veteran Hospital came up to visit Woodstock and several of the famous people opened their homes to the veterans, among which were the Striebels, also Norbert Heermans and several others.

At the time, a young artist, whose name has slipped my mind was working on a set of other cartoons, and Mr. Striebel made a sketch of me when I was playing with his pets, a proud cat who would not come to me, and a small dog who became very fond of me. It was a delightful afternoon for all of us.

Why We Say--

FROM DIGNITY: Oddly enough, our feminine word dainty comes from the same Latin word as dignity (or dignitas). The French coined this word because they believed daintiness was the equivalent of dignity in men.

Tinney Is Given Warm Welcome by Local Lions Club

Kingston Lions Club at the weekly luncheon-meeting Tuesday, gave a warm welcome back to J. Wilson Tinney, of Port Ewen, who was elected district governor of District 20-0 at the New York State Lions Club convention at South Fallsburgh, May 22.

The luncheon program featured Mrs. Freda Dingee, principal of School 7, who presented a program on the work of the Kingston School District Consolidated in preparing students for reading. She said that the Kingston School System used a comprehensive program designed to take into consideration the social and physiological preparedness of the child.

Stuart Munson was elected president of the Kingston Club for 1962-63. He was unopposed.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received an interesting letter from which I quote in part: "I thought you would be interested to know that the Elting Harp of New Paltz, whose name you mentioned in this evening's paper was the father of my brother, Peter H. Harp, whose name you often mention with respect to old local papers he gave you."

"Also the P. B. Hayt, is the man, Peter Berry Hayt, of Poughkeepsie, that my brother Peter Hayt Harp is named after. Mr. Hayt conducted a gent's clothing store, at corner of Main and Garden Streets, Poughkeepsie for many years.

'Uncle' Peter Hayt as the eight children of the late Elting Harp fondly called him was truely a remearkable man. He was not only a successful business man but had many other interests. He was a true sportsman and especially enjoyed hunting, much of which he did on our Shawangunk Mountains. He was also a race horse enthusiast and owned some Blue Ribbon Winners."

"The H. H. Valentine mentioned was the late Harry Valentine for whom another of my five brothers was named after. (Mr. Valentine's wife, Anna Otis, was several years older than he and her first husband owned the old Murray Hill Hotel in New York City, which was a popular place during the Gay Nineties.)

From time to time you have mentioned in your interesting column 'Art Work of Ulster County' published in 12 parts by the W. H. Parish Publishing Co., in 1893, I own a set of these and as you undoubtedly know contain many excellent photographs of our Ulster County, which our late father always called 'God's Country.'"

Mrs. Daniel (Delia) T. Shaw of the Daniel Shaw Insurance Agency of New Paltz further writes: "Perhaps some of your readers will remember Arthur Bruce Bennett, A. B. as his pupils called him, was a member of New Paltz Normal School faculty from 1909 to 1938 where he taught English and dramatics. He also was a true sportsman and his favorite hobby was fishing. A. B. Bennett was my dad. Elting Harp was a guest of the late Lewis Mercer Borden, son of John Gail Borden, of the Borden's Condensed Milk scion, over in Napanoch, Ulster County, at "Yama Yama Farms" which was conducted by Frank Seaman and his wife, Olive Brown Seamon. A. B. Bennett was sought-after as an after dinner speaker and one of his favorite stories was the meeting of Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone and John Burroughs, (whom you so frequently mention), at Yama Yama Farms." I appreciate no end this addition to the information I had in the column, from attorney Peter H. Harp's sister.

I was sorry to hear the passing of John Striebel, cartoonist of Bearsville. The late J. P. McEvoy also from Woodstock, had written a book and play "Show Girl" and the two Ulster County men worked out the very popular Dixie Dugan cartoon.

I had a chance to enjoy J. P. McEvoy's sense of humor when I met him at his home and he drove me in to Kingston. He liked to drive fast, Mr. Striebel I met at his home when several patients from Castle Point Veteran Hospital came up to visit Woodstock and several of the famous people opened their homes to the veterans, among which were the Striebels, also Norbert Heermans and several others.

At the time, a young artist, whose name has slipped my mind was working on a set of other cartoons, and Mr. Striebel made a sketch of me when I was playing with his pets, a proud cat who would not come to me, and a small dog who became very fond of me. It was a delightful afternoon for all of us.

Why We Say--

FROM DIGNITY: Oddly enough, our feminine word dainty comes from the same Latin word as dignity (or dignitas). The French coined this word because they believed daintiness was the equivalent of dignity in men.

Detroit Topples Sox, 13-5

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline is out with a broken shoulder. Frank Lary, a 23-game winner last year, has one victory. Batting champion Norm Cash and slugger Rocky Colavito are hitting .238 and .235, respectively. And the Detroit Tigers have moved within two games of the American League lead.

How've they done it?

With key contributions from the slowly reawakening C boys—Cash and Colavito, and with outstanding performances from players such as infielder Jake Wood, outfielder Billy Bruton and pitcher Paul Foytack.

The trio combined Thursday as the Tigers won their 10th in 12 games by belting the Chicago White Sox 13-5.

Foytack, who had been relegated to the bullpen at the start of the season, ran his record to 4-1 since being restored to the starting rotation when Lary was injured.

Tribe Increase Lead

Cleveland upped its first-place edge over the idle New York Yankees to a full game by beating Baltimore 4-3. In the only other game scheduled, Kansas City blanked Washington 1-0 behind Jerry Walker's six-hitter.

Backed by the slugging of Wood who drove in five runs, and Bruton who drove in four, the Tigers had little difficulty with the White Sox, although Foytack had to have relief help in the seventh. Foytack gave up six hits before Ron Kline took over. Don Zanni (2-2), first of four Chicago hurlers took the loss.

The Indians, shut out on three hit by Robin Roberts for five innings and trailing 3-0, used Brooks Robinson's error as a wedge in the sixth inning and scored all their runs. Jim Grant (3-0) won it with relief help from Gary Bell. Ron Hansen homered for the Orioles.

Walker (6-2) won his pitchers' duel with the Senators' Steve Hamilton (0-2) when the A's came up with an unearned run in the last of the ninth.

Wayne Johnson Hurls Victory, Gives 3 Hits

Rapping three pitchers for 10 base hits, Kingston High won its 10th game in 13 outings, trouncing Lady of Lourdes, 14-0, yesterday at Dietz Stadium. Wayne Johnson, a junior, coasted to the decision allowing only three hits.

Third baseman Wayne Reynolds stroked three singles in as many trips to pace the KHS skuad. First sacker Ed Koeppen scored three runs.

Johnson hurled the entire seven innings, giving up five walks and sending eight batters down on strikes.

Kingston will conclude its season on Monday at Roosevelt.

Tom Greco's bases loaded single gave the Dodgers a 7-6 victory over the Giants in an 8-inning Glasco-East Kingston Litttle League contest. Greco also had a double and two singles in five trips.

The Giants had rallied with four runs in the top of the sixth, then held off the Dodgers in the bottom half to send the game into extra innings.

Sangi and Ciarlanto collaborated on a seven-hitter for the Dodgers, who piced up 11 hits off Pete Watzka and Henry Rua. Sangi was credited with the victory. Ciarlanto struck out 11 and Watzka whiffed six.

Roebuck Hurls Well in Relief For Los Angeles

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's still the powerful San Francisco Giants and the dazzling Los Angeles Dodgers bunched at the top of the National League. But the surprising Cincinnati Reds, who took it all last year, are on the move.

The Reds clicked again Thursday, beating Milwaukee 7-4 behind steady pitching by Bob Purkey and resurgent slugging star Frank Robinson. Purkey became the majors' first nine-game winner with a seven-hitter and Robinson had a double and a decisive three-run homer.

11th Straight Win

The Dodgers won their 11th in a row as they pinned the 11th loss in a row on the New York Mets, 6-3, on a three-hit pitching job by Joe Moeller, Ed Roebuck and Ron Perranoski. Philadelphia's Art Mahaffey trimmed the Giants 2-1.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh won its fifth straight 5-4 over St. Louis and Houston whipped Chicago 10-6.

Purkey, a 16-game winner for Cincinnati last year was tagged for a homer with one on by Hank Aaron in the sixth and yielded two more runs in the eighth.

Robinson's double got in a run as the Reds scored twice off Carl Willey in the third and he powered Cincinnati into a 7-2 lead in the seventh with his homer, which followed singles by Don Blasingame and Marty Keough.

The Dodgers played even with the Mets until the sixth, when Larry Burright broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run triple and scored on a sacrifice fly. Roebuck allowed just one single in his five-inning stint but came out in the ninth after the Mets loaded the bases. They managed one run before Perranoski slammed the door.

Mahaffey stymied the Giants with speed and control before wavering slightly in the late going. He was nicked for two singles in the eighth, then was finally reached for a run in the ninth on Orlando Cepeda's triple and Felipe Alou's single with one out.

Bob Friend ended a string of five losses with ninth inning relief from Elroy Face and Diomedes Olivo as the Pirates nipped the Cardinals. Friend, now 5-6, and Dick Groat batted in two runs each and Bill Mazeroski's homer proved the winner.

Simmons Loses

The Pirates rapped Curt Simmons for six of their nine hits and routed the St. Louis left-hander in their two-run second. Lindy McDaniel went the rest of the way for the Cards.

Carl Warwick supplied the ninth-inning clincher for the Colts with a two-run single and Jim Pendleton applied the crusher, a three-run homer. The victory went to Don McMahon. Don Elston was the loser.

Giants Invade Polo Grounds Tonight to Play Against Mets

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The civil war of baseball could break out all over again tonight when the Giants return to their old Polo Grounds haunts to meet the new tenants, the Mets.

The Mets, New York's new National League entry, tangled with old Giants in San Francisco last week for the first time. They are still talking about the feuding and fussing.

Roger Craig, the ex-Dodger who pitches for the Mets, touched off a wild uprising in Candlestick Park Sunday by hitting Orlando Cepeda of the Giants with a pitched ball.

Cepeda started to charge the mound but was persuaded to take first base. A few seconds later when Elio Chacon got into a fuss with Willie Mays at second base, Cepeda and Craig went at it.

With the Giants returning to the Polo Grounds for the first time since they left in 1957 and a full house of 50,000 plus expectd, it was natural that Craig would draw the pitching assignment against Billy Pierce.

"I hold no grudge against Cepeda or anybody else," said Craig after Thursday night's game with Los Angeles. "The only feud that I have is that I want to beat them.

How about Cepeda? Does he crowd the plate?

"No, he stand off pretty good," said Craig. "You know the way I pitch, working on the outside corner. When some of those batters crowd me and take away that outside corner, I have to protect myself. I never threw at anybody to hit them yet."

Thailand Champ Is Named Fighter Of Month by Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Pone Kingpetch of Thailand has been named Ring Magazine's "Fighter of the Month" on the strength of his latest victory in the flyweight division.

There was only one change in the heavyweight division, provoked by the draw between Archie Moore and Willie Pastrano. Moore held No. 5 place in the list of challengers but Pastrano moved into the tenth spot, replacing Alejandro Lavorante of Argentina.

Sugar Ray Robinson, former world welterweight and middleweight champion, was dropped from the ratings because of inactivity. It marked the first time in more than 20 years that Robinson had been omitted, except for his retirement in 1952-55.

Detroit Topples Sox, 13-5

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Al Kaline is out with a broken shoulder. Frank Lary, a 23-game winner last year, has one victory. Batting champion Norm Cash and slugger Rocky Colavito are hitting .238 and .235, respectively. And the Detroit Tigers have moved within two games of the American League lead.

How've they done it?

With key contributions from the slowly reawakening C boys—Cash and Colavito, and with outstanding performances from players such as infielder Jake Wood, outfielder Billy Bruton and pitcher Paul Foytack.

The trio combined Thursday as the Tigers won their 10th in 12 games by belting the Chicago White Sox 13-5.

Foytack, who had been relegated to the bullpen at the start of the season, ran his record to 4-1 since being restored to the starting rotation when Lary was injured.

Tribe Increase Lead

Cleveland upped its first-place edge over the idle New York Yankees to a full game by beating Baltimore 4-3. In the only other game scheduled, Kansas City blanked Washington 1-0 behind Jerry Walker's six-hitter.

Backed by the slugging of Wood who drove in five runs, and Bruton who drove in four, the Tigers had little difficulty with the White Sox, although Foytack had to have relief help in the seventh. Foytack gave up six hits before Ron Kline took over. Don Zanni (2-2), first of four Chicago hurlers took the loss.

The Indians, shut out on three hit by Robin Roberts for five innings and trailing 3-0, used Brooks Robinson's error as a wedge in the sixth inning and scored all their runs. Jim Grant (3-0) won it with relief help from Gary Bell. Ron Hansen homered for the Orioles.

Walker (6-2) won his pitchers' duel with the Senators' Steve Hamilton (0-2) when the A's came up with an unearned run in the last of the ninth.

Wayne Johnson Hurls Victory, Gives 3 Hits

Rapping three pitchers for 10 base hits, Kingston High won its 10th game in 13 outings, trouncing Lady of Lourdes, 14-0, yesterday at Dietz Stadium. Wayne Johnson, a junior, coasted to the decision allowing only three hits.

Third baseman Wayne Reynolds stroked three singles in as many trips to pace the KHS skuad. First sacker Ed Koeppen scored three runs.

Johnson hurled the entire seven innings, giving up five walks and sending eight batters down on strikes.

Kingston will conclude its season on Monday at Roosevelt.

Greco's Single Wins EK-G Game

Tom Greco's bases loaded single gave the Dodgers a 7-6 victory over the Giants in an 8-inning Glasco-East Kingston Litttle League contest. Greco also had a double and two singles in five trips.

The Giants had rallied with four runs in the top of the sixth, then held off the Dodgers in the bottom half to send the game into extra innings.

Sangi and Ciarlanto collaborated on a seven-hitter for the Dodgers, who piced up 11 hits off Pete Watzka and Henry Rua. Sangi was credited with the victory. Ciarlanto struck out 11 and Watzka whiffed six.

Roebuck Hurls Well in Relief For Los Angeles

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's still the powerful San Francisco Giants and the dazzling Los Angeles Dodgers bunched at the top of the National League. But the surprising Cincinnati Reds, who took it all last year, are on the move.

The Reds clicked again Thursday, beating Milwaukee 7-4 behind steady pitching by Bob Purkey and resurgent slugging star Frank Robinson. Purkey became the majors' first nine-game winner with a seven-hitter and Robinson had a double and a decisive three-run homer.

11th Straight Win

The Dodgers won their 11th in a row as they pinned the 11th loss in a row on the New York Mets, 6-3, on a three-hit pitching job by Joe Moeller, Ed Roebuck and Ron Perranoski. Philadelphia's Art Mahaffey trimmed the Giants 2-1.

In other NL games, Pittsburgh won its fifth straight 5-4 over St. Louis and Houston whipped Chicago 10-6.

Purkey, a 16-game winner for Cincinnati last year was tagged for a homer with one on by Hank Aaron in the sixth and yielded two more runs in the eighth.

Robinson's double got in a run as the Reds scored twice off Carl Willey in the third and he powered Cincinnati into a 7-2 lead in the seventh with his homer, which followed singles by Don Blasingame and Marty Keough.

The Dodgers played even with the Mets until the sixth, when Larry Burright broke a 2-2 tie with a two-run triple and scored on a sacrifice fly. Roebuck allowed just one single in his five-inning stint but came out in the ninth after the Mets loaded the bases. They managed one run before Perranoski slammed the door.

Mahaffey stymied the Giants with speed and control before wavering slightly in the late going. He was nicked for two singles in the eighth, then was finally reached for a run in the ninth on Orlando Cepeda's triple and Felipe Alou's single with one out.

Bob Friend ended a string of five losses with ninth inning relief from Elroy Face and Diomedes Olivo as the Pirates nipped the Cardinals. Friend, now 5-6, and Dick Groat batted in two runs each and Bill Mazeroski's homer proved the winner.

Simmons Loses

The Pirates rapped Curt Simmons for six of their nine hits and routed the St. Louis left-hander in their two-run second. Lindy McDaniel went the rest of the way for the Cards.

Carl Warwick supplied the ninth-inning clincher for the Colts with a two-run single and Jim Pendleton applied the crusher, a three-run homer. The victory went to Don McMahon. Don Elston was the loser.

Ken Hubbs, Ron Santo and Lou Brock homered for the Cubs, with Brock's giving them a 6-5 lead in the seventh.

Giants Invade Polo Grounds Tonight to Play Against Mets

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The civil war of baseball could break out all over again tonight when the Giants return to their old Polo Grounds haunts to meet the new tenants, the Mets.

The Mets, New York's new National League entry, tangled with old Giants in San Francisco last week for the first time. They are still talking about the feuding and fussing.

Roger Craig, the ex-Dodger who pitches for the Mets, touched off a wild uprising in Candlestick Park Sunday by hitting Orlando Cepeda of the Giants with a pitched ball.

Cepeda started to charge the mound but was persuaded to take first base. A few seconds later when Elio Chacon got into a fuss with Willie Mays at second base, Cepeda and Craig went at it.

The only disciplinary action taken by the league office was a $100 fine to Chacon for his part in the brawl.

With the Giants returning to the Polo Grounds for the first time since they left in 1957 and a full house of 50,000 plus expectd, it was natural that Craig would draw the pitching assignment against Billy Pierce.

"I hold no grudge against Cepeda or anybody else," said Craig after Thursday night's game with Los Angeles. "The only feud that I have is that I want to beat them.

"Look, we've lost 11 straight. All I want to do is get us out of it. I usually pitch pretty good against the Giants."

How about Cepeda? Does he crowd the plate?

"No, he stand off pretty good," said Craig. "You know the way I pitch, working on the outside corner. When some of those batters crowd me and take away that outside corner, I have to protect myself. I never threw at anybody to hit them yet."

Thailand Champ Is Named Fighter Of Month by Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—Pone Kingpetch of Thailand has been named Ring Magazine's "Fighter of the Month" on the strength of his latest victory in the flyweight division.

Ring made the announcement today in releasing its monthly ratings, which showed few drastic revisions in the eight divisions.

Kingston, Glasco Horses Win As Monticello Raceway Opens

Yankee Day Favored In Mighty M Feature

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — Yankee Day, owned by Saul Finkestein of New Rochelle, will go postward the 4-1 morning line favorite for tonight's $1,800 handicap trot for class A-B-1 horses at Monticello Raceway. A field of seven is listed to start in the second night feature as Monticello gains momentum for its long sumer meeting through September 22.

Jack Adams, former assistant trainer for Stanley Dancer, will take Yankee Day away from the four post. Adams has been campaigning at Hazel Park, Detroit, but now is making the Mighty M his home base.

Yankee Day fashioned a 2:01.2 victory at Hazel Park on May 16. The Yankee Hanover stallion a 2:01.2 victor at Hazel Park on May 6.

Alfred Hanover has a 2:03.3 season's record and already has banked $8,500 in seven races. George Sziklai will be in the sulky when Alfred wheels away from the three lane.

Keith Waples won with Bucky North in 2:03.2 at Richelieu Park last week. The five-year-old gelding comes to Monticello with impressive credentials. In nine races he's been out of the money just twice and boasts winnings of $9,400.

Woman driver June Dillman will make her first start of the season with her meal ticket, Red Dominion. The 13-year-old gelding, with lifetime earnings of $114,580, has been assigned the outside post for mile dash.

Crowd of 5,653 Helps Track Start Its Fifth Season

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

The opening of Monticello Raceway's fifth season of harness racing might be called a combination "Kingston - Glasco Night." With an inagural crowd of 5,653 on hand, Be Cheerful, owned by Clyde Hahn nad Lee Konjas of Kingston swept to victory in the opening race, setting the pace for a nifty $100.20 double payoff.

Then the Greco Bros. stable of Glasco took over. With Harold "Sonny" Dancer, the 1961 dash champion doing the driving, horses owned by the Grecos were in the money in three straight attempts.

Success Saint, a three-year-old colt, captured the third race as a 3-5 favorite. Then in order, General Byrd finished third in the fourth and Kaka Adios was a driving second in the sixth, giving the Glasco stable an almost perfect night.

Leads Wire to Wire

Be Cheerful, an 11-year-old brown gelding, took the lead on the muddy track from the start and under the guidance of veteran reinsman Mike Organ was never pressed in returning $11.60 and setting up a combination 8-4 daily double.

Lusty Freight was the winner of the second race. A total of 268 $2 tickets and 7 $10 tickets were sold on the combination. The win for Be Cheerful was the first in eight 1962 starts for the veteran, which has won more than $28,000 during his lifetime.

Success Saint, one of the top pacers in the Greco Bros. stable, was in fourth position on the rail after the first half mile. Then Dancer urged the three-year-old on and he swept to the front, coasting home by more than three lengths. He returned $3.50 for each $2.

General Byrd, an eight-year-old brown gelding, was forced outside by Frisky Andrew in the fourth and Dancer kept the horse in second position until the stretch, when a late run by Guybee enable him to pass Dancer's horse.

Kaka Adios, which had a first and second place finish in six previous starts, just failed to beat Speedy Boy in the Class C-1 pace. Speedy Boy moved to the front at the three quarter pole and held off the blazing finish by Dancer and Kaka Adios.

Penney Shenandoah captured the featured race, The Sixty-Two Special Trot as five of the eight horses broke at one time or another. Driven by Arthur Thorne, the five-year old brown mare went the mile in 2:11 and returned $19. Ramire was second, two lengths back and McColby finished third.

POST AND PADDOCK CHATTER: A flash storm about six o'clock held the crowd down. With good weather, Mighty M officials had hoped for almost 7,000 for the opening program ...Leonard Cohen of the New York Post and Jerry Levine of the Journal American divided the double, the only two in the press box who correctly picked the first and second races...Speaking of the press box, Sam Anzalone, the publicity head at Monticello, had everything in good shape. This was the best the press box has looked since the track opened five years ago. Anzalone gives class to what was lacking before—cooperation between the track and the newspaper folks...Last year's opening crowd was a record 6,597 and the mutuel handle was $312,423.

FIRST WINNER—The honor of scoring the first victory of the year at Monticello Raceway went to Be Cheerful, owned by Clyde Hahn and Lee Konjas of Kingston. The 11-year old brown gelding scored in 2:17.1 on a muddy track to set up an 8-4 double which returned $100.20. Mike Organ drove Be Cheerful to the win over Hazel Hawkins. Play at Utica Sunday

Five Kingston Booters Likely All Star Picks

Five members of the Kingston Sport Club, Inc. squad have been nominated for the Central New York State Soccer Association 1962 all-star team, it was learned today.

This stellar group will attempt to preserve Kingston's first place tie with the Albany Athletic Club in a Sunday duel at Utica. The upstaters have won only three times in 19 games but have taken two in a row and pose a serious threat to Kingston's titular ambitions.

Three Weeks Left

Only three weeks remain on the schedule which stretches over two seasons. The race has narrowed down to a duel between Kingston and Albany, with a climatic clash scheduled between the two on June 24 at Dietz Stadium in Kingston. The two leaders figure to win their next two games to set the stage for a tremendous showdown with the league championship at stake.

Patterson, Liston Bout Set for Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight in Chicago Sept. 25 predict it will bring in gross revenues of more than $5 million.

The fight will be staged in Comiskey Park which has 46,500 permanent seats, plus 10,500 temporary seats that can be added.

Tickets will range from $100 down to $10, all on a reserved basis, but the biggest slice—an estimated $4 million—will come from closed circuit television shown in theaters across the country with Chicago blacked out.

The estimate on gross revenue—the money received before expenses—was made by Al Bolan, vice president of Championship Sports Inc., the promotion syndicate handling the fight.

Champion Patterson will receive 45 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of the ancilliary rights including radio and television charges. Liston will receive 12½ per cent of the live gate and ancilliary rights with a $200,000 guarantee. Championship Sports will receive the remainder.

The two fighters will come to Chicago in two or three weeks for formal contract signing.

Chicago was selected for the bout after the New York State Athletic Commission refused to grant Liston a license to fight in New York because he had some brushes with the law.

Ranger Knight Scores Win In Cane Futurity at Yonkers

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Eugene (Buck) Minniear, half-owner, trainer and sometimes driver of Ranger Knight, almost sold his interest in the winner of the $117,542 Cane Futurity Pace and a couple of good prospects.

"You might say I'm pretty lucky," the Aiken, S.C. trainer said Thursday night after Ranger Knight got up in the last few strides and beat the favored Lehigh Hanover at Yonkers Raceway.

The victory in the Cane, second jewel in the triple crown of pacing for 3-year-olds, was worth $64,648 to Minniear and co-owner Dr. V. T. Scroggin of Hollywood, Calif.

About five years ago Minniear traded a trotter for the mare Brenda K—and bred her to his stallion Ranger Hanover. The product was Ranger Knight.

Minniear, meantime, had formed a partnership with Dr. Scroggin, and the doctor wanted to buy Brenda K, which would have given him sole ownership of Ranger Knight.

"Then he changed his mind," Minniear recalled, "and said he would only take a half interest. I would have sold him all of her, because she hadn't done anything and that's where the luck comes in."

Driven by Hodgins

Ranger Knight, fifth in the Messenger Stakes, first of pacings' triple, was driven by Clint Hodgins Thursday night because Minniear is sitting out a suspension.

Hodgins got the bay colt up in the final strides to overtake Lehigh Hanover and win the mile and one-sixteenth test by a half length. Ritzy Hanover, the only filly in the field of 13, set the pace most of the way, but faded going into the stretch and finished third.

Ranger Knight paid $16.50, $5.80 and $4.10. Lehigh Hanover, the favorite from the Lehigh Stable and driven by Stanley Dancer, returned $2.90 and $2.60. Ritzh Hanover, driven by George Phalen, paid $4.70 to show. Thor Hanover, surprise $144 winner of Messenger, finished 10th.

The featured $2,000 trot at Buffalo Raceway ended in a five-horse photo-finish. Handy Bill, driven by Mac Weaver, won by a head over Kintoo Volby. The winner paid $8.90 and was clocked in 2:06 4-5 for the mile.

At Vernon Downs, the feature was a two-division pace for two-year - olds. Each division was worth $1,500.

The first division was won by Trader Lloyd, driven by John Goodnough to a 2:10 4-5 mile. The payoff was $5.

Blitzie Hanover reined by Jimmy Arthur, won the second division, which was for fillies. She paid $3 and was timed in 2:14 1-5. Sarah Z came in second and Meadow Marty was third.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (NEA) — Unexpected delays in track construction have ended possibilities of harness racing with pari-mutuels in Pennsylvania this year. Three tracks open in 1963.

Thayer-Perlman, Rector-Chapman Bridge Winners

The crack combination of Harry Thayer of Kingston and Dr. Paul Perlman, Woodstock posted an excellent 64 per cent game to pace the North-South side of the Glenerie Bridge Club duplicate bridge tournament.

Hilden Rector and John Chapman of Poughkeepsie turned in another sparking performance with 67 per cent on the East-West side.

Runnersup on the North-South side were: Charles Hobbs and Emil Jensen, Poughkeepsie, 62 per cent; Mrs. Eleanor Truller and Earl Yohnell, Poughkeepsie, 61 per cent; Joseph Zahtila and Edward C. Wood, Poughkeepsie, 57 per cent.

Trailing the leaders on the East-West side were Paul Mezer-Morton Honig, Kingston, 61 per cent; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crisafullu, Boiceville, 58 per cent; Miss Dorothy Maroon-Dr. Habeeb Maroon, Kingston, 57 per cent.

Crowd of 5,653 Helps Track Start Its Fifth Season

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

The opening of Monticello Raceway's fifth season of harness racing night be called a combination "Kingston - Glasco Night." With an inagural crowd of 5,653 on hand, Be Cheerful, owned by Clyde Hahn nad Lee Konjas of Kingston swept to victory in the opening race, setting the pace for a nifty $100.20 double payoff.

Then the Greco Bros. stable of Glasco took over. With Harold "Sonny" Dancer, the 1961 dash champion doing the driving, horses owned by the Grecos were in the money in three straight attempts.

Success Saint, a three-year-old colt, captured the third race as a 3-5 favorite. Then in order, General Byrd finished third in the fourth and Kaka Adios was a driving second in the sixth, giving the Glasco stable an almost perfect night.

Leads Wire to Wire

Be Cheerful, an 11-year-old brown gelding, took the lead on the muddy track from the start and under the guidance of veteran reinsman Mike Organ was never pressed in returning $11.60 and setting up a combination 8-4 daily double.

Lusty Freight was the winner of the second race. A total of 268 $2 tickets and 7 $10 tickets were sold on the combination. The win for Be Cheerful was the first in eight 1962 starts for the veteran, which has won more than $28,000 during his lifetime.

Success Saint, one of the top pacers in the Greco Bros. stable, was in fourth position on the rail after the first half mile. Then Dancer urged the three-year-old on and he swept to the front, coasting home by more than three lengths. He returned $3.50 for each $2.

General Byrd, an eight-year-old brown gelding, was forced outside by Frisky Andrew in the fourth and Dancer kept the horse in second position until the stretch, when a late run by Guybee enable him to pass Dancer's horse.

Kaka Adios, which had a first and second place finish in six previous starts, just failed to beat Speedy Boy in the Class C-1 pace. Speedy Boy moved to the front at the three quarter pole and held off the blazing finish by Dancer and Kaka Adios.

Penney Shenandoah captured the featured race, The Sixty-Two Special Trot as five of the eight horses broke at one time or another. Driven by Arthur Thorne, the five-year old brown mare went the mile in 2:11 and returned $19. Ramire was second, two lengths back and McColby finished third.

POST AND PADDOCK CHATTER: A flash storm about six o'clock held the crowd down. With good weather, Mighty M officials had hoped for almost 7,000 for the opening program ...Leonard Cohen of the New York Post and Jerry Levine of the Journal American divided the double, the only two in the press box who correctly picked the first and second races...Speaking of the press box, Sam Anzalone, the publicity head at Monticello, had everything in good shape. This was the best the press box has looked since the track opened five years ago. Anzalone gives class to what was lacking before—cooperation between the track and the newspaper folks...Last year's opening crowd was a record 6,597 and the mutuel handle was $312,423.

"You might say I'm pretty lucky," the Aiken, S.C. trainer said Thursday night after Ranger Knight got up in the last few strides and beat the favored Lehigh Hanover at Yonkers Raceway.

The victory in the Cane, second jewel in the triple crown of pacing for 3-year-olds, was worth $64,648 to Minniear and co-owner Dr. V. T. Scroggin of Hollywood, Calif.

About five years ago Minniear traded a trotter for the mare Brenda K—and bred her to his stallion Ranger Hanover. The product was Ranger Knight.

Minniear, meantime, had formed a partnership with Dr. Scorggin, and the doctor wanted to buy Brenda K, which would have given him sole ownership of Ranger Knight.

"Then he changed his mind," Minniear recalled, "and said he would only take a half interest. I would have sold him all of her, because she hadn't done anything and that's where the luck comes in."

Driven by Hodgins

Ranger Knight, fifth in the Messenger Stakes, first of pacings' triple, was driven by Clint Hodgins Thursday night because Minniear is sitting out a suspension.

Hodgins got the bay colt up in the final strides to overtake Lehigh Hanover and win the mile and one-sixteenth test by a half length. Ritzy Hanover, the only filly in the field of 13, set the pace most of the way, but faded going into the stretch and finished third.

The winning time over a sloppy track was 2:13 1-5.

Ranger Knight paid $16.50, $5.80 and $4.10. Lehigh Hanover, the favorite from the Lehigh Stable and driven by Stanley Dancer, returned $2.90 and $2.60. Ritzh Hanover, driven by George Phalen, paid $4.70 to show. Thor Hanover, surprise $144 winner of Messenger, finished 10th.

The featured $2,000 trot at Buffalo Raceway ended in a five-horse photo-finish. Handy Bill, driven by Mac Weaver, won by a head over Kintoo Volby. The winner paid $8.90 and was clocked in 2:06 4-5 for the mile.

At Vernon Downs, the feature was a two-division pace for two-year - olds. Each division was worth $1,500.

The first division was won by Trader Lloyd, driven by John Goodnough to a 2:10 4-5 mile. The payoff was $5.

Blitzie Hanover reined by Jimmy Arthur, won the second division, which was for fillies. She paid $3 and was timed in 2:14 1-5. Sarah Z came in second and Meadow Marty was third.

Play at Utica Sunday

Five Kingston Booters Likely All Star Picks

Five members of the Kingston Sport Club, Inc. squad have been nominated for the Central New York State Soccer Association 1962 all-star team, it was learned today.

This stellar group will attempt to preserve Kingston's first place tie with the Albany Athletic Club in a Sunday duel at Utica. The upstaters have won only three times in 19 games but have taken two in a row and pose a serious threat to Kingston's titular ambitions.

Three Weeks Left

Only three weeks remain on the schedule which stretches over two seasons. The race has narrowed down to a duel between Kingston and Albany, with a climatic clash scheduled between the two on June 24 at Dietz Stadium in Kingston. The two leaders figure to win their next two games to set the stage for a tremendous showdown with the league championship at stake.

Patterson, Liston Bout Set for Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Sonny Liston heavyweight championship fight in Chicago Sept. 25 predict it will bring in gross revenues of more than $5 million.

The fight will be staged in Comiskey Park which has 46,500 permanent seats, plus 10,500 temporary seats that can be added.

Tickets will range from $100 down to $10, all on a reserved basis, but the biggest slice—an estimated $4 million—will come from closed circuit television shown in theaters across the country with Chicago blacked out.

The estimate on gross revenue —the money received before expenses—was made by Al Bolan, vice president of Championship Sports Inc., the promotion syndicate handling the fight.

Champion Patterson will receive 45 per cent of the live gate and 55 per cent of the ancilliary rights including radio and television charges. Liston will receive 12½ per cent of the live gate and ancilliary rights with a $200,000 guarantee. Championship Sports will receive the remainder.

The two fighters will come to Chicago in two or three weeks for formal contract signing.

Major details of the bout were settled Thursday and approved quickly by the Illinois Athletic Commission.

Chicago was selected for the bout after the New York State Athletic Commission refused to grant Liston a license to fight in New York because he had some brushes with the law.

Onteora Speedway Has 100-Lap Event Sunday

Several of the top drivers in the East are expected to compete at Onteora Speedway Sunday as the track presents its second 50 mile race, with a prize of $1,000 guaranteed to the winning driver.

Bille Wimble, the state Nascar champion, was the winner of the first race last month and he's expected to return again. Frank Schneider's, a second place finisher, will try to reverse the tables on Wimble this time around. Pete Corey, who beat Wimble at Fonda a couple of weeks ago, may also make an appearance at the Olive Bridge track.

D. D. "Rebel" Harris, the high point man at the Speedway during 1961, will make his initial start of the season on Sunday. He will be joined by the popular Stretch VanSteenburgh, who vows to beat the Onteora jinx.

The first heat is slated to begin at 2:30 p. m. and the 100-lap feature will probably get underway about 4 p. m.

Brewer Pacing Golf Tourney

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Deadly accurate Gay Brewer Jr., led a tight knot of front runners today as a trimmed field moved into the second round of the $40,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament.

Brewer went ahead Thursday on a smooth 32-32—64 over the 6,501-yard, 34-36—70 Colonial Country Club course. He did it with six birdies, including the shot of the day, an 80-foot chip that found the cup for a birdie.

Tourney favorite Arnold Palmer labored well behind with a 35-36—71, hindered by a wayward putter he had to use 36 times in the round. He three-putted two greens and needed four on another.

YOU CAN'T DRIVE and watch the skier. In some states an observer is required in the boat by law for safety.

20–Skiing

BY TED JONES
Marine Designer

Check your equipment for smooth, safe operation. Watch for worn or entangled towlines. Attach towline to a towing pylon or to a bridle secured to eyebolts high on the transom on both sides of the motor.

Know the skier's hand signals: moving hand in lifting motion, palm upward, indicates faster; downward slower. Use the OK signal — thumb and forefinger forming a circle — to indicate when the speed is right. Indicate turns with a curved outward motion of the proper hand. Hand up, palm outward means stop. Slashing motion across neck means cut the ignition.

Have an observer with you in the boat. In some states this is required by law. You can't drive and watch the skier.

When the skier is preparing for a takeoff, he will call "In gear." Proceed very slowly, taking up the slack in the tow rope. When he calls "Hit it!", accelerate, steadily but not too fast, until the skier is up and planing. From a dock start, begin accelerating while there are still 10 feet of slack in the two rope.

Gary Kroll Stars For Williamsport

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gary Kroll has put the front-running Williamsport Grays back on the right track in the Eastern League with probably his best pitching performance of the year.

The 6-6 right-hander gave up only four hits and struck out 15 batters Thursday night in a 4-2 victory over Elmira which had taken a doubleheader from the Grays on Memorial Day.

Coupled with Charleston's 4-3 loss to Binghamton in 11 innings, the victory allowed the Grays to regain the game they had lost on emorial Day. They now lead by 4½.

Kroll (4-1) was backed by a solo homer by Dick Edwards in the fifth and three more runs in the sixth on four hits, including a double by Bobby Sanders and a triple by John Shockley.

Jim Hart paced Springfield with two home runs and two singles in five trips to the plate. Bill Hands (4-1) was the winner.

Kindergarten Registration Set on June 2

Kindergarten registration for next September in the Onteora Central Schools District will be held on Saturday, June 2, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon at three locations, Ronald P. Vanni, Director of Elementary Education, has announced.

The four registration centers are: Reginald R. Bennett elementary school, Boiceville; West Hurley elementary school, West Hurley; and Woodstock elementary school, Woodstock.

Letters will be mailed during the week of May 28, informing parents of the registration location for their child. In each case, the child will be registered at the building he will attend in September. Newcomers to the area may call the Bennett School, Boiceville, to determine the building at which their child should be registered.

In order to be eligible for kindergarten in September 1962, a child must be five years old on or before January 1, 1963. Proof of the child's birth date in the form of a birth or baptismal certificate and records of vaccination and immunization should be presented when the child is registered.

The 1962-63 editions of Onteora's kindergarten and Health Department's booklets will be distributed on registration day. The booklets, revised yearly by staff members, contain information of interest to parents and will serve as a handy reference throughout the year. A physical examination form for the family doctor to report his examination of the child will also be distributed. The teacher, school nurse and principal will be available to answer questions, and the children will have the opportunity to tour the building, visit their classroom and meet their teacher and future classmates.

Those who cannot attend the registration on June 2nd, may register their child during the week of June 4-8 between the hours of 9 a. m.-3 p. m. at the local elementary school.

Taxpayers List Views on School Building Issue

The following is a statement issued by the Saugerties Taxpayers Association relative to the school bond issue being resubmitted to the voters June 21.

"The iron hand that waved the school bond resolution May 9 is now poised to cram it down the throats of the people June 21. The Board of Education must bear the full responsibility for this imposition on the voting public. Obviously they do not respect the desires nor follow the direction of the people whom they are supposed to represent. The servants of the people are now the masters. In a country where the majority vote rules they are trying to show, by example, how a militant minority can nullify the votes of the majority and make them trudge back to the polls, wait in line and vote again on the same proposition. Then, if the vote is unfavorable, drag them back again and again until the majority submits.

"Those in favor of the May 9 proposal consisted of numerous organizations and individuals. They put on an intensive campaign up to the minute that the polls closed. By radio, newspaper and personal contact they presented their plan to the public. Still they were unable to convince a majority of the voters.

"Representatives of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association opposed the proposal and offered an alternative plan which consisted of 20 acres for free and a different architect, who would be instructed to draw plans to keep the cost at a minimum. Since the voters turned down the proposal it indicated that the plan of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association should be given a chance to be presented to the public. This plan was presented to the School Board at its regular meeting on May 14 and rejected without consideration.

"The Committee on Education of the Saugerties Taxpayers Association was invited to meet with the School Board and the Citizens Advisory Committee Wednesday, May 23 to talk about the May 9 vote and the reasons for the rejection of the bond proposal by the public. While the meeting was in progress, the school board retired to a private session and then voted to resubmit the proposition. Since the required legal notices were ready for delivery to the newspapers for the next day's publication they must have known before the meeting that they were going to re-submit the plan and that the purpose of the meeting was to make it appear to the public that the Taxpayers proposal was being given consideration.

"Though it is short, there is still time. Time to fight. Time to beat the ruthless disregard of the right to rule by the majority. If our posters are torn down, we will replace them. If they try to overwhelm us with glib figures and statistics, we shall ask for practical information and down-to-earth facts. If they say that they know best how and where to build schools, we shall say that the people are the best judge of that.

"We are asking those that voted against the last bond issue to hold fast. To go out on June 21 and vote again and take their friends with them. We urge them not to let a militant minority wear them down. We are asking those who voted 'yes' to vote for fair play and change their votes to 'no.' This will enable them to have the alternate plan, which will be practical and cost less, to be submitted for approval. It will cost nothing to vote 'no' but it will cost over a million to vote 'yes'."

Awards Given At Ascension Day Services

At the Ascension Day Services, Thursday, May 31, the sound film "Hunger" produced by the National Lutheran Council in conjunction with National Council of Churches was presented. The film shows the work of relief and rehabilitation being conducted by Protestant Churches in many lands.

At the services awards were presented to members of the confirmation classes for excellence in writing essays on The Life of Martin Luther and for attendance. It was announced that this year five of the 13 essays on the life of Luther were worthy of praise and that three were so near equal in excellence that it was difficult to decide. So three awards of $2.50 each were given three pupils. Carolyn Louise Genthner of 82 Elm Street, was awarded first place and read her essay to the assembled congregation at the Ascension Night Service. Susan Dorothy Gaglianello, second place and Judy Whitaker, third place were awarded $2.50 each.

Two pupils were given honorable mention for their essays on the Life of Martin Luther. They were Alana May Myer of Washington Street and Charles Hudson of Esopus Creek Road. They were awarded Luther Seal emblems.

Those receiving awards for the best attendance records were Charles Hudson and Carolyn Genthner, praying hands pin; Louise Spring and Kathleen Hally, Luther Medal.

A reception for the 30 pupils of both classes was held by a committee of the Lutheran Church Women.

Jayncees Elect New Officials

Other new officers include Mrs. George Leombruno, first vice president; Mrs. Andrew Chesnick, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Poleschner, recording secretary and Mrs. Gail Abbott, treasurer.

Advisory Group Outlines Points For Bond Issue

The Citizens Advisory Committee has outlined the following reasons for a favorable vote on the school bond issue.

"The site is right. The Board and the Citizens' Advisory Committee of 25 say so. The architect says so. The soil expert says so. The Health Department says so. Ninety-nine out of a hundred who visit the site say so. It has approximately a 200 foot frontage on Route 32. This is a frontage, not merely a right of way. There are approximately 20 acres in the site. It is attractive, well drained meadow land.

"The Board of Education is being criticized by a small group for not seeking a so-called free site for an elementary building instead of purchasing one.

"Strange as it may seem, the acceptance of a free site would cost the taxpayers of the district extra money. The reason for this is that the following costs have already had to be contracted for: architect's fees; boring costs; survey costs; option costs. On top of the money already expended for the present site there would be additional costs for the free site, architect's fees; boring costs; survey costs.

"Members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee and the Board members visited the free site at West Saugerties that was offered and unanimously expressed the opinion that it is too far out on the rim of the district — too far from population centers — and too far for economy in transporting pupils.

"Also, the acceptance of the free site that has been offered, or of any other free site at this time, would delay the beginning of construction by as much as a year and thereby place additional pupils on part time and increase the number of teachers on part time whom the district is compelled by law to pay on full time.

"The cost is reasonable. Very few communities get as many rooms for their dollars as Saugerties shall get under this plan. The present average cost in New York State per square foot for school buildings is $18.84. The cost here is $16.90 for the Katsbaan building; $16.65 for the high school building."

Army-Navy Clash At West Point

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Navy teams will attempt to continue their recent spring "whammy" over arch-rival Army this Saturday in three contests at Annapolis and two others at West Point.

The traditional service rivals clash in baseball, track and golf on the banks of the Severn and in lacrosse and tennis on the Hudson plain. The Annapolis schedule shows the track meet getting underway at 10 a. m., the golf match at 12:30 p. m. and the baseball game at 2 p. m. At West Point, the netmen swing into action at 10:30 a. m. and the stickmen at 2:30 p. m. (All times are Eastern Daylight).

The Middies have had things pretty much their own way the last four springs. Over the four-year span, Navy has won 16 of the 20 contests. The Cadets have managed to put together only three wins in lacrosse and a single victory in golf. Three of the four Army victories, strangely enough, have come at Annapolis.

A look at the Army-Navy spring weekend for the past 10 years shows the Midshipmen with a 33-17 log. Navy has won 12 straight in tennis and four in a row in baseball and track.

Brewer Pacing Golf Tourney

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Deadly accurate Gay Brewer Jr., led a tight knot of front runners today as a trimmed field moved into the second round of the $40,000 Memphis Open Golf Tournament.

Brewer went ahead Thursday on a smooth 32-32—64 over the 6,501-yard, 34-36—70 Colonial Country Club course. He did it with six birdies, including the shot of the day, an 80-foot chip that found the cup for a birdie.

Tourney favorite Arnold Palmer labored well behind with a 35-36—71, hindered by a wayward putter he had to use 36 times in the round. He three-putted two greens and needed four on another.

YOU CAN'T DRIVE and watch the skier. In some states an observer is required in the boat by law for safety.

BY TED JONES
Marine Designer

Check your equipment for smooth, safe operation. Watch for worn or entangled towlines. Attach towline to a towing pylon or to a bridle secured to eyebolts high on the transom on both sides of the motor.

Know the skier's hand signals: moving hand in lifting motion, palm upward, indicates faster; downward slower. Use the OK signal — thumb and forefinger forming a circle — to indicate when the speed is right. Indicate turns with a curved outward motion of the proper hand. Hand up, palm outward means stop. Slashing motion across neck means cut the ignition.

Have an observer with you in the boat. In some states this is required by law. You can't drive and watch the skier.

When the skier is preparing for a takeoff, he will call "In gear." Proceed very slowly, taking up the slack in the tow rope. When he calls "Hit it!", accelerate, steadily, but not too fast, until the skier is up and planing. From a dock start, begin accelerating while there are still 10 feet of slack in the two rope.

NEXT: Fishing boats.

If they try to overwhelm us with glib figures and statistics, we shall ask for practical information and down-to-earth facts. If they say that they know best how and where to build schools, we shall say that the people are the best judge of that.

"We are asking those that voted against the last bond issue to hold fast. To go out on June 21 and vote again and take their friends with them. We urge them not to let a militant minority wear them down. We are asking those who voted 'yes' to vote for fair play and change their votes to 'no.' This will enable them to have the alternate plan, which will be practical and cost less, to be submitted for approval. It will cost nothing to vote 'no' but it will cost over a million to vote 'yes'."

Scouts Announce Camporee Events

Progress through agriculture in Italy will be the highlight of Troop 36 activities in the World Trails Camporee to be held on the site of the Flatbush Reformed Church, June 2.

Posters on travel, money, stamps, the Flag of Italy and foods of this country will be on display. An Italian made automobile will be shown also.

At the camporee site of Troop 138, Mt. Marion, at the World Trails Jambo the glory of old Greece will be shown with a gateway consisting of pillars. Upon entering, maps and posters emphasizing the religion and customs created under the direction of Scouts, Ormand Leighton, Jr. and John Stafford, will be on display. Monies, stamps and food samples will also be on hand. The troop hopes to have Greek statues available in depicting the greatness of the Athenians long ago. The troop invites its friends to attend the fair commencing at 1 p. m.

Awards Given At Ascension Day Services

At the Ascension Day Services, Thursday, May 31, the sound film "Hunger" produced by the National Lutheran Council in conjunction with National Council of Churches was presented. The film shows the work of relief and rehabilitation being conducted by Protestant Churches in many lands.

At the services awards were presented to members of the confirmation classes for excellence in writing essays on The Life of Martin Luther and for attendance. It was announced that this year five of the 13 essays on the life of Luther were worthy of praise and that three were so near equal in excellence that it was difficult to decide. So three awards of $2.50 each were given three pupils, Carolyn Louise Genthner of 82 Elm Street, was awarded first place and read her essay to the assembled congregation at the Ascension Night Service. Susan Dorothy Gaglianello, second place and Judy Whitaker, third place were awarded $2.50 each.

Two pupils were given honorable mention for their essays on the Life of Martin Luther. They were Alana May Myer of Washington Street and Charles Hudson of Esopus Creek Road. They were awarded Luther Seal emblems.

Those receiving awards for the best attendance records were Charles Hudson and Carolyn Genthner, praying hands pin; Louise Spring and Kathleen Hally, Luther Medal.

A reception for the 30 pupils of both classes was held by a committee of the Lutheran Church Women.

Jayncees Elect New Officials

The Saugerties Jayncees elected Mrs. George Turner president of the organization for the coming year when it met on Tuesday evening.

Other new officers include Mrs. George Leombruno, first vice president; Mrs. Andrew Chesnick, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Poleschner, recording secretary and Mrs. Gail Abbott, treasurer.

Advisory Group Outlines Points For Bond Issue

The Citizens Advisory Committee has outlined the following reasons for a favorable vote on the school bond issue.

"The site is right. The Board and the Citizens' Advisory Committee of 25 say so. The architect says so. The soil expert says so. The Health Department says so. Ninety-nine out of a hundred who visit the site say so. It has approximately a 200 foot frontage on Route 32. This is a frontage, not merely a right of way. There are approximately 20 acres in the site. It is attractive, well drained meadow land.

"The Board of Education is being criticized by a small group for not seeking a so-called free site for an elementary building instead of purchasing one.

"Strange as it may seem, the acceptance of a free site would cost the taxpayers of the district extra money. The reason for this is that the following costs have already had to be contracted for: architect's fees; boring costs; survey costs; option costs. On top of the money already expended for the present site there would be additional costs for the free site, architect's fees; boring costs; survey costs.

"Members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee and the Board members visited the free site at West Saugerties that was offered and unanimously expressed the opinion that it is too far out on the rim of the district — too far from population centers — and too far for economy in transporting pupils.

"Also, the acceptance of the free site that has been offered, or of any other free site at this time, would delay the beginning of construction by as much as a year and thereby place additional pupils on part time and increase the number of teachers on part time whom the district is compelled by law to pay on full time.

"The cost is reasonable. Very few communities get as many rooms for their dollars as Saugerties shall get under this plan. The present average cost in New York State per square foot for school buildings is $18.84. The cost here is $16.90 for the Katsbaan building; $16.-65 for the high school building."

Army-Navy Clash At West Point

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Navy teams will attempt to continue their recent spring "whammy" over arch-rival Army this Saturday in three contests at Annapolis and two others at West Point.

The traditional service rivals clash in baseball, track and golf on the banks of the Severn and in lacrosse and tennis on the Hudson plain. The Annapolis schedule shows the track meet getting underway at 10 a. m., the golf match at 12:30 p. m. and the baseball game at 2 p. m. At West Point, the netmen swing into action at 10:30 a. m. and the stickmen at 2:30 p. m. (All times are Eastern Daylight).

The Middies have had things pretty much their own way the last four springs. Over the four-year span, Navy has won 16 of the 20 contests. The Cadets have managed to put together only three wins in lacrosse and a single victory in golf. Three of the four Army victories, strangely enough, have come at Annapolis.

A look at the Army-Navy spring weekend for the past 10 years shows the Midshipmen with a 33-17 log. Navy has won 12 straight in tennis and four in a row in baseball and track.

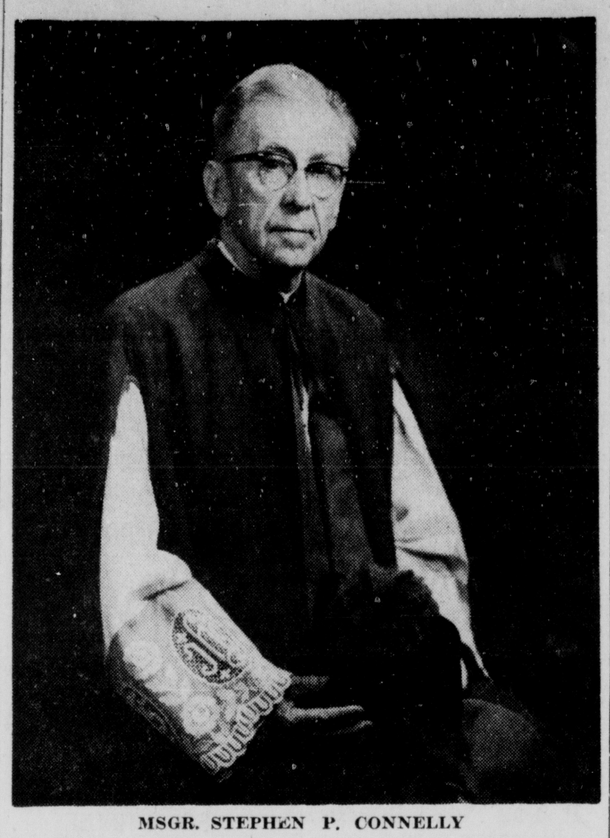
Pastor of St. Joseph's Marks 50th Anniversary



MSGR. STEPHEN P. CONNELLY

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Kingston will celebrate the 50th Anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood today. He will offer a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving Sunday, 12:15 p. m. at St. Joseph's Church.

Msgr. Connelly is the son of the late John and Marie Malloy Connelly of Port Jervis where he was born 75 years ago. After attending elementary school and high school in Port Jervis, Msgr. Connelly entered Xavier College, New York City for two years. In September, 1906 he began his studies for the priesthood at St. Joseph's Seminary, Yonkers from where he was ordained by the late Cardinal Farley in St. Patrick's Cathedral on June 1, 1912.

His first assignment was to St. Mary's Church, Kingston where he remained until 1919. His next parish was St. Patrick's, Newburgh as assistant pastor until 1930, after which he was made pastor of St. Joseph's, Millbrook. It was from this parish that Cardinal Hayes sent Msgr. Connelly to St. Peter's Church, Poughkeepsie as pastor and as dean of both Putnam and Dutchess Counties with the rank of Domestic Prelate. In 1944 Msgr. Connelly, came to Kingston, to his present pastorate of St. Joseph's Church.

The parish of St. Joseph's is giving Msgr. Connelly a parish reception tonight, 8 o'clock in the parish hall. All friends may attend the open house, where a parish spiritual bouquet and other gifts will be presented to the Jubilarian.

At his Mass of thanksgiving on Sunday, Msgr. Connelly will be assisted by two former assistants of his, Msgr. John Simmons and the Rev. Edmund Burke, and also the Rev. Francis Brennan, who is a native of Kingston. Following the Mass, Msgr. Connelly will be feated at a dinner at the Gov. Clinton Hotel, which the clergy of Ulster County and his relatives will attend.

Monday, June 4, St. Joseph's Parish will honor its pastor with a testimonial dinner at the same hotel at which Msgr. Hugo Doyle of Ladycliff College, Highland Falls, and Federal Judge John M. Cashin will be the speakers.

Penn State GOP Head Planning Re-election

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom set his sights on re-election today, assured of the support of U.S. Rep. William W Scranton, the GOP candidate for governor.

Bloom announced his decision Thursday to seek a fourth straight term as head of the GOP State Committee.

Bloom, a 63-year-old attorney from Washington, Pa., and a longtime member of the Republican State Committee, said he was urged to seek re-election by Republican leaders in every section of the state.

A state chairman will be selected June 16 when the GOP State Committee holds its biennial reorganization meeting in Philadelphia. As of now, Bloom is unopposed.

Jurors to Meet On Monday Night

The meeting will be held in the Court House, Wall Street, starting at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested as this will be the final session until September.

Adequate space for the safety of Grand Jurors in session, a fire escape and elevator from the present jury room to the main floor of the building and the proposition of a Public Defender will be among the topics on the agenda.

President Murphy, in commenting on the public defender proposal, said a defendant in a criminal matter is entitled to be represented by counsel at all stages of proceedings. If the defendant cannot afford to hire his own attorney the court would assign counsel from members of the Bar Association. The lawyer so assigned is not paid for his efforts except in the case of first degree murder. In the case of a public defender, Murphy pointed out, the county would pay for his services.

Accord Man Pays $50 Fine, Crash Sets Barn Afire

An Accord man was fined $50 Tuesday after the automobile he was operating allegedly ran a stop sign, struck a parked car and a tree and continued on through a barn door into the barn where a fire was started.

State police of Lake Katrine said that George Feoreshenko, 41, of Cherry Hill Road, operating a 1958 station wagon owned by the Cherry Hill Management Corporation, was going west on Route 213 when it went through a stop sign at the intersection on Routes 213 and 209. His vehicle reportedly crossed the highway, drove up into the private driveway of Raymond Bishop, struck a parked car owned by John Hobford, 83 Brittle Lane, Hicksville, glanced off a tree in the left side of the driveway and continued into the barn.

The Stone Ridge Fire Company, under the direction of the Rev. David Arnold, was quickly at the scene and had the fire under control before any great damage was done according to the state police.

According to the police report Feoreshenko was arrested for reckless driving, arraigned before Justice of the Peace H. Scarpati, Town of Marbletown, pleaded guilty and was fined.

Crusades Very Tiring

Graham Hopeful Of College Post

CHICAGO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, in Chicago for a 19-day crusade for Christ, says he is looking forward to the day when he can return to Christian education work in a small college.

"I don't know when the last crusade will come, but I do know these years of the revival have taken a great physical price," Graham said Thursday. "I don't seem to have the reserve, the strength that I used to have."

Longs for Family

"Beyond this, my heart is centered upon Christian education work, and that's why a small college is so appealing to me."

20,500 Hear Message

Some 20,500 persons attended the second night's meeting of the crusade in McCormick Place. Approximately 200 persons made "decisions for Christ," bringing the two-day total of decision makers to about 650.

Graham told the revival rally that man cannot achieve the salvation of the world by the solitary means of his intellect. He said the United Nations cannot, alone, save the world and added that President Kennedy's efforts to have this nation led by the top minds available are not sufficient to prevail against sin.

"Man's intellect has been affected by sin," he said. "Man cannot come to Christ intellectually, alone.

"No doctor of philosophy, no matter how educated he is, can understand the Bible on intellect alone. Sin has weakened man. It has broken down his resistance and he must return to God to acquire the faith which will make the knowledge in here (the Bible) comprehensible."

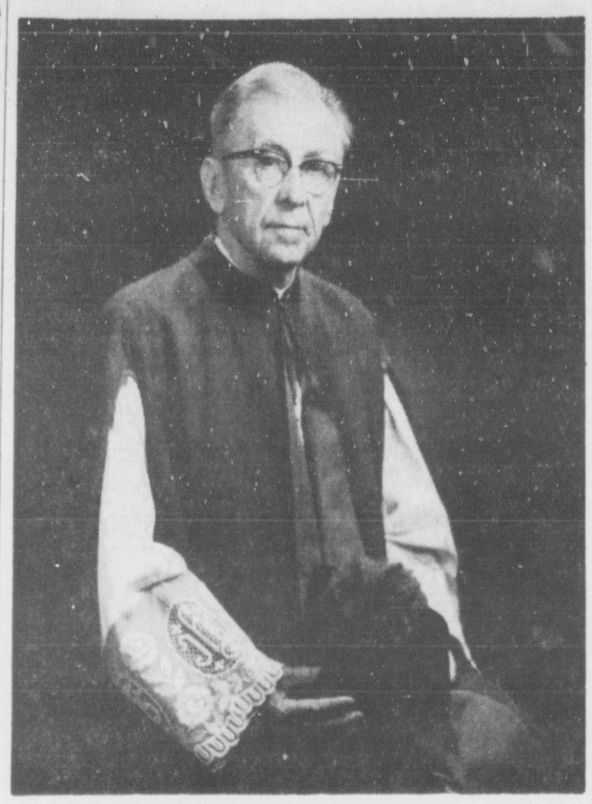
Pastor of St. Joseph's Marks 50th Anniversary



MSGR. STEPHEN P. CONNELLY

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Kingston will celebrate the 50th Anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood today. He will offer a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving Sunday, 12:15 p. m. at St. Joseph's Church.

Msgr. Connelly is the son of the late John and Marie Malloy Connelly of Port Jervis where he was born 75 years ago. After attending elementary school and high school in Port Jervis, Msgr. Connelly entered Xavier College, New York City for two years. In September, 1906 he began his studies for the priesthood at St. Joseph's Seminary, Yonkers from where he was ordained by the late Cardinal Farley in St. Patrick's Cathedral on June 1, 1912.

His first assignment was to St. Mary's Church, Kingston where he remained until 1919. His next parish was St. Patrick's, Newburgh as assistant pastor until 1930, after which he was made pastor of St. Joseph's, Millbrook. It was from this parish that Cardinal Hayes sent Msgr. Connelly to St. Peter's Church, Poughkeepsie as pastor and as dean of both Putnam and Dutchess Counties with the rank of Domestic Prelate. In 1944 Msgr. Connelly, came to Kingston, to his present pastorate of St. Joseph's Church.

The parish of St. Joseph's is giving Msgr. Connelly a parish reception tonight, 8 o'clock in the parish hall. All friends may attend the open house, where a parish spiritual bouquet and other gifts will be presented to the Jubilarian.

At his Mass of thanksgiving on Sunday, Msgr. Connelly will be assisted by two former assistants of his, Msgr. John Simmons and the Rev. Edmund Burke, and also the Rev. Francis Brennan, who is a native of Kingston. Following the Mass, Msgr. Connelly will be feated at a dinner at the Gov. Clinton Hotel, which the clergy of Ulster County and his relatives will attend.

Monday, June 4, St. Joseph's Parish will honor its pastor with a testimonial dinner at the same hotel at which Msgr. Hugo Doyle of Ladycliff College, Highland Falls, and Federal Judge John M. Cashin will be the speakers.

Penn State GOP Head Planning Re-election

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom set his sights on re-election today, assured of the support of U.S. Rep. William W Scranton, the GOP candidate for governor.

Bloom announced his decision Thursday to seek a fourth straight term as head of the GOP State Committee.

Bloom, a 63-year-old attorney from Washington, Pa., and a longtime member of the Republican State Committee, said he was urged to seek re-election by Republican leaders in every section of the state.

A state chairman will be selected June 16 when the GOP State Committee holds its biennial reorganization meeting in Philadelphia. As of now, Bloom is unopposed.

Jurors to Meet On Monday Night

The meeting will be held in the Court House, Wall Street, starting at 8 o'clock. A full attendance of members is requested as this will be the final session until September.

Adequate space for the safety of Grand Jurors in session, a fire escape and elevator from the present jury room to the main floor of the building and the proposition of a Public Defender will be among the topics on the agenda.

President Murphy, in commenting on the public defender proposal, said a defendant in a criminal matter is entitled to be represented by counsel at all stages of proceedings. If the defendant cannot afford to hire his own attorney the court would assign counsel from members of the Bar Association. The lawyer so assigned is not paid for his efforts except in the case of first degree murder. In the case of a public defender, Murphy pointed out, the county would pay for his services.

Accord Man Pays $50 Fine, Crash Sets Barn Afire

An Accord man was fined $50 Tuesday after the automobile he was operating allegedly ran a stop sign, struck a parked car and a tree and continued on through a barn door into the barn where a fire was started.

State police of Lake Katrine said that George Feoreshenko, 41, of Cherry Hill Road, operating a 1958 station wagon owned by the Cherry Hill Management Corporation, was going west on Route 213 when it went through a stop sign at the intersection on Routes 213 and 209. His vehicle reportedly crossed the highway, drove up into the private driveway of Raymond Bishop, struck a parked car owned by John Hobford, 83 Brittle Lane, Hicksville, glanced off a tree in the left side of the driveway and continued into the barn.

The Stone Ridge Fire Company, under the direction of the Rev. David Arnold, was quickly at the scene and had the fire under control before any great damage was done according to the state police.

According to the police report Feoreshenko was arrested for reckless driving, arraigned before Justice of the Peace H. Scarpati, Town of Marbletown, pleaded guilty and was fined.

Crusades Very Tiring

Graham Hopeful Of College Post

CHICAGO (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, in Chicago for a 19-day crusade for Christ, says he is looking forward to the day when he can return to Christian education work in a small college.

"I don't know when the last crusade will come, but I do know these years of the revival have taken a great physical price," Graham said Thursday. "I don't seem to have the reserve, the strength that I used to have."

Longs for Family

The North Carolina evangelist, 43, added "I'm tired of traveling and I'd like to be home with my family.

"Beyond this, my heart is centered upon Christian education work, and that's why a small college is so appealing to me."

20,500 Hear Message

Some 20,500 persons attended the second night's meeting of the crusade in McCormick Place. Approximately 200 persons made "decisions for Christ," bringing the two-day total of decision makers to about 650.

Graham told the revival rally that man cannot achieve the salvation of the world by the solitary means of his intellect. He said the United Nations cannot, alone, save the world and added that President Kennedy's efforts to have this nation led by the top minds available are not sufficient to prevail against sin.

"Man's intellect has been affected by sin," he said. "Man cannot come to Christ intellectually, alone.

"No doctor of philosophy, no matter how educated he is, can understand the Bible on intellect alone. Sin has weakened man. It has broken down his resistance and he must return to God to acquire the faith which will make the knowledge in here (the Bible) comprehensible."
